

NOTES AND PERSONALS

Live and let live.
Evidently the Clarks are "not too slow."
Jerome Moffit is on a trip to Provo visiting his family.
Las Vegas has only begun to grow. It is still in its very infancy.
Mrs. M. B. Smith, the proprietress of the Palace hotel, returned from Los Angeles Tuesday.
The many friends of A. Russell Crowell were pleased to meet and greet him during the week.
A. L. Fisher, an oldtime Lincoln country resident, was a guest of Arthur Frye during the week.
Bananas, canteloupes, mountain apples, peaches and grapes at Johnson & Ward's as a Saturday special.
Frank Ish and Harry Ramsey, two prominent Bullfrog mining operators, were at Vegas Saturday enroute to the Johnnie mine.

H. J. Miller will, within a few days, open a book and magazine library through which one can get magazines and books on monthly payments.
The many friends of W. E. McCrary regret to learn of his being bedfast with rheumatism. It is hoped that his situation will not be of the serious order.
Dr. Rucker has his office quarters at the corner of Fremont and First streets. He, in company with Judge Percy, has the best professional location in Las Vegas.

Merchant Cobb of Moapa was on a business trip Sunday and Monday to what has become the metropolis of Nevada. They all make Las Vegas headquarters for their heavy trading.
Judge Percy was compelled, owing to the losing of the office key on Monday, to do the "jimmy" act to gain admittance to his office quarters. A case of an arm of the law burglarizing.

A good motto for the Vegas Citizen: "Go right along." The prospects for the future are such that none need feel gloomy. The powers that will help to make Vegas have more in store for it than railroad buildings.

Col. James Brown, of the Caliente Express and Las Vegas Times, was with us over Sunday. The Colonel is making his habitation mostly these days near the seat of war, Pioche and Caliente. None braver or better than the Colonel.

One day's arrivals at the Palace hotel from every section of the compass are the following: F. C. Matheson, Terumcarl, N. M.; Tom Kilgallon, Burke, Idaho; J. F. Sanders, Cheyenne; F. B. Gunn, Cripple Creek; C. M. Warner and wife, Kansas City; mining men, investors and prospectors.

Johnson & Ward, the pioneer fruit and produce merchants, have a fine assortment of California foothill vegetables, consisting of new sugar peas, string beans, green corn, summer squash, new beets, carrots, turnips, celery, lettuce, onions, radishes and cauliflower. See their display Saturday.

The Vegas merchants are in good spirits these days. The sun of prosperity is casting its brilliant rays ahead for them. Such merchants as the writer has seen during the past two days report that the increase of business during the past four weeks has fully been double the volume of business done during the hot spell.

Dr. Renshaw, the pioneer surgeon and physician of Las Vegas, has moved his supply of drugs and headquarters on First street, occupying the building formerly the headquarters of M. G. Johnston, the all around dry goods merchant. Dr. Renshaw is one of our best known and most respected citizens. He is also county physician.

Jack Hartigan, the popular Bullfrog guardian of the peace, has been in Vegas for the past week attending to the duties his office impose. Jack is deputy sheriff and constable of the famous mining camp. He has been diligently in pursuit of what his duties require. In the performance of his official obligations he has had some vexatious obstacles to meet.

E. T. Wade, a prospector, who has traveled the Nevada mineral belt since April, has returned to Los Angeles. He has some valuable claims, the Marie, Maggie B, and Hidden Treasure, located within 13 miles of Las Vegas. They are crossed with gold bearing leads averaging twelve feet and showing values of $3, $3.50 and $4.50 per ton. These are surface showings.

The Times congratulates its oldtime friend, the genial Frank M. Waite, on his marriage to the splendid Michigan lady. Frank hid himself to Caliente some time ago. The reason for this is plain now. Frank, being a modest and bashful young fellow, felt that he could not withstand the fun his friends would have at his expense, accordingly he hid himself with bride to new fields.

