Dr. J. W. Bracken returned this week from a trip to Southern Utah. He speaks favorably of the oil indications in that section.

A special train carrying Lillian Russell, the famous actress, and her company passed through Vegas Monday, bound for Los Angeles.

Sam Getchel, formerly of Las Vegas, was brought here from Rhyolite this week seriously ill and almost penniless. J. T. McWilliams raised funds to send him to Los Angeles.

Thanks to the efforts of the combined Clark and Harriman forces, the wild flowers are blooming beautifully in the depot park—the same as they did when nature was unassisted.

Messrs Frank Brandt and P. J. Miller have moved to their summer suburban bungalow under the cottonwood trees, on the banks of the rippling Vegas river. At home hours not yet given out.

Kenneth C. Kerr, the hustling traveling passenger agent of the Salt Lake route, spent a few days in Las Vegas this week. He was an old school-mate of W. E. Hawkins' in north California.

J. F. Howard, cashire for Las Vegas Ice and Manufacturing Co., returned Tuesday from Los Angeles, where he has been assisting for three weeks in the city offices of his company. The reopening of the railroad means resumed activity at the local plant.

H. W. Morris, passenger brakeman out of Las Vegas on the Salt Lake division, had his eyes badly burned a few days ago by the explosion of a fusee which he was setting off. Under the care of Dr. Hewetson he can now use one eye and will probably soon recover sight in the other.

"The Man From Mexico" and other plays announced recently to be given by home talent have been postponed on account of difficulty experienced in securing willing performers.

Surgeon Hewetson is back in Las Vegas after his long absence with the canyon construction crews. His fractured leg has healed so that he is able to hobble about without crutches.

Some Las Vegas people will remember G. Harold Ellis, who a few days ago threatened (the word used advisedly) to start another newspaper here. Those who were interested in him at the time should read the Gold Center News of April 12, of which said Ellis was formerly editor. The Age has no space to waste on such people, but it is worth while mentioning that the paper which he deserted, over the signature of a prominent citizen of Gold Center, designates him as a "blakmailing ingrate."

Church News

The Sunday School will meet at 9 a. m. Preaching at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m., Pacific time.

Rev. Dr. George C. King, of Reno, presiding elder of the Nevada Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, spent Saturday and Sunday with the good people of Las Vegas. He met with the Sunday School in the forenoon and gave us encouraging words. In the evening he preached to a large, attentive and appreciative audience.

At the business meeting of the local church on Sunday evening at the close of the preaching the following persons were elected trustees of church property—E. W. Griffith, W. R. Thomas, John S. Park, Jas. Lane and Dan V. Noland. The Board of Trustees were also instructed to select an additional committee to act with them as a building committee. Building will commence soon on lots 14, 15 and 16 in block 29. The committee will meet this week to determine a definite time.

The following ladies were elected stewards at the meeting Sunday evening—Mrs. I. C. Johnson, Mrs. Roselle, Mrs. Paladeaux, Mrs. Jas. Lane, Mrs. John S. Park and Mrs. Allinger.

Come to church and enjoy the good music. Dr. King said Las Vegas did not have the largest Sunday School in the state, but it was the best.

The child contracted the disease a week ago and grew rapidly worse until death. Jean Hotel Warming

The new hotel at Jean, Nevada, recently erected by Yount and Fayle, was dedicated last Wednesday eve, April 10, by a social dance and entertainment. Besides local people present, Salt Lake and Good Springs were well represented.

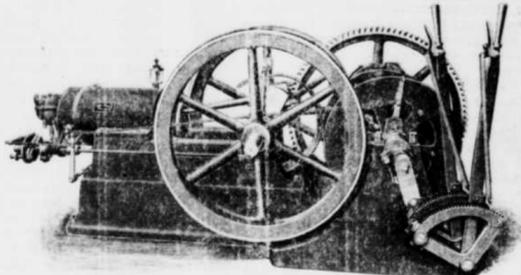

The first part of the evening was given to dancing, graphophone selections and recitations.

A bounteous spread was served in the dining room, after which song and music filled the house until early morn, when all departed wishing host and hostess a prosperous future.

Mr. and Mrs. Yount were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. McLaughlin and Mr. and Mrs. Potter.
