

Stanford-California Tilt Has Title Bearing

Stanford's Cardinals and California's Bears tangled at Berkeley in a game which will decide whether California and Southern California will share the 1928 championship, or the Trojans will be undisputed champions. If the Bears win they will be co-champions with the Trojans. The three players (right) will have something to say about the outcome.

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 22. (AP)—A California Bear flushed with the confidence that follows many football victories will face Stanford's Cardinals this year in the annual "Big Game" between these old time rivals.

When they line up Nov. 24 "Big Game" honors, however, will not be alone at stake. The 80,000 spectators massed in Memorial Stadium will see a California squad battling for at least a tie for the Pacific Coast Conference championship, for the Bears must duplicate Southern California's feat of trouncing Stanford in order to maintain their equal rating with the Southern aggregation.

Plunging and passing their way through a brilliant season, the Bears defeated Washington State, Oregon and Washington and played Southern California to a scoreless tie. So if the team from South of the Tehachapi continues its unbroken record of wins by licking Idaho in its last conference game and California keeps its record equally unblemished by walloping Stanford on the same day, the two elevens will share the Conference title for 1928.

The thirty-fifth encounter of these traditional gridiron foes since 1892 will pit a rejuvenated California squad of crushing line power against a Stanford team which also has shown tremendous strength plus a fine deceptive attack throughout the season.

Opposing teams have battered against the California forward wall with but little success this season. The Bear offense has centered around the spectacular play of Benny Lom, halfback. Lom has kicked, passed and pounded his way into recognition as probably the best back in the Coast Conference. His punts ranging up to 65 yards have been a saving factor in many games.

Stanford, with its new and intricate offensive — formation B — ran up huge scores to defeat Idaho and University of California at Los Angeles, but lost 10 to 0 game to Southern California through fumbles and misplays. That game cost the Cardinals their chance for the championship. It will be a different playing team, however, that faces California. Stung by the U. S. C. defeat, the Cardinals have worked feverishly to overcome the defects. Its attack, as formerly, will be built around Captain "Biff" Hoffman and Herb Fleischacker, the two fullbacks. Nothing happened in the U. S. C. route to weaken confidence in Pop Warner's new attack formation, and this will doubtless again dominate in the offensive against the Bears an attack of trickery plus power.

Four years have passed since a Bear eleven whipped the Stalwarts of Stanford. That was in 1923 when the Cardinals were on the short end of a 9-0 score. Coach Warner game to Stanford the next year, and the game's result was a tie. Since then his team has won every contest with California.

COOLIDGE RATION RAISE AIDS SOLDIERS' MORALE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Little in recent years is regarded as having done more to raise the morale of the enlisted man in the army than the order of President Coolidge raising the daily ration rate from 30 to 50 cents.

A certain amount of fancy food on mess tables will result. Realizing this, Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff, has ordered a number of majors and lieutenant colonels from each corps area to take courses in mess management; at the Army Subsistence school in Chicago.

The officers go into the kitchen and see how it's done.

SCHOOLS LOOK TO HOME TO AUGMENT TRAINING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The responsibility of the home in child education grows increasingly important, Seiden Carlyle Adams of the National Education association told the leadership training conference of the District Congress of Parents and Teachers here.

"Children live 24 hours a day and not more than six or seven of those hours are spent in school," Mr. Adams said. "The danger hours come after the school has closed its doors for the evening. The tragedies of childhood and youth seldom take place in the classroom."

"Education is meeting the challenge of the changing world by providing a curriculum which concerns itself with making children physically and mentally sound; preparing them for worthy home membership; providing them with an appreciation of the tools, techniques and spirit of learning; instilling in them the loftiest ideals of faithful citizenship and so directing the whole process that the development of noble character will be the self-improvement goal of every boy and girl."

SOME PREJUDICES OK, SAYS PSYCHOLOGIST

LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 24. (AP)—Every person must have three prejudices in life if he is to have consistent, stable standards, says Professor Herman H. Erasse, psychologist and member of the faculty of the State Normal School here. These prejudices, he says, are:

That he has the best mother in the world.
That he believes in and belongs to the finest church on the face of the earth.
That he belongs to the finest nation in the world.

Mrs. A. M. Minnette and Mrs. B. B. Pistole returned Sunday from Los Angeles where they spent a week's vacation.

GRASS BANNED BY LAW WINS FAVOR AS PASTURE

ARDMORE, Okla., Nov. 22. (AP)—Thanks to the boll weevil, Johnson grass is now considered the farmer's friend instead of foe.

Since land in southern Oklahoma has become infested with the insect that destroys cotton, farmers disregarded a law which provides a penalty for letting Johnson grass go to seed, and the idle cotton fields were matted with the grass. Then it was discovered livestock would thrive on the plant that was considered a pest when it had to be hoed out of the cotton fields.

Tests made by E. T. Zigler in Stephens county demonstrated that an acre of Johnson grass pasture would fatten two heaves, and make hay almost as good as alfalfa for dairy cattle.

Johnson grass resembles Sudan grass, growing as high as a man's waist. Half the arable land in many counties of southern Oklahoma is devoted to the plant, and some
