A Proclamation By The Governor

Nevada, already famous for her immediate and complete response to the country's call for fighting men in this war, is now confidently called on by the President for a like service in supplying money.

That this call may receive the same serious and enthusiastic response, it is well to consider the situation.

In uttering the Declaration of Independence, the Fathers of our Liberties mutually pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor. In this war, Nevada does the same.

In the Civil War, Nevada, yet a Territory, set precedent by sending a higher percentage of men to war from her 40,000 population than any other State: she voluntarily assumed her share in the national debt, and also contributed more than $250,000 to the Sanitary Commission Fund. The mines of Nevada saved the credit of the Nation, the honor of the Nation, the Nation itself.

The people know that the Nation is now mortgaging the love of its people for money with which to vindicate our rights and, with them, the rights of mankind.

If consideration of sound business policy be required, let it be known that the Nation's bond has always been the safest and the best promise to pay in the world. The interest return is high considering safety, and if the government shall later issue bonds paying higher interest, the same rate will be paid on the first issue. The bonds are as salable as paper money, passing from hand to hand like cash.

With a per capita wealth higher than most States of the Union, with a per capita patriotism recorded as higher than any State, it is almost imperative in honor that Nevada do her "bit" in absorbing her share of this war loan.

To this end I, Emmet D. Boyle, Governor of the State of Nevada, by the authority in me vested do hereby proclaim and urge that be observed not only as a day for obedience to the President's proclamation of Registration Day, but as a day for definite response to the Nation's appeal for money, with which to conduct the war.

I urge all state, county, and municipal officials and employees to subscribe on that day for the purchase of one or more Liberty Loan Bonds, which are of denomination as low as fifty dollars, obtainable on time contracts and payable in small installments.

I commend the press, the pulpit, the banks and financial agencies for their invaluable service thus far rendered, and urge an active continuation of the same.

I ask that each community, under committee leadership, make a thorough canvass on that day for the purpose of securing subscriptions to these bonds, and I call on all citizens to respond on that day to the best of their ability.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Nevada, at the Capitol in Carson City, this twenty-sixth day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen.

EMMET D. BOYLE, Governor.

George Brodigan, Secretary of State.

BREAK RECORDS
COAST TO LAKEArmy Men Make Trip From
Los Angeles in Thirty-six Hours

Making the trip from Los Angeles to Salt Lake in thirty-six hours and fourteen minutes' actual running time in an effort to determine how long it would take a scouting party of the United States army to reach this city from Los Angeles in the event of the railroads and telegraph lines were placed out of commission, a section of the motoring division of the regular army, under command of Captain O. R. Bird, broke all records on the trip.

The machine, which was equipped with all of the army requirements with the exception of a mounted machine gun, and the weight of this was added to the car, made the trip from Los Angeles to Salt Lake within twelve hours of the time made by the fastest trains.

The record from Los Angeles to Salt Lake was ninety-six hours previous to the run which ended at the Newhouse hotel last night. About sixty hours were clipped from the record. On the return trip to Los Angeles Captain Bird expects to break the record of fifty-five hours for the trip. The party made the last 150 miles of the drive in a blinding hail and rainstorm and the roads were in such condition between here and Provo that it was necessary to stop twice to get out of mudholes. The trip was delayed at St. Thomas and Las Vegas by road troubles. The elapsed time was thirty-seven hours and fourteen minutes.

Those in the party were Captain O. R. Bird and C. A. Bigelow, who took turns at driving, and Sergeants H. A. Baker and Roy Hamilton of the motoring division of the army, who are to command motor sections. The return trip will be made in two days from now.—Salt Lake Tribune.

The party made the trip from Los Angeles to Las Vegas in 12 hours and 10 minutes, having left on Los Angeles at 4 a. m., Monday and arriving here at 4:10 p. m., breaking all records. They broke an axle near St. Thomas and suffered a delay of about 1½ hours. The splendid run made by the party demonstrates beyond question that the Arrowhead Trail "All-the-Year" automobile highway is the very best, quickest, easiest and cheapest route between Salt Lake City and the Pacific coast.

On the return trip the party passed through Vegas this (Saturday) morning at 8:30, being then 22½ hours out of Salt Lake, and 1½ hours ahead of the schedule. The time to Vegas was 2 hours shorter than the time made on the up trip from Vegas to Salt Lake.

