We learn that wedding bells are soon to ring for one of our prominent citizens. Charles Reeves, an old timer of the thriving mining camp of Pioche, was in town on Sunday.

Miss Hazel Foster has been seriously ill. We are pleased to note that she is improving. Miss Hazel Foster, who has been suffering from neuralgia is now on road to recovery.

Robert Potts, one of our railroad men, has returned from a brief visit to the city of Angels. Engineer Hickey, recently of the 3rd and 4th districts, will run out of the Lake in the future.

Tim O'Horn, formerly in the employ of Senator Clark's road is now in Birmingham, Alabama. The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gentry was blessed last week by the arrival of a daughter.

J. A. Ramsey, the railroad photographer, is again in the city. He is greatly interested in many of the coming mines of this district. Mrs. E. A. Culverwell, of the Caliente House, has been suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

Next spring will witness sweet peas and carnations blooming in the many flower beds about Caliente. Mrs. Engineer Cody was in Caliente Saturday and left the following day to join her husband at the Lake.

Mrs. Empey, who has been under the weather for a few days is regaining her former robust good health. Thos. Alvoid, machinist at Stein, was in the city and so was William McCloud and Jack Iceman, Sunday.

"Dutch" Adelman, formerly with Harry Underhill, is now a "hostler" at the round house on Senator Clark's road. Gus Anderson, of A. M. Anderson Mercantile company, Salt Lake, was in town Saturday and reports business good.

A contract has been let for a building 23x76 feet for a bank, east and adjoining the Caliente Mercantile Co.'s building. Mrs. S. F. Hansen and daughter, Mrs. John Doyle, came in from Panaca and attended the ball Monday evening.

Mrs. Banks, wife of the assistant store-keeper, is expected home from Los Angeles where she has been visiting her folks. Ernest Norris is now the meat-cutter at the Caliente market. He is a popular gentleman and a winner with the ladies.

Billie and Toney have been busy building the new depot at this place. They are wins, and two of the best mechanics in the country.

George White challenges any of the boys in Lincoln county to a game of "Coon-Can." It is a game at cards, and a popular one in Caliente. Lumber is on the premises for the building of a beautiful modern cottage to take the place of the present house of Chenoweth and Yeoman.

Mr. J. Cook of Pioche paid Caliente a business trip during the week, being called here to attend to the surveying of the Sibert mining claims. Frank Agler, the new cashier of the express office, is giving good satisfaction and it has been learned that he is the right man in the right place.

Mrs. John Cody was in the city Thursday, selling her household goods. She left for the city of saints, where she will in future make her home. Frank Richardson, with the Cudahy Packing company, has been doing Caliente, Panaca, Pioche, and De Lamar and he reports business booming.

Former Yardmaster O'Shea of Caliente, but now yardmaster of Black Rock, Utah, was in the city Saturday and Sunday in charge of a wrecking crew. The transfer of the freight depot from away in the extreme end of the yards took place to the new and convenient building in the very center of town Sunday.

The railroad company are fertilizing the lawns in front of their row of cottages with a view to beautifying the appearance of the already magnificent surroundings. There has been several deals in realty during the past week and to show the growing importance of the town, plans are being drawn for the new Caliente bank building.

Deputy Sheriff Monahan made a flying visit to the temporary county seat where he reports there is lots of snow, while the people of Caliente are basking amid flowers and sunshine. The De Lamar Mining company are in daily receipt of machinery for their mines, going to show that the permanency of those properties are unquestionably beyond the magnitude of imagination.

An old tallings dump at Comet, containing at least 5,000 tons, is being hauled by Al Godde to Caliente for shipment to Salt Lake. Four four-horse teams left town for Comet Sunday after the first trip. Our local dentist, Dr. Irvin, left for De Lamar Monday to remain there to do business for a week or so. The doctor is an expert in his line and it will be well for the readers of the Express to profit by his presence.

General Manager Wells and wife of Senator Clark's system, passed through en route to Chicago Friday. Mrs. Wells was slightly ill, but telegraphic advices say she has regained her former good health en route. H. Cooper, the day telegraph agent at this place, has resigned to accept a like position at Salt Lake. E. C. Monroe, of Tintic Junction, has accepted the position made vacant by Mr. Cooper's resignation.

They came to Caliente on their wedding tour, the metropolis which in future will be their home. Charles Culverwell, Jr., brought a fine band of choice beef cattle from the Carson Bros., twelve miles south of Caliente, on the Meadow Valley wash. They were fine cattle, every one of them. Dr. W. P. Murray accompanied him on the trip.

