Peruna is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Peruna as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every State in the Union. Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Peruna is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal. Peruna is the best safeguard known.

BRONCO JACK'S PRIZE BEAUTY

Splendid Animal, but a Little Particular as to Who Rode Him.

Should any resident of Riverside drive arise sufficiently early to attend the "milkmen's matinee" he may see a beautiful black horse with finely drawn lines and full red nostrils prancing up and down in front of a cart which was once white.

This particular horse was, not many days ago, the property of a railroad manager we may call Wheels. Mr. Wheels is such a lover of good horses and of horseback riding that it affects his entire existence. During the latter part of the Summer the general manager and other officials went to Dakota to look over the territory ahead of the new Pierre extension. As usual, Mr. Wheels had his eye open for a fancy sample of horseflesh, and Bronco Jack, of Deadwood, saw him coming.

One fine morning in Pierre, while the general manager was taking his morning run on the back of a livery stable horse, he saw something coming down the street that held his attention. It was as handsome and spirited a horse as he had ever seen, and he was ridden by a genuine cowboy, who knew how to ride. An exclamation of delight escaped the general manager as the Westerner and his mount swept past him in as fine a single-footing exhibition as the railroad man had ever seen. Bronco Jack heard the general manager's exclamation, but permitted his horse to go some distance before he gracefully turned him without checking speed, changed his gait, and swung back at full canter to the point where Mr. Wheels was standing.

When the railroad man asked the cowboy what he would take and Bronco Jack said, "A century and a half," Mr. Wheels closed with him for ern beauty permitted him to saddle and mount and then went through his pretty gaits without a slip. After several successful attempts John brought the horse to the stable and informed Mr. Wheels that he had "tamed the brute," which was as gentle as a kitten.

John was soon in the saddle. Somehow or other the galvanic battery got to work again and John found himself describing a parabolic curve through space. When he alighted there was no friendly maple tree around and his collarbone met the curbstone. The curb didn't break.

A family conference was held that evening, and it was decided that it would not be safe to give the black beauty to any one but a real cowboy. Accordingly this advertisement appeared in a morning daily: "Wanted, to see a cowpuncher. Call at room 429, 60 Broadway."

There was a response to the advertisement before the day was over, and after the presentation was made the general manager said:

"You may or may not be a cowpuncher, but if you're not it looks to me like certain death for you to ride that horse I'm giving you."

"Don't want to ride him," was the laconic reply. "He goes into the milk business."—New York Telegraph.

Eating From Habit.
 A prolific cause of chronic indigestion is eating from habit, and simply because it is meal-time and others are eating. To eat when not hungry is to eat without relish, and food taken without relish is worse than wasted. Without relish the salivary glands do not act, the gastric fluids are not freely secreted, and the best of foods will not be digested. Many perfectly harmless dishes are severely condemned for no other reason than that they were eaten perfunctorily and without relish and due insatiation. Hunger makes the plainest foods enjoyable. It causes vigorous secretion and outpouring of all the digestive fluids—the sources of ptyalin, pepsin, trypsin, etc., without a plentiful supply of which no food can be perfectly digested. Wait for an appetite if it takes a week. Fasting is one of the saving graces. It has a spiritual significance only through its great physical and physiological importance. If breakfast is a bore or lunch a matter of indifference, cut

JOYS OF MATERNITY

A WOMAN'S BEST HOPES REALIZED

Mrs. Potts Tells How Women Should Prepare for Motherhood

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to childless and lonely old age. Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to a displacement of the womb or lack of strength in the generative organs.

Mrs. Anna Potts

Frequent backache and distressing pains, accompanied by offensive discharges and generally by irregular and scanty menstruation indicate a displacement or nerve degeneration of the womb and surrounding organs.

The question that troubles women is how can a woman who has some female trouble bear healthy children?

