Bigger than any other book in the world-that is, bigger in height and ereadth—is a curiously unique atlas n the British museum. - It contains a collection of the finest engraved Jutch maps of the Stuart period, and s bound in red leather, beautifully prnamented with gold designs, and is secured by three massive gilt clasps. This mighty volume measures five eet ten inches high, and is proporionately broad, being pearly square. The dedication page is hand drawn and richly illuminated. It was presented to King Charles II, immediatey before he left Holland on his rescoration to the throne in 1660. The mly known con'emporary reference this volume is given by John Evelyn in his diary, under date 1660. 'November 1 I went with some of my relations to court." says John Evelyn "to show them his majesty's cabinet and closet of varieties. There I saw a vast book of mapps in a volume agere four yards large." The book came into the possession of the nation when King George III. bequeathed his 'Ibrary to the British museum. Here the great book is most tenderly guarded, for it is accounted one of the library's chief treasures

Awful sight From That Dreadful Complaint, Infantile Eczema-Mother Praises Cuticura Remedies.

"Our baby had that dreadful complaint, Infantile Eczema, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we would not have done to have given him relief. We finally procured a full set of the Cuticura Remedies, and in about three or four days he began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time in a year. In about ninety days he was fully recovered. Praise for the Cuticura Remedies has always been our greatest pleasure, and there is nothing too good that we could say in their favor, for they certainly saved our baby's life, for he was the most awful sight that I ever beneld, prior to the treatment of the Cuticura Remedies. Yet in those three minutes he journeyed from New York to Port Said, transferred himself to St. Peters burg, loitered in Paris and London and sailed up the Nile. What is of greater importance in this connection he Journeyed leisurely, almost indo lently; he stopped at various "points of interest" and examined them thor oughly; he met with annoying and amusing experiences on steamships and trains; he talked with acquaint ances whom he encountered in foreign lands, and he told some of them precisely what he thought of themthere was genuine pleasure in that. Cost Him $50.

"When Chief Justice Chase was presiding in one of the country courts of Vermont an appeal case from a justice's court came up before him so small and contemptible in its origin that he ordered it stricken from the docket. The case was where a turkey had trespassed upon the garden of a neighbor and got shot for its depredations. The owner brought suit to recover damages, and, failing before the justice, had appealed the case. Judge Chase was angry, and when he ordered the case from the docket said:

"'The lawyer who consented to appeal this case ought to be thrown from the window of the courtroom. Why didn't he have the case referred to some of the honest neighbors for settlement?

"'Because, your honor, retorted the attorney, getting hot under the collar, 'it was our intention not to let honest

Kind Words of Farm Hand to Brilliant Young Artist.

The late Henry Harland, author of "The Cardinal's Snuffbox" and other graceful stories, was once recounting, at the Authors' club in New York, his experiences as editor of the famous "Yellow Book."

Mr. Harland praised Aubrey Beards-

"Though only a boy of twenty-one or so," he said, "Beardsley was as clever in the editorial as in the contributing capacity. He was, indeed, practically the art editor of the 'Yellow Book.'

"I was fond of him. I once took a three days' walking trip with him. He sketched, of course, on the walk. He made a number of sketches in oil colors. And they were very artistic and shaggy.

"A farm hand watched Beardsley finishing a particularly shaggy sketch one afternoon and said encouragingly:

"'My lad, that won't be a bad picture after it's been sandpapered down a bit."

Steam in Its Infancy.

The first steamer to make a voyage across the western ocean was the Savannah of 350 tons and a length of 100 feet. She sailed from Savannah, May 24, 1819, and arrived at Liverpool June 20. DECAYED STARCH.

A Food Problem.

An Asheville man tells how right food did that which medicines had failed to accomplish

"For more than 15 years," he says, "I was afflicted with stomach trouble and intestinal indigestion, gas forming in stomach and bowels and giving me great distress. These conditions were undoubtedly due to the starchy food I ate, white bread, potatoes, etc., and didn't digest. I grew worse with time, till, 2 years ago, I had an attack which the doctor diagnosed as appendicitis. When the surgeon operated on me, however, it was found that my trouble was ulcer of the pancreas, instead of appendicitis. "Since that time I have had several such attacks, suffering death, almost, The last attack was about 3 months ago, and I endured untold agonies.

"The doctor then said that I would have to eat less starchy stuff, so I began the use of Grape-Nuts food for I knew it to be pre-digested, and have continued same with most gratifying results. It has built me up wonderfully. I gained 10 pounds in the first 8 weeks that I used Grape-Nuts, my general health is better than ever before, my brain is clearer and my nerves stronger.

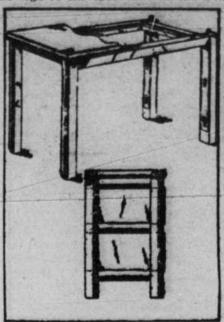

"For breakfast and dinner, each, I take 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with cream, a small slice of dry toast. an egg soft boiled and a cup of Postum; and I make the evening meal on Grape-Nuts and cream alone-this gives me a good night's rest and I am well again." Name given by Post-

HAD THE STUDENT'S LOST CAP.

Young Lady Hastily Departed, After Making Kestitution.

She was apparently from Barnard. Flushed and pretty, her jaunty jacket and voluminous plaited skirt flapping madly in the breeze, she rounded the corner of One Hundred and Twentieth street and Broadway just as a Columbia student issued from the big gate, head down, toward her. In a trice the tiny cap which covered a dozen hairs in the region of his gray matter was swept into space. When he looked up it had disappeared. His eye searched the horizon. Nothing but a maiden's petticoats describing aerial circles met his gaze.

"Say, mister," cried a shrill voice from the corner, "want yer cap? Why don't you ask her to hoist?" indicating the swirling skirts with a comprehensive gesture.

A little shriek, a little shake, and down came the cap from the concealing draperies.

"I beg a thousand pardons." began the youth. But the girl was racing through One Hundred and Twentieth street as though the furies were after her .- New York World.

Ten Hours Necessary for the Growing

Oliver Wendell Holmes said that a child upon awakening in the morning from a healthful sleep in a bad humor needed a spanking. He thought it very beneficial, promoting a good cir-culation of the blood; but he added that a child who was unreasonable and willful after a busy day was simply tired and should be put to bed. Nature is the genuine healer and sleep the true restorer of all our powers. The Disease Yielded Readily to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Other Treatment Failed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure rheumatism because they supply the necessary elements to the vitiated blood and enable nature to cast out the impurities and effect a cure. Mrs. A. Baker, of No. 119 Fitch street, Syracuse, N. Y., will furnish living evidence of the truth of this statement. "There has been rheumatism in my family ever since I can remember," she says. "My grandmother was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism and my mother also had the disease in a mild form. About a year ago I had a hard cold and rheumatism caught me in my left knee. There were sharp pains, confined to the neighbor-hood of the knee and they seemed to go right into the bone. The pain I suffered was intense and I also had dizzy spells.
