GREAT RUSH

Rich Strikes Near Las Vegas Cause Activity

Several strikes and good assays have caused a rush to the new fields 20 miles southeast of Las Vegas. This is the section in which is located the claims of Catlin Bros., from which phenomenal assays have been obtained and which are now being investigated by mining men with a view of purchase.

Many have gone out from Las Vegas and several claims showing good values have been located. Development work on some of the claims is now in progress and results are awaited with interest. Undeveloped claims are being sold to those too eager to spend time prospecting.

The new strike has produced more good assays than any other in this vicinity and has aroused unusual enthusiasm in the community. Smith & Hecker, the local assayers, are kept on the jump and are finding astonishingly good values.

Quantities of supplies are going out daily to prospectors and those employed in development work.

Messrs. Bishop, Colson and Jefferson have sent out a force of men to do development work on several claims.

H. L. Plunkett and others have located some good prospects and went out Tuesday with supplies for development work.

SALT LAKE REPAIRS

Road Open to Cana, Ten Miles From Caliente

Surgeon H. L. Hewetson came in from the front Thursday and stated that the construction train was then at Boyd, and will move forward to Cana by tonight.

General Manager Wells, with 1000 men, is pushing the work of reconstruction. With good luck, says Dr. Hewetson, the line will be open to Caliente by the end of next week.

Considerable sickness results from constant exposure of the men, but no serious accidents have occurred.

The entire construction force and trains of the L. V. & T. have been sent to the assistance of the Salt Lake and work on the new line is suspended.

LANDSLIDE SOUTH

Thursday's Salt Lake train from Los Angeles was delayed several hours by a landslide on the Santa Fe tracks between Daggett and San Bernardino.

SHOOTING SCRAPE.

G. G. Collins was shot by R. H. Schaffer about one o'clock Friday morning. The shooting took place in front of the Rainbow saloon on First street. There had been a previous altercation between the parties during which Schaffer was struck in the face knocked to the pavement. When Collins essayed to attack him again he drew a gun and fired a shot into the ground. Collins continued to approach and a second shot was fired, entering his abdomen.

Drs. Martin and Rucker are attending Collins. It is believed he will recover.

Schaffer was arrested by Night-watchman Gay and locked up pending his preliminary examination in the Justice Court.

DISTRICT COURT.

The Age has been indirectly notified that the session of the District Court at Pioche has been postponed to May 8th, to accommodate the southern portion of the county which is cut off from the county seat by washouts.

LEAD SHIPMENTS

Manager W. E. Smith states that the Potosi has shipped 31 carloads of zinc lead ore since Jan 8th, when the new owners commenced operations. The average carload is 50 tons. A few 35-ton cars have been shipped.

GOOD PROSPECTS

On the Colorado river, at Catlin's, in Charleston mountain and elsewhere around Las Vegas are many good mineral prospects, which by industry may be developed into mines. The Blowhards who locate, but never develop claims, are a detriment to the country. Men who do development work are wanted.

Those who take up a lot of claims and fail to work them retard the progress of a mining camp. Holders of claims should develop them or sell to those who will.

Some of the journalistic wildcaters of Nevada are jumping on Congressman Van Duzer because he has been dealing in mining stocks that do not pay dividends. Van has plenty of company in his wildcat operations—some being men of high position in Nevada.

ALWAYS THE CHEAPEST

In the Ozark mountains of Arkansas lived one Allen Scipio, a colored gentleman of bear hunting fame. In fact, this reputation dates back several generations. As the old gentleman was getting old, he called his eldest son before him as he sat before the old-fashioned fireplace one October evening and said: "Look ha'ar, Bud, yo' fadder is gittin' old, and as I have the reputation of bein' the best ha'ar hunter in this ha'ar United States for many a year, and yo' gran'fadder and great gran'fadder bore the same happy distinction, I want yo' to take the old rifle and true rifle and go out in the hills early in the mornin' and start on yo' ha'ar huntin' career that will perpetuate the Scipio family's name as the greatest ha'ar killin' family that ever lived. I want yo' to start while I'ze alive, and if yo' meet with the same amount of success that yo' old fadder did when he was a young man, I can done told yo' right ha'ar that my last days on earth will be the happiest." Next morning Bud shouldered the old long-barrel rifle and, with his father's blessing, started on his initial bear hunting trip. His old father seated himself in the old hickory-bottom chair before the fireplace, lighting his pipe and nursing over his early experiences in bear-hunting, and in this way the time passed very rapidly. It was well in the afternoon before the old gentleman was aware of the fact. As his son did not return he began to get uneasy for fear he had met with an accident. Finally he could not stand it no longer, so he took his cane and started in the direction that his son had taken, but had not gone far when he saw his son coming down the mountain at racehorse speed, and a large grizzly bear at his heels. As he came closer he could see that he had lost his hat, but still had the rifle in his right hand. The old man was frantic. Stepping in the path to stop his son's flight and howling at him at the top of his voice, "Stop, nigger, stop! What are yo' goin' to do; disgrace the whole family?" Bud shouted to him, "Clear the gang-way, daddy! I'm doing something you never done in your life. I'm bringing him in alive." Bud had two good reasons to justify his action. First, it's no disgrace to run if you are "skeeered"; second, if he was of a humane disposition and wanted to put bear-hunting on a higher plane in the 20th century he should receive a due amount of credit, and is sure to become a second Booker T. Washington.

