

For Thin, Poor Blood

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

Not even this grand old medicine cannot do the best work if the liver is inactive and the bowels constipated. For the best possible results, you should take laxative doses of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Made by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of Ayer's HAIR VIGOR, AGUE CURE, CHERRY PECTORAL.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

Helped Make Him Good.
 "During our courtship," said Mrs. Weeds, "poor John declared he would die for me and he did."
 "Indeed!" exclaimed the surprised friend.
 "Yes," continued the fair widow. "I did the cooking myself and he died of indigestion."

Nothing Doing.
 It was an imposing building, but the man with the square valise did not hesitate.
 "Madam," he said to the matron who appeared, "I should like to show you a copy of our book, 'The Quiet Life,' which is making such a name."
 "Sir," she interrupted, "this is an institution for the deaf and dumb."—Chicago Tribune.

RULES OF CONDUCT.

Never associate with bad company. Have good company or none.
 Never refer to a gift you have made or a favor you have rendered.
 Never punish a child for a fault to which you are addicted yourself.
 Never look over the shoulder of another who is reading or writing.
 Never appear to notice a scar, deformity or defect of anyone present.
 Never answer questions in general company that have been put to others.
 Never exhibit anger, impatience or excitement when an accident happens.
 Never arrest the attention of an acquaintance by a touch. Speak to him.
 Never call an acquaintance by the Christian name unless requested to do so.
 Never attempt to draw the attention of the company constantly upon yourself.
 Never lend an article you have borrowed, unless you have permission to do so.
 Never, when traveling abroad, be over-boastful in praise of your own country.

Fall of the Mighty.
 "This is the time of year," triumphantly declared the flat dweller, "when the leeman gets just about what's coming to him. He no longer rings an irate bell, ejaculates 'Ice!' in conquering tones, stands on the threshold with the splendid air of a reigning monarch, and deals out a 2 cent piece of ice for 10 cents.
 "On the contrary, softly rings an apologetic bell, and outside stands a meek-faced man imploring patronage; not only imploring patronage, but generously handing out 5 cent pieces of ice for 10 cents."

Omissions of History.
 The good people of Salem had just burned another witch.
 "According to the census," they said, "there are too many women in Massachusetts, anyway."
 In order to make a show of being impartial, however, they looked around for Wizard Burbank, but he had escaped to California.

Misunderstood.
 "Is he a man of force?"
 "No, I believe he is a man of fit meal; anyhow, he's a Scot."—Houston Post.

SOCIAL LEADER OF KANSAS CITY

Attributes Her Excellent Health to Peruna.

MRS. W. H. SIMMONS.

MRS. W. H. SIMMONS, 1119 E. 8th St., Kansas City, Mo., member of the National Annuity Association, writes:
 "My health was excellent until about a year ago, when I had a complete collapse from overdoing socially, not getting the proper rest, and too many late suppers. My stomach was in a dreadful condition, and my nerves all unstrung.
 "I was advised by a friend to try Peruna, and eventually I bought a bottle. I took it and then another, and kept using it for three months.
 "At the end of that time my health was restored, my nerves no longer troubled me, and I felt myself once more able to assume my social position. I certainly feel that Peruna is deserving of praise."
 There are many reasons why society women break down, why their nervous systems fall, why they have systemic or pelvic catarrh. Indeed, they are especially liable to these ailments. No wonder they require the protection of Peruna. It is their shield and safeguard.

May Be Mitigated.
 Fair Caller—Doctor, it's an embarrassing thing to ask, but I want to know if there is any cure for what is known to your profession as kleptomania.
 Physician—I know of no permanent cure, madam, but it can be restrained by constant watchfulness. For example, I saw you carelessly place your hand over my watch as it lay on the table just now and slyly slip it into your muff. Will you kindly replace it? Thank you. There is no charge for my opinion. Good day, madam.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

How a Veteran Was Saved the Amputation of a Limb.

