EAGLES TO PLAY BALL WITH H. S. GIANTS SUNDAY

Double-Header Promises Pair of Determined Contests; Two Teams Set Upon Downing Lodge Outfit.

Two hot games are expected Sunday when the Eagles play a doubleheader in baseball with the Giants and the High School nine in the Union Pacific ball park.

The Giants who have been working out every day for some time, have a reconstructed team, it is reported, and are putting in hard licks toward taking the Eagles off their high horse.

Certain Eagles, on the other hand, are making bets to the effect that the Giants will not score more than three runs during the game according to word reaching the Age office.

This means that the Eagles, who are building up a formidable ball machine, are being challenged by a determined aggregation of Giants with each determined to run rings around the other at all costs.

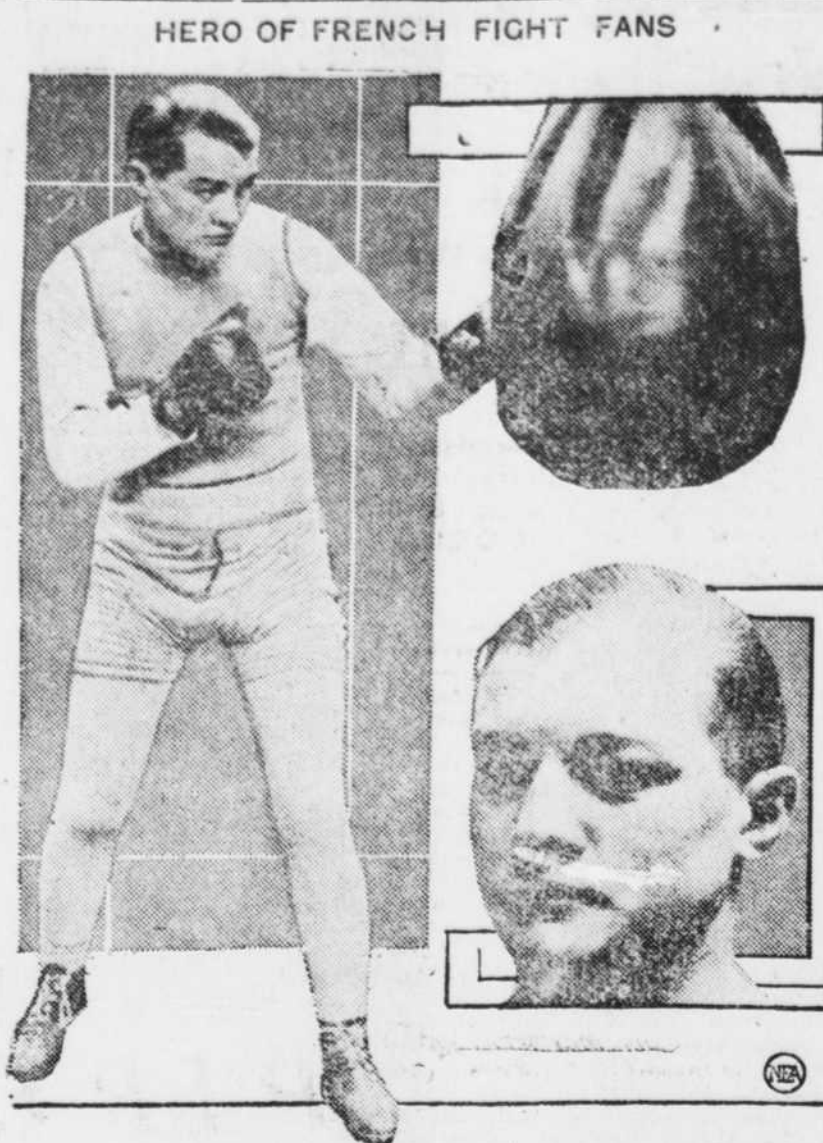

The High School team, its defeat of last Sunday still fresh in mind, is out for revenge, and the Eagles, who have enough ball players for several teams, are going to do some stopping to out-play both teams on the same day.

The High School-Eagles game will be played at 1:30 and the Giants-Eagles contest will start at 3:30. There will be no admission charge.

The lineup for the Eagles-Giants game are as follows:

"All good players will win from the Eagles easily." This is a notation found at the bottom of the sheet given the Age for the Giant's lineup.

