COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

THE ACTION of the Community Christmas Committee in deciding to hold the Community Christmas Tree cele- battle when he threw a brick thru bration is one deserving commendation. It would be unfortunate to discontinue a custom which has survived for so many years.

The writer, as the chairman of the first Community wounds. Christmas Committee would regret to see so happy a custom die. It has been suggested by many however, and with this view the writer is inclined to agree, that some little alteration in the celebration program would not come BY SENATE amiss.

Many believe that it would be a good idea to have a Christmas program around the tree on Christmas eve, including the singing of carols by a choir from all the the Interior by President Coolidge churches, but to do away with the old time "treat."

Most of the youngsters have more Christmas candy than is good for them, while there are a very few children whom Santa Claus misses altogether. It would be a most happy move if the money which is spent for the treat could be used to provide a sure enough Christmas for some of political affairs in his home city the little ones who otherwise will be disappointed.

While it is true that Vegas looks out for the material wants of its poor in a very satisfactory manner on Christmas Day, what a lot of joy the committee and community could get out of assuring some boys and girls of a real visit from Santa.

This is, of course, merely in the line of a suggestoin, and would no doubt need considerable thought in the carrying out, but with the steady growth of the city, we believe it is one which might well be adopted, in the future, at least.

THE WORLD A BIG PLACE

WE OFTEN REMARK that "the world is a small place HOTEL after all." On the other hand, every once in a while, something happens which reminds us that, on the whole, it is a rather large sized sphere.

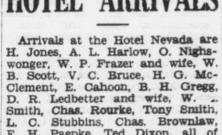

The trip of the Prince of Wales to his father's bedside, is illustrative of the fact that transportation has not entirely overcome mileage.

South Africa doesn't look such a long distance from L. C. Stubbins, Chas. Brownlaw, England on the map, and yet, with every resource placed E. H. Paepke, Ted Dixon, all of at the command of the speeding prince, the trip is taking disposed of the various amendments offered to the Swing-Johnson bill Tuesday, indicates a desire to accomplish something.

SENATE ACTION

THE BUSINESS-LIKE DISPATCH with which the Senate

After many years of investigations of the project the O. L. Turner, and family, H. B. Ennor, Grand Junction, Colo. Senate is now fairly well convinced of the merits of the proposition. If anything was needed to clinch the arguments already made the report of the Sibert commission has surely served that purpose.

The big question is that of lfood control, and the Senate realizes that it is responsible for the lives and property of the residents of the Imperial Valley.

up some morning to find themselves in a bad mess, with deal of charity not only at Christmas time, but throughout the Imperial Valley in ruins, and the bill still unpassed, the year. Whenever a worthy cause is found, the B. P. and the Solons realize this.

They know that flood control is the main issue, and that the minor questions of water and power can be ganiaztion doesn't spend any time in telling the world how handled in a fair and satisfactory manner if they make up their minds to it. Seemingly Tuesday they decided the antlered herd. time had come to stop the monkey business and play ball.

They began to get results immediately.
