

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain extending from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.) "In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures tumors. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me as I do so dread an operation."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.) "I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine."

"Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation."

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; a Woman's Remedy for Women's Ills by the physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more; and I am entirely well. I shall never be without a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Another Case of Tumor Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "About three years ago I had intense pain in my stomach, with cramps and raging headaches. The doctor prescribed for me, but finding that I did not get any better he examined me and, to my surprise, declared I had a tumor."

"I felt sure that it meant my death warrant, and was very despondent. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring, but the tumor kept growing, till the doctor said that nothing but an operation would save me. Fortunately I corresponded with my aunt in one of the New England States, who advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before submitting to an operation, and I at once started taking a regular treatment, finding to my great relief that my general health began to improve, and after three months I noticed that the tumor had reduced in size. I kept on taking the Compound, and in ten months it had entirely disappeared without an operation, and using no medicine but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and words fail to express how grateful I am for the good it has done me."—Miss Luella Adams, Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

TOWN THAT REALLY IS TOUGH.

It's in Wyoming and Whiskey is $10 a Drink.

Persons arriving from Torrington, a settlement on the North Platte river near the Wyoming-Nebraska line, report that it has become the toughest place in Wyoming, says the Pittsburg Chronicle.

A large number of graders is employed in the vicinity of Torrington in the construction of a fifty-mile section of the Pathfinder irrigation project and they make the settlement their headquarters.

"Tinhorn" gamblers, sharpers and thugs have flocked to the town and are reaping a harvest from the laborers. Two saloons are doing a relatively enormous business, one having returned its proprietor—$10,000—clear profit within three months.

In this place, it is said, laborers are drugged, slugged and robbed with little effort at concealment.

Laborers will be made stupid with drink; and then will be charged $10 for a single drink.

One man secured three drinks for $30, and then was kicked out of the place because he had no more money.

Later, in an outburst of philanthropy, the proprietor gave him 35 cents with which to secure a meal.

Some of the ditch constructors are understood to stand in with the saloonkeepers and thugs, and to encourage them in robbing the laborers, because the sooner the men go broke the sooner they will return to work.

Lobster's Bad Character.

The Scotch fishery board in its twenty-third annual report gives the following as the characteristics of the lobster. It is an essentially surly, suspicious and unsociable fish, and regards anything that comes near it as its foe. The main motive of its activity is defense, and in defending itself it manifests a blind and unrelenting vengeance. It procures a hole in which to wait for its prey, and is then to retire after a fight, and it is then unsafe for any animal to approach it.

Its keenness of attack and relentless hold when once it has gripped its antagonist are due to its want of sight. The eye of the lobster is so sensitive that strong light blinds it. Although it possesses keen sight when first hatched, the lobster is practically blind later in life. It sees nothing properly, but simply has the sensation of light and shadow. It tests a shadow with its antennae, and sometimes when a strong shadow is cast on it, the lobster will leap at it on the off-chance that it is a foe.

The fighting tendency makes it difficult to keep lobsters in confinement. When once they have settled down, however, they will live at peace with one another, but it is only an armed neutrality, and if one of the fish ever loses its fighting power it is at once attacked by the others.—American Shipping.

Husband the Master.

Most married women imagine that they are mistresses in their own houses, but that, it appears, unless they actually hold the deed to the property, is a delusion. "It should be distinctly understood," said Judge Swartz of Norristown, Pa., in a recent case, "that the husband is master of his own house. The wife has no right to invite or admit her mother or any one else to the house against her husband's will." The judge was good enough to add that the wife might go to see her mother whenever she wished; provided she did not go so often as to neglect her duty to her husband and her home, but he did not say that a man must see that the kindling wood was chopped and, the water pails full before he indulged in a visit to his father.

He Erred.

Ex-Ambassador Choate was discussing an awkward error that had been committed by a senator.

"The man reminded me," he said, "of a Sunapee farm hand at a Christmas feast."

"The leading farmer at Sunapee gave a grand Christmas dinner to his forty helpers."

"There was roast turkey, roast goose, cranberries, pumpkin and mince pies, hot doughnuts with hot maple sugar, plum pudding—a feast."

"And before a certain tall and strong farm hand a platter containing two ducks was set for carving."

"The farm hand looked at the ducks. Then he took one up on a fork and extended it to the man next to him."

"Here," he said "you take this. One's all I can manage."

Cheek of a Stowaway.

Young Captain Seably of the Mediterranean liner Cretic, was talking about stowaways.

"Most of these fellows," he said, in his deep, resonant voice, "have an excessive quantity of cheek—of brass."

"Once we discovered a stowaway a few days out from New York, and pit him to work in the galley."

"A lady, on an inspection, passed by the stowaway as he sat peeling potatoes."

"How soon do you think we'll reach Naples?" she said to him.

"Well, madam," he replied, "I'm doing all I can to get her in by Tuesday."

Simpson Tunnel Nearly Ready.

Masonry of the Simpson tunnel between Italy and Switzerland and lasting of the line are to be completed terminated Jan. 1, and it is hoped that the opening will take place on April 1, so as to coincide with the opening of the Milan international exhibition.
