

An Up-to-Date Hunter.

Kyle McHoney, he of the sunny disposition and a smile that is all good nature, has started to move into his new quarters next door to the First State Bank on First street. Kyle is a watchmaker and jeweler. He is one of the bright young progressive business representatives of the equally bright young and progressive Las Vegas. He gives the best of service and the best of goods. He is a success as a business man and as a mechanic. His stock is up to date, ample for all in Lincoln county.

One of the Electoral College.

H. P. Myton, one of Salt Lake's foremost citizens, is at Vegas. Mr. Myton is a prominent Republican politician. At the last general election he had the distinction of being elected an elector on the Teddy Roosevelt ticket. Of course he was elected and prides himself over the fact that he is one of the few men of the country who had the honor and pleasure of casting a vote direct for Teddy. He is a very pleasant and bright gentleman.

Sympathize With Telford.

Some one has stolen Jack Telford's woodcock. Telford is in mourning accordingly. It affects him so wofully that his future healthfulness exacts from him a trip to Catalina Island to find resources in order to overcome the ravages of the great affliction.

The genial Charley Davis of the Nevada Hotel cannot be beat as a mixologist. He is accommodating and ever has that good natured smile, operating as an illuminant and so catchy and enticing.

Jake Rhodes, the prominent contractor, architect and builder, is at Los Angeles. Jake felt that he needed recreation and knew of no location better than the close approach to the sea shore.

Frank Phillips, the bustling realty man, has been at Nippeno for the past week. Boys, there's something a doing down that way. Frank Phillips is like the horse, he sniffs the battle from afar.

P. H. Lemmert, who superseded the affable Geo. F. Polenz as cashier of the Las Vegas Bank and Trust Company, has returned to Los Angeles after closing the affairs of the bank in Vegas. Mr. Lemmert while here made many friends and leaves with best wishes of same.

John Murphy, one of the notable examples of the splendid young fellows of Vegas, was on a business trip to Caliente this week. He is largely interested in some very promising mining propositions near Caliente. The property has all the appearance of making Johnny a millionaire.

J. H. Sloan, a prominent citizen from Daggert, was a visitor at Vegas during the week. During his stay Mr. Sloan was the guest and companion piece of W. W. Cahill, the pleasant and agreeable spirit who maintains headquarters at the corner of Ogden and Main streets as the chief clerk and purchasing agent of the Tonopah and Tidewater Railroad Company.

H. O. Mattis, auditor of the Clark railroad, is on to New York attending the National Society of Accountants.

Mrs. Phillips, wife of Frank Phillips, has gone to Nippeno. She, in connection with her son, is conducting a boarding house at that place.

The Beaver meat market, has all kind of sausages, Weinerwurst and other meats of that description for the teamster and the prospector and for everybody else who delights in cold lunches on hot day.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Garde, from Merced, California, have located in Las Vegas. This well known California couple have come here to stay and are a splendid addition to the social life of the desert city.

The Phillips realty office is sporting a neat newly-painted front. It glitters and shines and tells everybody that the fellows who "sej" the earth" are strictly in it. They are abreast of it all and their tenor shows it.

A young attorney who has located at Las Vegas is J. E. Hill. Mr. Hill is thoroughly versed in the law and both as an adviser and pleader at the bar is able. Litigants who secure his services will have an able and competent representative at the bar of justice.

Ross Van Loon is an artist on the piano. He has only three fingers, and handicapped as he is with a shortage of indexes, makes the music box talk with a melody that is sublime. In this respect Van Loon is a novelty. He is known as the three-fingered piano player.

Murphy and Prather, the reliable and accommodating saloon men on Clark street, old townsite, are keeping abreast with the times. In their business place they keep the things that make the average man enjoy himself and indulge in exhilarating pleasure. They are good fellows and free.

William McCarthy, better known as "Anheuser Kid," is at Vegas. From Chicago to Frisco and from Nome to El Paso is this winsome fellow known. The "Kid" is a good fellow and for years has been one of the active forces in Montana politics. He is in service at Vegas but contemplates a trip to sunny California in the near future.

Mrs. Williams, a lady of talent, aptitude and brightness, and proficient in book keeping, stenography and typewriting has an office in the Postoffice building and is open for engagement for the class of work implied by her occupation. The writer knows whereof he speaks when he states that he can vouch for her competency and efficiency.

The bright and interesting children of J. W. McKenna, the well known saloon man and restauranter, returned home from Othello College where they were receiving instruction for the past term. They, as well as their parents, were glad to again be united at home. Mr. McKenna has determined that his children shall have a finished education.

Las Vegas is to have a large and commodious dancing pavilion. It is to be located on Ogden avenue, near First street. The managers and owners of the same are I. C. Pierce, J. Green, H. Cram and J. H. Jackson. The gay and festive and the young and everybody else will have an opportunity to indulge the exulting spirit to their heart's full delight.

There were services at the school house on Sunday last, according to announcement. Dr. J. W. Bain delivered an eloquent sermon. In the evening an organization was effected. Geo. F. Goodwin, Carl Swisher and James E. Lane were elected trustees of church property. Mrs. James E. Lane, Mrs. Lane, Carl Swisher and James E. Lane were elected stewards. Subscription papers are being circulated and arrangements being made for building a church.

Hon. F. W. Manuel, the horseshoer, is a man of reputation and honorable achievements. His surname is Frank. He was, during Governor LaFollet's first administration, a Senator at Madison, Wisconsin. While there he acquired fame. From one end of the State to the other he was known as "the man who stopped a railroad." The sequel to this State designation came from the fact that he withstood the onslaught of an overawing, grasping corporation in its attempt to rob a people of their best interests.

At the railroad fire Wm. E. Tibbets, of the firm of Myers & Tibbets, showed himself of the metal out of which good fire fighters are made. With full saving and full grand action he made himself of use. Neither oil nor heat effected the dauntlessness of the brave efforts of Tibbets. In the melee he became a bedraggled and oil soaked looking object. His friends finally took compassion on him and at the word "no more danger" led him into a bath and saw to it that he received a cleansing and refreshing wash. He is himself again and the members of the volunteer fire department, one and all, say that Tibbets is eligible to become one of 'em.