Arthur Frye was on a hunting trip during the past week. His success in securing game is plainly evident by the expression of countenance. He had a long drawn face and sort of disgusted appearance on his return and the boys tell if that he had naught else to say but "all I could do was to shoot holes in the atmosphere." The funny thing about it is he guaranteed his array of friends a supply of quail sufficient to feed a regiment.

The genial Cal R. White is at Boise. He is a witness in a United States case. But with it is having a nice pleasant time. He sends regards to all his friends through the Times, and is emphatic in the statement that he will be back to Vegas, being confident that it has a splendid future. The following is from the Boise Statesmen:

"BACK TO BOISE—C. R. White, a pioneer of this section, and at one time a member of the city council, is in the city from Las Vegas, Nev., on the San Pedro road, where he is now located, to appear as a witness in the case against John Cunningham, accused of setting a forest fire. Las Vegas is described as a delightful little city four months in age, located very fortunately by nature. It is the outfitting point for the Bullfrog mining district."

The Hotel Nevada is always on top with best service and best meals.

HE WAS OFF FOR SALT LAKE

(From the Caliente Express.)
Last Wednesday the Pioche stage arrived in Caliente just after the midday meal with that pioneer stage driver, J. H. McFarland, a hold of the lines. As he drove his prancing steeds down Clover street in front of the Express office County Attorney Sanders and Commissioner Baldwin were sitting there conversing on matters concerning the welfare of the county, and; on looking up, they all perceived George O. Sawyer, one of the deputies in all of the county offices in the court house at the county seat. The county attorney said, "that's Sawyer." "We can never let him get away."

Neither of the officials for the moment knew just what to do, they were up a stump, but Sanders is a man who makes up his mind hastily, sent for Constable Monaghan who went to the Hotel Denton and brought Sawyer before the officials and where Mr. Sanders declared that under no consideration could he permit him to leave the state. In fact it was a very animated discussion that took place between the two and it was thought for a time the two would come to blows.

Sanders asked, "Are you going to leave the state?" Sawyer answered, "No, I am not; I am going to Salt Lake?" "Why," said Sanders, "where is Salt Lake but out of the state? Now look here Sawyer, I want to tell you those books have been tampered with and some one is a defaulter, and you have had something to do with it. We can't let you go. You must give a good and sufficient bond, for I owe that duty to the position of prosecuting officer of this county and I am going to make a complaint and detain you."

"Why didn't you come before the board when they sent for you?" Sawyer replied in a threatening manner, walking towards Sanders, "Because I did not want to," saying further, "Sanders, you are going too far," and at that Sanders said, "Sawyer, don't you strike me," and I tell you that you are not going away." At this Sawyer invited the attorney outside, but Sanders declined, saying that "you have threatened me and I will not go with you. I do not want to see you, Sawyer, only in the presence of these gentlemen." Sawyer replying, "I only want to talk to you, Ben," but Ben said, "Sawyer, I can't take your word for it."

Sawyer said to Ben, "Nesbit, will go on my bond." "Well, wire Jim Nesbit, then, he is as good as any bank, then you can go, but before you go to Salt Lake you must give a good bond, for I tell you that the governor and the state is behind me. I tell you, George Sawyer, you were a deputy for honest practices, not for your dishonest ones, and I want to tell you that Jim Nesbit told me that you embezzled the money." "He did, eh? You will eat that?" replied Sawyer. "I do not know anything, and I do not want to know. You know that a deputy is not guilty for the acts of the principal." Sanders yelled, "Yes, you are criminally guilty." Sawyer countered with, "You are exceeding your authority." "No, I am not. I am the county attorney, and on my authority I will not let you go. Wave your examination and give the bonds like a man, then you can go, but you won't go until then."

Sanders was as good as his word and swore to a complaint before Justice of the Peace Denton and the preliminary examination was commenced at once. The charge was for embezzling $60 of the county's money. There were but two witnesses, James Brown, who was at the meeting of the board on the 8th of the month when the Freudenthal report was filed, and who took a copy of the report. The other witness was Commissioner Baldwin, who swore to Sawyer having been clerk and together with other testimony, Judge Denton said there was probable cause, and for the further reason, to insure his attendance at the next term of the district court as he would be a very material witness before the grand jury in the investigation when it comes up properly before that body. He was bound over in the sum of $500 to the grand jury.

