Kind Words

A recent subscriber writes The Age as follows: "Please discontinue the paper to my address. Your paper is a good, clean little paper, and deserves patronage and success. But as I am going east in a few days and as I have disposed of my interests in Las Vegas the paper will be of little interest to me. Wishing you and paper success, I am, Respectfully yours,
JOHN M. BLOCKLINGER,
San Gabriel, Calif., Nov. 4, 1907.

Rhyolite Depot

Charles Olester, contractor, left for Rhyolite Sunday, Nov. 3, to begin work on the Las Vegas and Tonopah railroad depot at that point, which will be constructed of cement building blocks manufactured in Las Vegas. Mr. Olester will continue to make Las Vegas his headquarters, returning from time to time to attend to his business here.

Down the River

Ed Collie and Frank Meyers, of Goldfield, with flat boat and provisions, were taken down to the Colorado river Monday by Geo. Garwood. They will embark at the mouth of the Vegas wash on a prospecting trip and float down to Yuma. The river is normal at this season of the year and its dangerous features reduced to a minimum.

Oil Production

California supplies one fourth of the oil produced in the United States, and holds first place. In 1896 the state produced, 33,098,598 barrels, valued at $9,553,438. Wyoming heads the list for oil value, producing during 1906, 7,000 barrels valued at $49,000, or seven dollars per barrel.

One of the most successful plays of the present season is "The Little Prospector" a comedy-drama which comes to Applin's hall, Las Vegas on Monday, Nov. 11. There is an indescribable charm about "The Little Prospector" as interpreted by "Chic" Perkins that makes the play a success, for it tells the story of human emotions in which love, hate and romance are skillfully blended by a playwright of international fame. tf

Best service. Lake & Kramer, barbers, Thomas block. tf

For original 2-stamp whiskies take a chance at The Gem Saloon—none better. tf

Say, are you a smoker? If so, try one of those International cigars at The Gem Saloon. tf

Miss Ager left last week to attend to some business at her former home and is thought to have been there at the time of her sister's death. tf

J. W. Tuck is engaged in freighting from Lund on the Salt Lake railroad to the Virgin oil fields. He states that oil was struck in another well last Sunday, making the second producing well in the new field. Large quantities of machinery and supplies are going in and the freighters are kept busy. The haul from the railroad is about 60 miles. tf

Ladies' Aid Society

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met with the President, Mrs. C. C. Bray, Thursday afternoon. Twenty five ladies were present. Six new members joined. Great interest was taken in the preparations for the Thanksgiving dinner. The refreshments were enjoyed by all and a happy lot of women adjourned to meet with the pastor's wife on next Thursday afternoon. The interest necessitates a weekly meeting. Mrs. Bain will entertain the ladies at the home of Mrs. James Lane on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 14. All come early.—Emma Lane, Sec.

The ladies who were entertained by Mrs. T. Sharp, wish to tender their thanks to her for her kind hospitality. She certainly is a royal hostess. tf

MINING PATENTS

Must be Published in Newspaper Nearest the Claim

Copp & Lockett, lawyers of Washington, D. C., conceded to be the leading authorities in the United States on mining laws, recently furnished Las Vegas Age an opinion to the effect that mining patents must be published in the newspaper nearest the claims, not by air line, but the most available route for travel.

On November 28, 1905, Secretary Hitchcock of the Interior decided a case from Arizona, Prescott land district, 34 L. D. 281. Following is a synopsis: Mining claim—Application for patent—Publication of notice—Newspaper published nearest claim.

PIKES PEAK AND OTHER LODES
By the newspaper published nearest a mining claim, within the contemplation of section 2325, Revised Statutes, is meant the newspaper of established character and general circulation in the vicinity of the claim which is nearest in point of practicable accessibility; that is, nearest by the distance from the claim involved over the most nearly direct traversable route, and over which the editions of the paper are or may be transported by the usual and available means of conveyance. The distance in contemplation is that which must actually be traveled to bring the paper into the neighborhood of the claim, in order that the intended office of the notice may in that vicinity may be performed.

County Taxes

The total valuation of Lincoln County property, as appears on the 1907 assessment roll, is over three and three-fourths millions, making the total amount of taxes on the same $88,733.98.

Taxes are now due and payable to Treasurer Ed. W. Clark, tax receiver, and will become delinquent after the 2nd day of December, 1907.