Here's the idol of French fight fans today—"Spider" Pladner, flyweight champion, who defends his title on April 18 against Frankie Genaro, American ex-champion, at Paris. Pladner is booked to fight in this country during the summer months.

L. D. S. WORK ON CHURCH PLANS

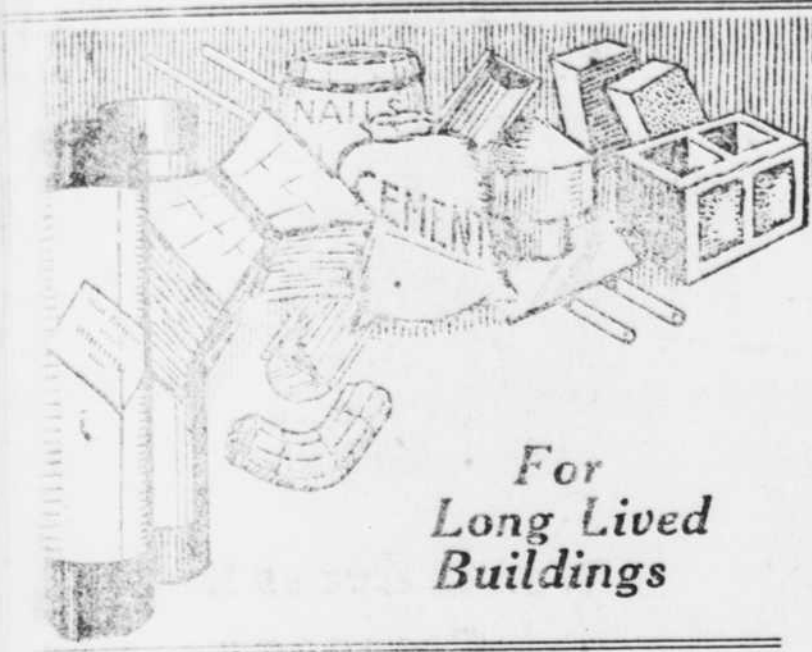

A building committee of the L. D. S. Church is working on the problem of providing a new and adequate church building to take the place of the one now in use.

"The present church is far too small for our needs," said Bishop Bryan Bunker yesterday, and we probably will either build a new one on the present site at Carson and Sixth or at some other location, the site to be chosen later.

The committee conducting the investigation consists of the following: Fred S. Alward, chairman, S. R. Whitehead, W. J. Flowers, Louis E. Rowe, Dr. E. H. Conger, Ira Earl and C. C. Rinnow.

A city is no longer a town when it has two golf courses, one of which is known as the "Metropolitan Links."

A New York man arrested as a pickpocket told the court he was a bootlegger. A sneak thief? The idea!

GOOD MATERIALS

No advice is sounder than the materials that comprise it. In the long run it is cheaper to employ high quality building materials, thus averting the danger of perennial repairs.

COUPLE 57, 59 RE-MARRY HERE

A romance of yester-year was rekindled late this week in Las Vegas when Peter J. Dammers, 57, and Nellie C. Dammers, 59, were re-married after a separation of four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Dammers were married by the Rev. Boyd Parker of Christ Episcopal Church. They had been divorced on May 27, 1925, and came here from Los Angeles to be married for the second time.

Will He Dress Like This?

No, you aren't "seeing things"—our trick photographer merely did this to show you how Charles G. Dawes, our new ambassador to Great Britain, will look if he wears the conventional silk knee breeches at British court functions and clings to his famous upside-down pipe at the same time. Other American ambassadors to St. James have worn 'em at court functions—so why not Mr. Dawes?

NORTHERN FILES FOR DIVORCE

Fred M. Northern, city policeman, filed suit yesterday for divorce from Rose D. Northern on grounds of cruelty. The couple were married at Shoshone, Wyoming, in 1916 and separated in April, 1928, in Los Angeles, according to the complaint.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, April 20.—Senator J. Bombaom McWhorter says the reason Mr. Hoover gave up the presidential yacht Mayflower was because he was afraid of being shot by the Coast Guard.

"Nevertheless, we have got to guard against too much simplicity in the White House," the senator said in a lengthy address to a visiting group of his constituents.