Sawyer could not get the required bond in Caliente and he was in the custody of an officer until the following morning, when Justice Denton received a telegram from James A. Nesbitt of Pioche to release Sawyer as a good and sufficient bond had been filed.

When Judge Denton received the telegram, he released Sawyer from the custody of the officer and he left for the Lake the same evening. He did not remain very long, for within a day or two he returned to Pioche. It is said that he was advised to return, for if he had not, it is claimed that an effort would be made to bring him back, on a charge of falsifying the records of the county.

Some of the officious, those who are in league with the looting of the county, are sore at us, and say, "That we are going it too strong." Now, just let us tell them, whoever they are, had they let the public money alone and only took that what belonged to them, then there would have been no occasion for our saying anything, but as we have found the rottenest nest of debauchery that has ever been our pleasure to unearth, we don't propose to keep still so long as one of the looters roam outside the walls of the penitentiary.

Whoever done the job had better have his tailor take his measure for a convict's garb. He will wear it sure.

FOR SALE.

A lot in best portion of city, fronting new depot, for sale at reasonable price. Call at Times office for good bargain.

WANTED—Miners and muckers at the Potosi mine. Good wages, good board, good lodgings, Apply Mahoney Brothers.

A TRUE INDEX.

The automobiles for the Bullfrog route are loaded nightly to their fullest capacity.

The travel, expressage and freightage Goldfield way is resuming its old proportions.

From present indications the traffic through Vegas for the prospectors' fields will be enormous. The mining centers of known worth have their steady traffic from the Vegas end. Manager Grace of the auto line reports that their end is taxed to the limit to accommodate the travel. It is a good sign.

Mrs. D. C. Huddleston has opened a bakery on First street, opposite Bank Row. Bread, pies and everything in the bakery line always on hand. It is home baking. The patronage of the public solicited.

Hotel Las Vegas dining room, best meals in the city. A Sunday specialty a chicken dinner that takes the lead in Nevada. Mrs. L. C. Mason, proprietress.

A BIG INTERPRISE.

W. E. Ridge, manager of the Wilson Lyons Construction company, has returned from San Francisco. On his trip he arranged all affairs essential to pushing the marketing of the finest building sandstone in the world.

Work will be pushed full force. He ordered three channelers. One of these machines will do the work of 40 men. In addition there will be on the ground a complete equipment of machinery. When all these features have been installed Mr. Ridge will throw the throttle wide open and furnish the Pacific markets with the finest grade of building stone ever put on the market. There will be employment at good wages for at least 75 men.

SNEAK THIEVES ABOUT.

On Saturday evening, while Mrs. Murphy, proprietress of the Lunch Parlors, was at Las Vegas Rancho, some night prowler entered her premises and robbed the till of all the ready cash in sight.

He secured about fifteen dollars in nickels and dimes.

Others of the night prowlers' brigade are abroad.

TIMBER LAND, ACT JUNE 3, 1878. NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

United States Land Office, Carson City, Nevada, September 21, 1905.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, George Kenney, of Las Vegas, county of Lincoln, State of Nevada, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 81, for the purchase of the N. E. of N. E. ¼ of Sec. 14, N. ¼ of N. W. ¼ of Sec. 13, S. W. ¼ of S. W. ¼ of Section No. 12, in Township No. 18 S. Range No. 56 E. M. D. M., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before Register and Receiver at Carson City, Nevada, on Thursday, the 7th day of December, 1905.

He names as witnesses: Arthur Hudson, of Las Vegas, Nevada. Jack Broulett, of Las Vegas, Nevada. William States, of Las Vegas, Nevada. James Murray, of Las Vegas, Nevada.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 7th day of December, 1905.

O. H. GALLUP, Register. Date of first publication Sept. 30, 1905.