Mrs. Anna Potts, of 510 Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

My Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
 During the early part of my married life I was delicate in health; both my husband and I were very anxious for a child to bless our home, but I had two miscarriages, and could not carry a child to maturity. A neighbor who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it. I did so and soon felt that I was growing stronger, my headaches and backaches left me, I had no more bearing-down pains, and felt like a new woman. Within a year I became the mother of a strong, healthy child, the joy of our home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a splendid remedy, and I wish every woman who wants to become a mother would try it.

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free to expectant or would-be mothers.

Ozone Purifies the Air.
 One of the most interesting new products of chemistry is ozone, or sodium peroxide. It is made in tablets, a pound of which placed in water will give off more than two cubic feet of oxygen gas. A few such tablets and a little water would do much to improve the air for breathing, where work has to be done in confined spaces and under unfavorable atmospheric conditions.

Cable Tolls to Japan.
 It costs $1.76 a word to send a message to Japan; and, with war raging in the far East, the cable tolls for war news are something tremendous. But as the people will have the war news in connection with their morning dish of Pillsbury's Vitas, the cables are kept busy day and night.

feared he would back out. He did not even wait to try the horse, so anxious was he to annex him to his stable.

The Westerner arrived "dead-head" from Pierre in good condition. At the club, at home, in season and out, Mr. Wheels sang the praises of his new possession. As soon as the horse was in the stable a select coterie of prominent citizens went over to the Wheels stable to look him over.

In due time a morning riding party was arranged. When his guests were mounted Mr. Wheels started to swing into the saddle. He missed by about a foot, however, as something had swung before he did, and there stood the new horse facing him, with head down and meek and lowly look in his eyes. For the first time, Mr. Wheels had a foreboding. He made up his mind, however, to make a sure thing of it at the next attempt, and, to his surprise, the black beauty stood perfectly quiet and permitted him to vault into the saddle.

Mr. Wheels cheerfully clucked to his mount and gently tightened the reins. There was nothing doing. The persuasion was repeated. Same result. Just as he began to wonder vaguely what Bronco Jack was doing with that $150 there was a sudden change in the attitude of the Westerner. His muscles became rigid and his legs stuck out like the four posts of a sawhorse, his head went to the ground, and his body bounded abruptly into the air with the force of a battering ram. Totally unprepared for such a deouement, Mr. Wheels shot into the air, and when he came down he found himself in the top of a young maple tree, from which he was disintegrated with some difficulty. When he reached the ground there stood his black beauty not far away with dejected mien and sad eyes gazing into his.

"You miserable brute," shouted the exasperated owner. "I'll teach you who your master is. John, bring me my .44 Colt's. I'm going to win this battle right here."

Instead of doing as he was told, John took the horse away, and the next day led him out to pasture. He had strict orders from Mr. Wheels not to try to ride him, but John disobeyed. Several times the stableman sneaked out to the lot and the West-

 Uncle Erastus, the village plasterer and whitewasher, who had married and buried four wives, was about to acquire a fifth. He went to the house of the Presbyterian minister, a venerable man who had officiated at several of his previous weddings, to make arrangements to be married there the following evening.

"Of course I shall be glad to marry you to your new wife, Uncle Rastus," said the minister. "This will be the

A FEW CUTTING REMARKS

The purpose of a saw is to cut. It should cut easily, cut cleanly, and out with every movement. I prefer an Atkins saw. Its blade is "Silver Steel", recognized the world over as the finest crucible steel ever made in ancient or modern times. It is hard, close-grained and tough. It holds a sharp cutting edge longer than any other saw. Its blade tapers perfectly from thick to thin, from handle to tip. This it makes heavy for itself, runs easily and does not buckle. Its temper is perfect. When bent by a crooked thrust, it springs into shape without kinking.

The Atkins saw cuts—and does it best of any. We make all types and sizes of saws, but only one grade—the best.

Atkins saws, Corn Knives, Perfection Floor Scrapers, etc., are sold by all good hardware dealers. Catalogue on request.