"Ever since the founding of this great and glorious country, it has been the custom of fathers and mothers to tell their sons that they might some day become president of the United States. The boys have always been warned that if they played marbles for keeps, failed to wash behind their ears or didn't keep up with their home work, their chances would be ruined.

The President's Duty
"If we don't look out, this time-honored system, which has worked so well for us, will no longer be good for anything. In my opinion, it is up to the president to keep on display a certain amount of bait for young America.

"A lot of kids began to sniff at the presidency when they heard there wasn't going to be any Mayflower any more. All kids like to sail around on yachts, especially when they can command them.

"The Mayflower did more to keep them interested in the presidency than any single thing connected with the White House.

"Then there were the White House horses. Why can't you kid and my kid, when they get to be president, have any horses? Simply because Mr. Hoover didn't like to use the horses and sent them off to a cavalry post. A lot of kids would rather have a horse than a yacht any time. With no horses and no yacht they're going to come to consider the White House as just a place.

"My own sons are splendid strapping young specimens of American boyhood, but I don't dare tell them about being president some day any more because I'm afraid they'll say 'Who cares.' I have a lot more luck telling them maybe if they're good and eat their spinach maybe they can become mounted cops.

"I'd hate ever to suggest to the vice presidency to one of them when they know that the vice president can't sit near his own sister at a dinner party unless it makes an awful lot of fuss about it. Not that any boy especially cares where his sister sits, of course.

"What really ought to be more commonly stressed is that fact that the president throws out the first ball of the baseball season and gets free tickets to games whenever he wants them.

"Mr. Coolidge did a lot for the parents of the country when he posed in his cowboy suit in South Dakota. There's been nothing in a long time that inspired presidential ambitions in youthful breasts like that did. Hundreds of thousands of mothers found their offspring much more helpful for several days after that.

"I may introduce a resolution one of these days suggesting that President Hoover march around now and then in a naval uniform with a sword and plenty of plumes. Glamour Is Needed

"Nobody wants to grow up and become famous just so he can throw a medicine ball around in back of the house. I wish the president would go in for some more glamorous sport like motorcycle riding or roller skating."

Even Airedale Given Service When He Goes To Office of Chamber

When the big Airedale dog came into the Chamber of Commerce office once more the other day and said "Gimme a drink" by poking his nose into the wash basin, Dorothy DePue, touched with compassion for the poor "hound," cast about for some sort of "glass" in which to give him a drink.

She could not use the glass kept for human beings. The flower pots were already in use, and the silver loving cup and wash basin were slightly inappropriate.

Aha! She had it! The waste-paper basket! It was the kind that would hold anything. She emptied out the few scraps of paper and filled it for the "sirey, hemely quadruped, who quaffed his drink therefrom as proudly as a king.

"He'll be back to see us again, now," said Miss DePue. "His office is for service."

Five Chicago gunmen robbed worshippers in a synagogue of $7,000, but they didn't take anything from the rabbi. That proves they had a conscience, anyway.

W. U. EXECUTIVE FINISHES NEW LOCATION PLAN

The long time lease of the Western Union on its future location in W. G. Morse's new building, now under construction on the south side of Frethen between First and Second, was consummated yesterday by Mr. Morse and E. C. Vanderbilt, of Los Angeles, district superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company, who was in this city all day on business relative to the establishing of the company's Overland Repeater and headquarters station in the new location.

The first floor of the building, which will be of reinforced concrete and 25 by 90 feet, will be occupied entirely by the telegraph company's office. The second floor being occupied by offices.

New, high-speed automatic equipment will be installed all around by the Western Union, according to Vanderbilt. There will be uniformed messengers and other additions to the present service, keeping up such standards as are warranted by the city's needs. Western Union clocks will be installed in virtually all business houses in town, he stated.

The new building is being constructed by F. D. Smith, contractor, and will be completed about July 1, it is believed.

BEACON VISIBLE 100 MILES

AMARILLO, Texas, April 20. (AP)—Amarillo, midway point between San Francisco and Chicago on transcontinental air lines, has an aviation beacon light visible through for 100 miles away.

An arrow on the roof of a 14-story building, where the red light is located, points to the municipal airport two miles away.
