

"PE-RU-NA WORKED SIMPLY MARVELOUS."

Suffered Severely With Headaches— Unable to Work.

Miss Lucy V. McGinney, 453 3rd Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"For many months I suffered severely from headaches and pains in the side and back, sometimes being unable to attend to my daily work."

"I am better, now, thanks to Peruna, and am as active as ever and have no more headaches."

"The way Peruna worked in my case was simply marvelous."

We have in our files many grateful letters from women who have suffered with the symptoms named above. Lack of space prevents our giving more than one testimonial here.

It is impossible to even approximate the great amount of suffering which Peruna has relieved, or the number of women who have been restored to health and strength by its faithful use.

LITTLE CHANGE IN BETHLEHEM

Points of Sacred Interest Have Been Well Preserved.

The hills of Bethlehem are full of caves—natural and artificial—and many of them have historic significance. There is the Milk Grotto, in which Joseph and Mary are said to have concealed themselves before their flight into Egypt to escape the evil designs of Herod. The snowy whiteness of the soft chalk out of which it is hewn is ascribed to the spilling of a few drops of the Virgin's milk when she nursed the infant Jesus. Another grotto is pointed out as that in which St. Jerome, for more than thirty years, led the life of a hermit, when bitter factional dissensions had forced him to leave Rome.

On a western hill a rock-strewn plateau, around which stately terebinths stand guard, marks a place where the ancient Hebrews brought their sacrifices unto the Lord. It is a solemn place, well fitted to excite devout thoughts—a place where a man might well keep communion with his Maker. In its broader features Bethlehem is almost unchanged since the days of David.—From "In Bethlehem," by Frank Cramer, in Four-Track News.

Great Men Unhappily Mated.

Lord Bacon enjoyed but little domestic bliss, and "loved not to be with his partner." Dryden "married discord in a noble wife." Addison sold himself to a cross-grained old countess. Shelley's first marriage was unfortunate, but his second was a model of domestic happiness. Moliere was married to a wife who made him most miserable. Rousseau lived a most wretched life with his partner. Steele, Sterne, Churchill, Coleridge, Byron and Charles Dickens have been recorded in history as "indifferent husbands."

Proof of True Love.

A school girl was overheard trying to convince a school fellow that she liked him better than she did some other urchin, of whom he seemed jealous. "Of course, I like you better than I do Bill," she said, "for don't I miss my words in my spelling lesson on purpose, so as to be down at the foot of the class, where you are?"

His Original Idea.

Orrin Case of Winsted, Conn., who is estimated to be worth $100,000, was asked what he intends to do with his money when he comes to die. "Take it with me," he replied, "so if I don't like the place, I can buy my way back."

WOULD NOT PLEASE "FLOSSIE."

That Store Had No Bones Doggie Could Appreciate.

The phone in the office of a downtown establishment devoted to dry goods and various articles of feminine apparel rang sharply and the head bookkeeper responded. The voice he heard was a feminine voice. It was somewhat indignant and it began conversation without preliminaries.

"Those bones you sent up are altogether too large," said the voice. "I told you I wanted small bones. This is my little dog's birthday, and I wanted to give her some nice little bones as a special treat. And here you have sent up some great enormous things only fit for a St. Bernard. My poor Flossie, with her dainty little teeth never could manage them in the world, and she and I are both awfully disappointed."

"I beg your pardon, madam," said the bookkeeper in astonishment, "but I am afraid you have rung up the wrong place. This is not a market, and the only bones we ever send out are the kind that come in corsets."—Providence Journal.

MADE A POOR ADVERTISEMENT.

Thin Man's "Butting In" Disconcerting to Hotelkeeper.

Under the proprietorship of L. S. Drew the old American house at Burlington, was one of the most popular hotels in Vermont and it was the scene of many a humorous episode.

One night after supper Mr. Drew was welcoming a new arrival in the office, when an extremely corpulent guest came out of the dining room. Pointing to the fat man Mr. Drew said: "You see how well we feed our guests. Just look at that man!"

It chanced that a permanent resident of the hotel overheard the remark. This man was extremely thin—just the opposite of the guest referred to by Mr. Drew.

The thin boarder at once spoke up, saying: "Yes, that fat man has been here three days. I have been here thirty years. Look at me!"—Boston Herald.

A Few First Aid Hints.

The following first aid advice was given by Dr. N. B. Gambrill at a recent meeting of railway surgeons:

"Don't put your finger on an open wound; don't put a quid of tobacco on a wound, no matter how small it may be; don't use cobwebs or hornet's nest to stop bleeding; don't dose the patient with whisky, brandy, rum or gin; don't bind or cover a wound with a handkerchief or rag—if you cannot get a first aid packet use clean old muslin that has been dipped in boiling water for a few minutes; don't sit a patient up when he is very pale or weak; don't wash a wound, and don't remove blood clots."

