THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

IN HIS MESSAGE to Congress President Coolidge, in regard to the Boulder Dam, has gone on record as feeling "warranted in recommending a measure which will protect the rights of the States, discharge the necessary Gov- are down spending the Thanksernmental functions, and leave the electrical field to Albert Leavitt, Sr. private enterprise."

The Swing-Johnson bill, as it stands today, passed by the House and ready for a vote in the Senate, embodies and family were here visiting all that the President asks for.

First Mr. Coolidge insists that the rights of the States be protected. While the States concerned have not been able to come to an agreement among themselves, their problems have been studied by the Irrigation Committees of the House and Senate and the pertinent articles of Thursday. the Swing-Johnson bill approved by them. It would seem probable that the rights of the respective States will quite White Star were the guests of Mrs. Mary O. Leavitt on Thanksnaturally be safeguarded.

VANDALISM

FEW MONTHS AGO the State Highway Department accruing interest and costs and completed the erection of signs along our highway now remains due the sum of One Thousand Seven Hundred Sixtyfrom the California state line on the south to the Arizona three and 88-100 ($1,763.88), with line on the north.

And now, within even this short time, a number of levied upon all the right, title and the signs have been mutilated, others are missing, some have been torn off and thrown on the ground.

It has been necessary to replace the sign at the corner of Fifth and Fremont streets twice already.

The removal of the signs cannot be pleaded as accidental, as they are bolted on iron posts, which are placed in concrete. Such destruction is nothing short of vandalism and is deserving of the utmost contempt.

There is an apparently incurable Bolshevism in the makeup of those who deliberately deface puplic property whether it consists of road signs, public buildings, bridges or what not. For the safety of all concerned they should be locked up some place where they cannot do any

WATER SERVICE

THETHER the extension of water service by the Las Vegas Land and Water Company is an indication of a belief in the growth and future of the city, as seen by some, or merely a natural economic move as claimed by others is of small importance.

The real meat in the nutshell is the fact thatthe action of the water company in eutending its service to include the Original Townsite, Buck's and Pioneer Heights is one of the longest steps forward in the development of Las

With the old time water service given these suburban communities, development was sadly hampered. Those ber, 1928, at Two o'clock P. ## JAPANESE "TALKIES"

TOKYO, Dec. 4, (P)-Japanese motion picture theaters have a god claim to leadership in this "talkie" business have employed the main idea for years, in having a running fire of speech accompanying the film. This is furnished by a school of artists peculiar to Japan, known ham were the winners of the as "katsuben," or "movie explain-

Although domestic movies have made considerable progress in Japan, the foreign-made, especially the American, film has always been most in demand. When foreign pictures were introduced it was obvious that the audiences could not follow the story, "titled" in a foreign language and showing motives and points of view alien to Japanese minds. So the "katsu-ben" came into existence.

These gentry, standing behind this afternoon between the old pulpit-like desks beside the screen "town sharks" and the school and gesturing with a fan, have a wonderful flow of talk, sometimes to suit each character. when four or five "katsu-ben" employed simultaneously were when big native film dramas were shown, each assigned a leading character. Japanese actors, with developed by their own puppet plays, proved adept at fitting suitfrom abroad.