B. Frank Doremus, veteran, of Roosevelt Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., says: "I had been showing symptoms of kidney trouble from the time I was mustered out of the army, but in all my life I never suffered as in 1897. Headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, first, and then dropsy. I was weak and helpless, having run down from 180 to 125 pounds. I was having terrible pain in the kidneys, and the secretions passed almost involuntarily. My left leg swelled until it was 34 inches around, and the doctor tapped it night and morning until I could no longer stand it, and then he advised amputation. I refused, and began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The swelling subsided gradually, the urine became natural, and all my pains and aches disappeared. I have been well now for nine years since using Doan's Kidney Pills.

ORPHEUM THEATER.

Next week at the Orpheum the Bel'long Brothers will make their first appearance. For iron muscles perfectly controlled, for cat-like agility and sheer grit, these acrobats and cyclists can scarcely be surpassed.
 Ferguson and Mack are comedians who in the guise of ballet dancers present an act that for mirthfulness can scarcely be surpassed.
 They present some acrobatic stunts in which arms, legs and language are mixed into an amazing tangle, with hilarious results.
 Dorothy Drew, the winsome comedienne, sings new songs and tells new stories. Her repertoire in both is almost inexhaustible, and she has a record of twelve weeks at one theater giving a different monologue each week. Brockman and the Phillips sisters will offer a singing and dancing turn which is brought to a high artistic level by the magnificent tenor voice of Mr. Brockman. This singer has been compared to Constantino, recently seen here in opera.
 From the present week's bill there will be retained the artistic offering of Edwin Stevens and Co. Charley Case will have another bunch of stories about father. Kelly and Rose, the singing comedians, and The Lamaze Brothers will also be seen again.

Stingy Folks at Church.
 Dr. Munhall recently closed a successful religious campaign in Emporia. A great many pennies had been put in the offering and his attention was called to this. One night he held up a silver dollar and a copper penny and gave a conversation held by the two coins.
 "You poor little red cent, you; you don't amount to anything. I'd hate to be you," said the big dollar.
 "I know I'm not very big," replied the cent, "but the children like me and I can buy a good many things."
 "Huh! you can't buy anything at all," said the dollar. "Just look at me; big and bright and shiny. I can buy a whole lot more than you can."
 "May be so," said the little red cent meekly, "but I go to church a heap oftener than you do anyway."—Kansas City Journal.

Will Do It Then.
 "I travel on your road a good deal," said the caller, "and I'd travel on a good deal oftener if it wasn't for its sharp curves."
 "What's the matter with the curves?" asked the elevated railway magnate.
 "They ought to be provided with a strong railing or something of that kind."
 "What for?"
 "So a train couldn't run off the track when it goes whizzing and grinding around one of them, and fall to the street below."
 "You've never heard of that happening, have you?"
 "No—not yet."
 "Well, when it does happen we'll put something around those curves. Good day."—Chicago Tribune.

Lightning Change.
 "The weather this morning, Miss Dora."
 "O, don't talk about the weather, Mr. Happond! It's such a dreary old chestnut."
 "I was going to say, Miss Dora, that the weather this morning, or any other morning, for that matter, is a mighty poor subject to use in starting a conversation. Glad you agree with me. Have you read Prof. Allbrains' latest brochure on the influence of heredity as affecting the tendency of the human mind toward transcendentalism?"

Trial Marriages.
 Taking a wife for a term is not a wholly novel idea. It was mooted in Lady Mary Wortley Montagu's day, and that lively lady's comment was: "Yes; but if a man takes a woman on lease it ought to be a repairing lease." The jest touched the weak spot in all these suggestions for a temporary union—that they mean unfairness to the women.—British Law Journal.

Mixed.
 When ministers exchange they usually preach old sermons, but, however, they generally look over the MMS, carefully to see if the local points need alteration.
 A Somerville preacher many years ago went to Andover to preach and neglected this simple precaution. In his discourse was an allusion to the insane asylum at Somerville, and forgetting for the moment that he was in Andover, he said:
 "Sooner than a child of mine should be liable to such influences, I would be willing to have him confined in yonder institution."
 And the good man pointed directly at the Andover Theological Seminary.—Boston Herald.

