This week at Overland Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada

Nelson Man Here

Mr. C. E. L. Gresh, president and general manager of the Eldorado Empire mining company, owners of the east extension of the famous Wall Street mine, Eldorado Canyon, has been in Vegas this week on business in connection with the property. The property has a large amount of valuable ore in sight and Mr. Gresh is working to put the property in shape to become a dividend payer in the very near future.

Mr. Gresh is given the credit of having attracted attention to Eldorado Canyon when he began operations there in 1904. The Canyon produced millions during the sixties through the Wall Street, the Techatticup and other mines, but following the demonization of silver was for many years practically forgotten. Following Mr. Gresh's lead, other mining men began developments in the Canyon, until today it is one of the best camps in southern Nevada, with many excellent prospects being developed and several mines on a profitable basis.

Rieser Coming

Mort S. Rieser is expected home Sunday after an absence of three weeks visiting New York. While in the big city he took advantage of some bargains in his line and expects to display some of the very latest "Fixings" for men at reduced prices. He says he is able to do this because he has been getting up early and hustling all day. We acknowledge receipt of a postcard sent by Mort, with a picture of Grant's Tomb on the reverse side, but we do not understand that that is the hotel where Mort is staying.

Platt Won't Serve

Samuel Platt has declined to appear before the Supreme Court in the suit to test the constitutionality of the primary law. He states that his candidacy for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator, and the fact that he has already proposed to one of the members of the Supreme Court, who is also a candidate, that they submit their candidacies to the people through a direct primary, preclude him from serving impartially as "amicus curiae."

Reno Hotels are Filled

That Reno is not supplying all the race-horse enthusiasts at the present meet is evidenced by the crowded condition of all the hotels and rooming houses. There are no vacant rooms in the Golden and practically every other hotel in the city reports the same condition. Visitors from out of town leave their names at the hotels and ask for the first vacant room. Rooms in private houses are renting rapidly.

Republicans Lead

Registration of voters at the office of Judge Harkins is much slower than it should be. Up to Friday noon 386 voters have placed their names on the register. Of these 196 declared themselves Republicans, 139 Democrats, 42 Socialists and 9 were non-committal. Registration for the primary election closes July 28th and voters should make it a point to register before that date.

Habeas Corpus

Hon. J. Emmett Walsh sitting for Judge Horsey, on last Saturday granted the application of Thomas Murphy, sent to the county jail from Good Springs, for a writ of habeas corpus, and ordered the prisoner discharged from custody.