Shipment of Fords

Conklin Brothers Garage received another carload of Fords this week and have them all practically disposed of. A. L. Chaffin, Alex. Anderson and F. W. Schwanbeck each purchased a touring car and Dr. R. W. Martin, a runabout. The other two cars are spoken for but not yet delivered. Conklin Brothers hope to receive another carload in about 30 days and it behooves those wishing to purchase to put their orders in early.

Another Railroad?

A report from Kingman, Arizona, is to the effect that the Clark interests of Montana are planning the construction of a railroad through Mohave county, to touch Kingman and Chloride and to connect with the Salt Lake Route at St. Thomas, Nevada.—S. L. Mining Review.

Car Wrecked

A Studebaker Six broke a wheel and turned over on the curve just this side of the old railroad grade on the road to Jean, last Wednesday evening. The car was from Arizona, license Ariz. 4410, and was considerably damaged. We are informed that the occupants were not injured.

Selling Liberty Bonds

The following women of Vegas have volunteered their services to encourage the sale of Liberty Loan Bonds and are taking turns at the station in front of the Majestic Theatre. Mesdames C. P. Ball, C. P. Squires, F. P. Fell-rath, Jeneatte Ridge, Chas. Ireland, Minnie Clark, H. L. Hewetson, W. N. Schuyler, I. C. Johnson, C. C. Ronnow, Dora Lee, W. R. Bracken, W. B. Mundy and Miss Wanda Ball.

The Red Cross

The following was taken from an article by Wm. Taft, in the June Ladies Home Journal:

The American National Red Cross is the only volunteer society in the U. S. which our Government has authorized to render aid to our land and naval forces in time of war. It operates under a charter granted by Congress, supplemented by Presidential proclamation. Its purposes are:

To furnish, on call of the Secretary of War, or the Secretary of the Navy, volunteer aid in time of war to the sick and wounded, and to add to the comfort of all soldiers and sailors; To act in matters of voluntary war relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the American people and their fighting forces.

It is recognized by all civilized nations. The President of the United States is President of the American National Red Cross. Representatives of the Departments of State, Treasury, Army and Navy are included in the membership of the Central Committee which directs the operations and management of the Society.

In time of war, its forces in the field become a part of the forces of the U. S. and are subject to the control of the military and naval authorities.

Any resident of the U. S. may become a member of the American Red Cross. Joining the Red Cross should not be confused with volunteer enrollment for active field service with the Red Cross. It is in the home country that most of us will find our opportunity to serve, in preparing and forwarding vast quantities of medical supplies and comforts certain to be needed. Organized, united effort on the part of those who remain at home, will be needed to meet the needs of the situation.

STATE OF NEVADA

A Proclamation By The Governor

Our country is engaged in the mightiest effort of its history for the vindication of the rights and for the establishment of security and peace in the world. It is enlisted in a struggle to make the world safe for democracy.

The President has called upon the people of the entire Nation to think speak and act together, and the people, through the Congress, have agreed that every person is subject to duty of some sort in support of the country.

For the purpose of enumerating and enrolling those most needed at this time for military duty, the President, under the law, has set aside Tuesday, June 5, 1917, as a day when those of the male population of the Nation between the ages of twenty-one and thirty years, inclusive, shall present themselves at the customary voting places in their respective communities, give such information respecting themselves as is required, and await the further call of their country.

Although this duty is imposed upon all between the specified age limits, under penalty for failure, it is undoubted that the people regard this as the opportunity to respond to the Nation's need in the most efficient, orderly and patriotic way.

Therefore, in order to emphasize this spirit, I, Emmet D. Boyle, Governor of the State of Nevada, by authority in me vested, do hereby further proclaim to be not alone a day for obedience to the proclamation of the President, but one of opportunity for the display of that eager patriotism which glorifies the entire free democratic people of our State and Nation.

And I suggest that this display of patriotic feeling should surround and center upon the solemn act of registration and consecration to the service of the country. It is especially desirable that the day shall not assume the guise of a day of compulsion, because that is contrary to the true spirit of America. However, it would be equally inappropriate if the day should become one of mere holiday-making, removed from its central significance of voluntary consecration to duty. Elaborate and costly decorations should be avoided, but during the evening of Registration Day it would be appropriate to have meetings at which the true meaning of the day and its duty might be defined by men prominent in their respective communities.

In addition to the certificate delivered to each man who shall register a distinctive badge for permanent preservation will be later furnished by the State of Nevada, that the people may know and remember those men who shall first present themselves in obedience to the call of their country.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Nevada, at the Capitol in Carson City, this twenty-fifth day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen.

EMMET D. BOYLE, Governor.

George Brodigan, Secretary of State.
