LAS VEGAS MUST HAVE
The Boulder Dam
Long Distance Telephone
City Owned Airport
Adequate Street Lighting
More Paved Streets

Here and There

NOW THEY ARE shooting electricity into farm ground as they plow it—thousands of volts. It destroys the weeds and harmful bacteria and aids in fertilization. With cheap and unlimited power from the Boulder dam here, who can imagine the vast billowing fields of grain and other crops instead of the sweeps of sage, yucca and greasewood—but it's a shame to ruin the desert—even for the sake of the rose.

City Planners and engineers over the country lay sidewalks before they pave the streets. Las Vegas has a peculiar problem to cope with. Some of her sidewalks are far from good—but we must have new paved streets. In final analysis walks now upthrust by tree roots will have to be replaced and before the concrete is poured the trees must come out, especially in the business section. Cruel?—Yes. But there is no happy medium between a beautiful country village and an industrial city. One must make the choice of extremes.

Will Take a Turn

"I WOULD RATHER be dead than a failure" said Belle Anderson, a thirty-year-old graduate student at the University of California Hospital the other day.

So she mixed herself a death potion which her own knowledge as a chemist had taught her to make and committed suicide out on a lonely roadside where her body was found an hour later by a lone teamster.

Another one of those "rashly importunate."

Why hurry?
Why not see what time will do? Time solves more problems than all our wit.

Most of us who have reached riper years can look back over our lives and see that the best things that ever happened to us were the frustrations of our desires oftentimes.

We wanted something badly. We wept for it and strove for it, but another got the coveted prize. Then the world all went dark and we were ready to give up.

But something else came along after a while and further experience and wisdom showed us that it would have been very bad for us to have succeeded in getting the thing we wanted.

When we get to Heaven if we ever do, it may be that in looking back over our earthly career we will value our kicks more than our kisses.

We will be able to truly say that, "with our stripes we were healed."

Because things do not come our way do not lose heart. Wait. Something better is probably just around the corner.

It is this attitude of constant hope that keeps the soul lighted up.

It does not do to act rashly. No one can tell what tomorrow may bring forth.

Tomorrow is the great adventure. About all that keeps life worth living is the element of adventure in it.

When you have committed suicide you have taken the step which precludes all further adventure and you have extinguished the lamp of the soul and the light of life.

What may happen in the next world we do not know, but we know that in this world something is bound to happen tomorrow. Why not stay alive and see it? If you are feeling pretty bad perhaps it may comfort you to think that whatever happens it cannot be worse than what has already happened, therefore it will probably be better.

Keep trudging along and surely some opportunity will come to you to get away from the hated routine.

You Answer It

TOO MANY noisy marriages, too many quiet divorces, says the Rev. Dr. Stetson, rector of New York's Trinity Church, that looks from Broadway down Wall Street to a convenient dock on the East River. Dr. Stetson fears that we may imitate Soviet Russia, "where divorce is granted without question" and that our Government will some day make polygamy legal. He also deprecates the power of sex appeal.

Scientists on the other hand, say the one danger threatening the human race is the possible dying out of that same sex appeal, in which case there would be no more children, and the race would fade away. What power was it, or what appeal, that, in Dr. Stetson's opinion, brought about the marriage of Adam and Eve long ago?