Caliente will be the financial center of this rich mining district as soon as the bank building is completed as it is the commercial center of Lincoln county, now. Charles Culverwell will deliver the rock and Chris Aman has the contract for the mason work. George Reynolds, formerly a printer on the Times at the Vegas, is in the city visiting with the Express. George has visited all of the mining camps of both Utah and Nevada, but he says that Nevada is the place for him. He will be making the next move for the new gold fields of Manhattan.

Dr. E. R. Keen made several visits to adjacent camps during the past week on professional calls. He had an occasion to go up the Clover Valley wash and says that he came pretty near being caught by the trains several times. He says that it would be a good idea for the engineers to blow their whistles, ring the bell or give some notice to warn teams of impending danger at crossings.

WANTED—Miners and muckers at the Potosi mine. Good wages, good board, good lodgings. Apply Mahoney Brothers.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY. A Rail Roder Had a Disagreeable Experience With a Robber. All are not angels or are they Pullman tourists who saunter into Caliente on the rods of a "box car." This has been evidenced during the last week on account of the increase of population. The other evening cash seemingly got short with some of the "Weary Wilkes" and they laid in wait back of Ketes saloon for one of the train hounds who had just received his pay. It was dark, and as Mr. railroad man stepped out from the glaring flare of the lighted room, the tourists laid hold and how that train band did yelp for "help." He made the air tingle with his roar, so that the "Wilkes" let go and there was not a more delighted "breaky" on the line of road after he had broken lose and escaped into the arms of Mr. Ketes. Mr. Kete took up the trail as soon as the alarm was given and tried to apprehend the would-be robbers, but as the night was densely dark so that no one could be recognized, they escaped, though some had reasonable cause to know who tried the game. No arrests were made, and the bunch pulled out the following morning for climes more congenial and more profitable to highway robbers.

ONE DEAD BURRO. The Live Burro Evened Up Things With the Train—Locomotive Ruined.

A prospector in the hills who was grub-staked by Dr. Kean, turned his burros lose on the hill last Saturday evening and came in to town for supplies. He hobbled two and the other two he turned lose. The next morning a party called on him to buy all of his burros and he wanted the number owned by the prospector. The stranger made it an object for the prospector to go out and round up the animals and the first sight that met his vision was one of the desert animals laid out dead along the side of the railroad. While the other was flapping his wings, scared, bruised, cut and disfigured after the encounter, but happy.

The two had strayed onto the track and the locomotive done part of the job. One of the donkeys passed in his checks, while the other took revenge out of the locomotive. The second burro was taken in charge by his owner, but the helper came to the rescue of the disabled locomotive and towed it into the roundhouse for repairs.

The prospector says the hardest kicking burro will recover, but the other was killed deadlier than the proverbial mackerel. No one was maimed or injured on the train, but there is a certainty, beyond the question of a dispute, and that is, the railroad company played the greatest loser in the amount of damages sustained in the collision.

The best butter made is to be had at Johnson & Ward's. Quality their motto.

COMMITTING DEVILMENT. Tearing Corners Down and Making Use of the Other Fellow's Posts.

A difference exists among a great many of the prospectors in the hills, and very serious difficulty is likely to ensue, that is if some of them do not desist in changing corners to locations. Mr. Cook says that he bought 4x4 pieces from the lumber yard and had them manufactured into posts which he used on his ground, but he has found these posts on nearly every location on the mountain, doing service for others.

Mr. Cook says that this is not the only complaint that he has, but that his location notices have also been changed, and in some instances the notices he has posted he has found on other locations entirely different from where they were originally posted. This game has been going on for some time, and Mr. Cook says that it makes him real hot and that it will not be agreeable if he detects anyone at that kind of work.

FLOWER CULTURE. Homes Being Made Beautiful by Pansies and Violets.

The residents of the Company dwelling houses are making extensive preparations for spring planting. Mr. and Mrs. W. DeFord are at present in the lead, their garden having ornamental plants which show a thrifty growth. If everyone in Caliente would do likewise, we would soon have a beautiful, clean little town.

For an appetizing meal, best cup of coffee, lunches that are rich and tasty, always cleanly and all home made bread and pastry, go to the Superior Bakery, Mrs. Huddleston, proprietress, on First street, opposite Bank row.