Conditional.
 Her—I'm not sure that I want to marry you, but I'm willing to enter into a conditional engagement.
 Him—What are the conditions?
 Her—if I meet anyone I like better than you, I'll break the engagement.
 Him—And suppose I should meet a girl I like better than you?
 Her—Oh, then I shall sue you for breach of promise.

Spring Medicine

The best is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the best because it does the most good. While it makes the blood pure, fresh and lively, it tones the stomach to better digestion, creates an appetite, stimulates the kidneys and liver, gives new brain, nerve and digestive strength.

An unequalled list of cures—40,366 testimonials in two years—proves its merit.

Sarsatabs—For those who prefer medicine in tablet form, Hood's Sarsaparilla is now put up in effervescent tablets called Sarsatabs, as well as in the usual liquid form. Sarsatabs have identically the same curative properties as the liquid form, besides accuracy of dose, convenience, economy—there being no loss by evaporation, breakage, or leakage. Sold by druggists or sent by mail C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Subtle Difference.
 An earnest defender of things Irish asserts that the traditional bull of Ireland is not, as is commonly supposed, the expression of a blundering intelligence, but, on the contrary, shows the exquisite feeling of the Irish for fine shades of meaning. The trouble lies in the ears that hear it.
 "If ye were to be killed crossing a fence ye'd be all right," said a looker-on to a fox-hunter whose horse had turned head over heels in the middle of a level pasture. "But if ye were killed on the flat of th' field ye'd never hold up your had again!"

Once Was Enough.
 "May I kiss you?" he asked.
 "Yes, on the forehead," she answered.
 "Nothing doing," he rejoined. "The last time I kissed a girl on the forehead I got a bang in the mouth."

The Howling Old Blizzard.
 How dear to my heart is the fierce howling blizzard, Which comes from the north like a wolf on the fold, Predicted by Foster or some other wizard, The charger of snow and the demon of cold; How sweet to be caught in its grasp like a feather, And find yourself wrapped round a telegraph pole; Oh, how we adore, in this wild wintry weather, This blizzard that comes when you're clear out of coal— This wild, whirling blizzard, the razor-edged blizzard, The loud-howling blizzard fresh from the North Pole.—Lincoln Journal.

CATARRH BLOOD DISEASED AND SYSTEM DISORDERED

Catarrh is not merely an inflammation of the tissues of the head and throat, as the symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, mucous dropping back into the throat, continual hawking and spitting, etc., would seem to indicate; it is a blood disease in which the entire circulation and the greater part of the system are involved. Catarrh is due to the presence of an excess of uric acid in the blood. The Liver, Kidneys and Bowels frequently become torpid and dull in their action and instead of carrying off the refuse and waste of the body, leave it to sour and form uric acid in the system. This is taken up by the blood and through its circulation distributed to all parts of the system. These impurities in the blood irritate and inflame the different membranes and tissues of the body, and the contracting of a cold will start the secretions and other disgusting and disagreeable symptoms of Catarrh. As the blood goes to all parts of the body the catarrhal poison affects all parts of the system. The head has a tight, full feeling, nose continually stopped up, pains above the eyes, slight fever comes and goes, the stomach is upset and the entire system disordered and affected by this disease. It is a waste of time to try to cure Catarrh with sprays, washes, inhalations, etc. Such treatment does not reach the blood, and can, therefore, do nothing more than temporarily relieve the discomfort of the trouble. To cure Catarrh permanently the blood must be thoroughly purified and the system cleansed of all poisons, and at the same time strengthened and built up. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head, goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and makes a complete and lasting cure. S. S. S. removes every particle of the catarrhal poison from the blood, making this vital stream pure, fresh and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, the head is loosened and cleared, the hawking and spitting cease, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and vigorous health restored. S. S. S. also tones up the stomach and digestion and acts as a fine tonic to the entire system. If you are suffering with Catarrh begin the use of S. S. S. and write us a statement of your case and our physicians will send you literature about Catarrh, and give you special medical advice without charge. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores.