LUCKY DUTCHMAN SACKS ORE

Salt Lake Tribune: John W. Royer, general manager of the Lucky Dutchman property in the Crescent district, and will leave for that interesting property today.

He brought into Salt Lake with him some specimens of ore that the Lucky Dutchman is producing at present. The management is going into and is sacking some very fine gold ore, and by the time the railroad company has completed the repairs upon its road, the company will have a large shipment ready for the market. This ore will average well up to $100 per ton.

Some of the Lucky Dutchman ore is free gold ore, and one is willing to credit the large assays obtainable by the management when he beholds the yellow stuff staring him in the face.

PAY NO TAXES

"Political Reformers" Evade Their County Taxes

A search of Lincoln county records reveals the fact that some alleged "political-reform" newspapers of this county have evaded payment of their taxes.

Following is a list of valuations and taxes paid on all county newspapers for 1905:

Valuation	Tax
Las Vegas Age.....$ 700	$20.65
Pioche Record..... 400	16.00
Searchlight..... 285	8.41
Le Lamar Love..... 200	6.20
Las Vegas Advance..... 000	0.00
" " Times..... 000	0.00
Caliente Express..... 000	0.00

In view of the fact that Jim Blowhard has been industriously howling for political justice, The Age hopes he will get it before he succeeds in spiriting his junk shop shop out of the county.

ROAD TO TIMBER

Sawmill May Be Built in Charleston Mountain

J. J. Owens, a wealthy mining man from Tonopah, is here directing the building of a wagon road to the timber lands in Charleston mountain, west of Las Vegas.

The road will come out on Las Vegas and Tonopah railroad, between Indian Springs and Corn Creek, and will be twelve miles in length. A sawmill may be built after the road is completed.

Mr. Owens declines to state at present who are interested in the project, but admits that he represents several capitalists and is himself heavily interested. He left for the mountains Wednesday morning.

NEW ARIZONA CLUB

Saturday night was McIntosh's night. It saw the formal opening of his new Arizona Club, one of the most elegant resorts of its kind to be found anywhere in the great Southwest, and no prouder man than J. O. McIntosh was to be found that night.

The opening was a splendid success. Probably as many as 200 people were in the building at one time and the place was packed with a good-natured throng for several hours. Many prominent citizens were there to participate in the ceremonies and wish the enterprising proprietor continued success.

A picture and description of the resort will appear in The Age illustrated supplement of early date.

A TELEGRAM.

The following telegram, which explains itself, was received too late to be read during the evening:

MARICOPA, Ariz., Apl. 1st.
J. O. McIntosh,

Las Vegas, Nevada.
In the harbor of joy flying the emblem of cheer and good fellowship that "Arizona" is today, latched upon the high seas of Nevada commerce—may she always ride the waves of prosperity.

It's my treat Jim, let no thirsty man escape. You deserve success; good luck.

LADIES' NIGHT

Thursday night of this week was ladies night. Bar business was suspended for two hours and the ladies given an opportunity to view the handsome interior. Many of the fair sex enjoyed their first experience with the various games of chance. Champagne punch was provided by the host and carnations in profusion were distributed among the guests; while Messrs. Up wall rendered a select musical program. It was a novel experience for many of the ladies; and apparently a very enjoyable one.

Mining News Wanted

The Age will thank prospectors, miners and others for legitimate mining news—something about small prospects that are apt to grow. Kindly mention of real news will be made free. The Age will not publish at any price wildcat reports and hot air stories of imaginary mines to flimflam people, as some alleged newspapers do. The resources of the country speak their own praise if told truthfully. Lies redound to our injury.

AGE SUPPLEMENT

Illustrated each week with pictures of leading mines, business houses, scenery and railroads of Southern Nevada—elegant half tone cuts printed on fine book paper, a new feature in Southern Nevada newspaper production.

Does This Mean You?

Have you secured your part of the 5 cent issue of Nevada Home Oil Co. stock?

Do you know that the price of this stock will be advanced in a very short time, perhaps before the next issue of this paper?

Do you know that the Treasury Stock may be withdrawn from the market entirely as soon as the first well is completed, for with the large acreage of selected land the revenue from leases and sales of land will supply funds for further development work and pay dividends.

Do you know that you will get quick action on money invested in this stock?

Then send your remittance at once and get in right.
