WILL BE OF BEST.

Contractors are pushing with vim and energy the grading of the principal street. It will not be long when there will be a city of all modern improvements; electric light, water and serviceable utilities that will place this desert city side by side with the most advanced of them. This will be remarkably in view of the fact that two months ago there was not a single street for either business or private on all the plan. Let the work continue and all will be as it should be.

LEAST EVENT.

England's Yore Sets the Example Shows How.
The old England have been emulating the spirit of the land, Harry R. Beale, invited his friends to partake of a party last Saturday evening.
The tables were loaded to the brim with merry makers and good cheer. The eight miles to Spring and under the roof of the blaze of an immense guests indulged in all sorts of their fill and had a good night of glee for the host etc. It was a good time finish. All was in harmony weather, and those summers so charming when the arrangements, as this arrangement was through the genial Beale. With the moon silencing the mosquitoes and herbage; with the gaiety of toots, the whirr of the wheels, the sound of happy voices, the night with the assistance of Luna, was one visible merry time. It was the enlivening of dull season and a hilarious occasion amidst heat and somnolence. It was revealing where usually semi-tropical indolence occupies the stage—all on the desert too and how romantic this episode and romantic it was.

Those in the swirl to enjoy it all were Mr. Dotkin, Mrs. McGannon, Mr. Besty Miss Christ Beale, (Sunshine), Mr. and Mrs. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Frye, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey, Mr. Reed, Mr. Brock, Mr. and Mrs.
Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Will Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Tuckfield, Mr. and Mrs. Beale, Mr. Fredell, Mr. Doherty, Mr. and Mrs.
MacBratney, Senator Frudenthal, Miss McKenna, and Mrs. Crowell.

Time of leaving, 7:30 o'clock, p. m.
Time of getting home, 6:30 o'clock, a. m.
Just eleven hours of flow pleasure and moonlit gaiety. No wonder, the enthusiasm was so forceful that Mess.
Brock and Tuck pursued the game an additional twenty-four hours, not returning until Monday.

UP TO DATE STORE.

Fleming is imbued with the True Progressive Spirit.

One of the most attractive and up-to-date stores in Vegas valley, is the Fleming Pharmacy. The store is on Main street, block two, and bears the distinction of being the first brick building in all Vegas.

The room occupied is twenty-five feet by sixty feet with a fine plate glass front, so neatly embellished as to catch the eye of the pedestrian and plainly convey to him that the best in the line can be had on the inside.

The proprietors are sparing no expenditure to make it the most attractive place of its kind in the state. The fixtures are a Flemish oak and so creditable and admirable as to extort commendation from the lovers of good and tasty things. The eye also is attracted to the long line of silent salesmen cases of oak plate tops down each side, these are filled with those necessities and healing substances that all desire and want and what is more they are of the best.

The proprietor, F. D. Fleming, is a Los Angeles product and fully imbued with the spirit that makes the pushing and progressive successful business-factor in any community. He not only ventures but puts the vim into the venture that extorts success. Go see him. He is a likable fellow and so true blue to fair and square dealing that you will find it to your advantage to patronize his well selected stock at reasonable prices.

A Moonlight Social.

Mr. Robinson, the missionary who has charge of the Presbyterian church in Vegas adopted a somewhat unique method of getting up a sort of esprit de corps among the people with whom he labors. In places where all are strangers to each other, generally speaking, something must be done to get people to know each other. The meeting held in the Dance Pavilion, on Sunday evening was for a similar purpose and for the very short notice made of it, was a big success. The singing was enjoyed by everyone. The preacher sang some solos in which he asked to join in the chorus and they did with a will.

On Monday night just as the full moon was coming into view, quite a large company of friends were seated on the pretty grass plot near the school house. It was an acquaintanceship social.
The young people played games; they told and guessed riddles and strolled.
The older ones reclined on the grass, conversed and enjoyed the glorious night. A few had provided delicious ice cream and cake, of which all freely partook and heartily enjoyed. It was voted a success and next day Mr.
Robinson was questioned on all sides as to why more general notice was not given so more could be present. We hope the reverend will succeed in his labors and assure he will.

In Their New Store.

Crowell & Allott, the mercantile firm who were of the first in their line in the Vegas valley and have more than kept pace with the march of success and prosperity that embellishes our present developments, have taken possession of their new store room on Main street, next door to the Fleming Pharmacy.
The store space is one hundred feet by twenty-five feet. It has all the "Bon Marche" appearance. The customer and visitor is confronted as they enter this business emporium not only with its newness, but with the handsomeness of the arrangements, fittings, fixtures and the full supply of all that ministers to the wants of a people. Here one finds the good things in abundance—the shelves are stocked with groceries, cooking utensils, clothing, miner's outfitting or wherever one looks, it is to be reminded that this is a place abounding with the bountiful things we need. There is nothing so successful as success and the Crowell & Allott new home is a forceful reminder of this.

Have Proper Training.

L. F. Myers and A. S. Myers under the firm name of Myers Brothers, succeed Myers & Tibbets, the plumbing and gas fitting firm located on Ogden street, between Main and First streets.
The Myers boys are experienced and up-to-date. They are schooled in the art of plumbing and gas fitting. Their training has been with the best masters of the world and as such they are in the forefront in their business.

A High Grade Railroader.

Hon. T. P. Cullen, the superintendent of the Los Angeles division of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad, was in Vegas on Sunday. Tom is as genial and pleasant as he was in the days as the ruler of the Montana senate.
Railroading is Tom's forte. In the Montana days politics was a diversion, as such he was a power.

SCHOOL BUILDING.

School Trustees Have Ar- ranged for a School House

Trustee Lake, inform the Times that trustees, Mess. A. Russell Crowell, John Tuck and A. R. Lake, have made arrangements for the erection of a school building adequate and adapted to the proper housing of the two hundred and twenty-eight Vegas children during school hours. The trustees are doing a commendable service and are worthy of praise. The education of young America is the one great safeguard for free institutions and those who unselfishly care for these aims are real patriots.

A Notable Observer.

Lee Cullen, big, strong, robust, round and forceful, with a voice so typical that if he would he could not deny it, is among the Vegas observers this week.
Lee is a character. He has had the experience that makes the man, up to all that goes. By occupation he is a railroad man. His specialty is track and construction work. Upon this score he has no superior. His ability was recognized in this respect by the St. Louis exposition management. In that great undertaking he had charge of all the roadways trackage, grading and leveling of the grounds. He is no novice.

The Baseball Sports.

For once the top town nine redeemed themselves. In the last match game between the Rancho team and the uptowners, the boys at the ranch were bested. The game ended in a beautiful spurt and dash of playing in which the brilliant game of the uptowners excelled anything on the diamond in Nevada.
The score was 2 to 1, in favor of the winners.

Perseverance, practice and the nerve that associates with the true sportsman has attained its aim for the winners.
No more bedraggled, will the boys be.
They have shown their metal and a match they will be for any of em.

For Healthful Recreation.

J. E. Hill, the lawyer is taking a trip to the coast. He will take in sea side resorts with main headquarters at Los Angeles. Mr. Hill finds it essential for health and that vigor so compatible with individual well being to take this vacation. It is the hope that a full measure of enjoyment and recuperation may be the lot of this uniformly respected attorney.