These hints are meant for public instruction for those of the laity who may have occasion to extend first aid in case of accidents.

Tobacco and Nicotine.

Prof. Hirschberg of Johns Hopkins: "Tobacco is not a narcotic; an ordinary cigar, used in the ordinary way, containing the usual amount of pure nicotine, will not kill two flies. The odor, strength and flavor of tobacco depend upon a fixed volatile oil present in the dried leaves, and have nothing to do with nicotine. Pure nicotine has no flavor or odor."

STUDYING WATER POWER.

The French Government Is Anxious to Assist Industrial Development.

The French government is pursuing a course which promises to result in great benefit to the manufacturers of that nation, by surveying the rivers and streams of the country in order to determine their capacity for generating power for the service of factories, reports the New York Tribune. Industrial men in the United States have made many serious mistakes in the past by developing water power for factories, only to find that lack of water at certain periods of the year compelled discouraging and costly shutdowns or the installation of reserve steam power plants. France does not purpose to have her manufacturers make such mistakes as these in the future, and has begun the work of classifying and controlling her streams. In the United States hydraulic enterprises have been limited to great streams and executed mainly by private enterprise. The United States has never attempted a scientific examination of its resources with a view to enabling towns and villages on streams of minor consequence to put to profit the power now lost. This is what France now proposes to do.

In France the rivers susceptible of being controlled with a view to industrial utilization are numerous. But before erecting hydro-electrical works of importance, it is very important to know the variations in the volume of the stream to be utilized at various seasons of the year. The factors to be investigated are the surface and the direction of the watershed, the mode of culture, the extent of the forests, the geological nature of the soil and subsoil, the intensity and the division of the rains or snows received by the watershed and, in mountainous sections, the surface of glaciers which sustain the summer discharge. A great number of useful facts have already been gathered by the department of agriculture, but it is of the highest interest, in order that they may be properly utilized, to determine the best methods of seeking the elements and to co-ordinate the results obtained. This is a new and important task, which has been confided to a committee for scientific studies.

HER CURIOSITY AROUSED.

Thought the Man Who Was "Et Up" Might Have Been a Distant Husband.

It was the mayor of a western city, says the Detroit News, who received the following letter of inquiry from a Boston woman:

"Kind and Respected Sir: I see in a paper that a man named John Sipas was attacked and et up a bare whose cubs he was trying to get when she bare come up and stopt him by eatin' him up in the mountains near your town. What I want to know is, did it kill him or was he only partly et up and is he from this place and all about the bare. I don't know but what he is a distant husband of mine.—My first husband was of that name and I supposed he was killed in the war, but the name of the man the bare et being the same I thought it might be him after all, an' I ought to know if he wasn't killed either in the war or by the bare, for I have been married twice since and there ought to be divorce papers got out by him or me if the bare did not eat him all up. If it is him you will know it by him having six toes on the left foot. He also sings base an' has a spread eagle tattooed on his front chest and an anchor on his right arm, which you will know him by if the bare did not eat up these signs of his being him. If alive don't tell him I am married to Joe White, for he never liked Joe. Mebbe you'd better let on as if I am dead, but find out all you can about him without his knowing anything what it is for. That is if the bare did not eat him all up. If it did I don't see as you can do anything and you needn't take no trouble. My respects to your family and please anser back.

"P. S.: Was the bare killed? Also was he married again, and did he leave any propty with me laying claims to?"

Novel Arctic Station.

Arctic science should be greatly advanced by the permanent station for its study to be established this year on the south coast of Disco island. This novel station, to be established by a gift from Mr. A. Holck, of Copenhagen, and to be aided by an annual grant of $3,000 from the Danish government, will have a well-equipped biological laboratory, with working places for visitors, and will provide a library of arctic literature. The only charge to visiting naturalists will be a small fee for board.

Odd Epitaphs.

At Worcester, England, the slab erected over a departed auctioneer is inscribed with a single word—"Gone." In Sussex the initials and date of the death of the deceased are followed by two words—"He was." The most remarkable inscription is at Cane Hill cemetery, Belfast, where the inscription says: "Left tih called for."

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss F. Orser, of 14 Warrenton Street, Boston, tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I suffered misery for several years with female irregularities. My back ached; I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

I could not sleep and could hardly drag around. I consulted two physicians without relief, and as a last resort, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to my surprise, every ache and pain left me. I gained ten pounds and am in perfect health."

Miss Pearl Ackers, of 327 North Summer Street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I suffered with painful periods, severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen; was very nervous and irritable, and my trouble grew worse every month. My physician failed to help me and I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found it was doing me good. All my pains and aches disappeared, and I no longer fear my monthly periods."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years she has, under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge.
