

Local High School Wins Track Meet Despite Late Threat of Saint George

BOYS GETTING READY FOR STATE MEET

Having won the high school track meet Saturday in the U. P. ball park with a margin of nine and a quarter points over St. George, Utah, nearest competitor, despite St. George's threatening rally in copping first in relay and javelin and second in the other relay, Las Vegas' track outfit now is looking toward the journey to Reno for the state meet May 11.

St. George came through with a burst of speed late in the meet and piled up points by taking first in the half-mile medley relay and the javelin, but Las Vegas won the half-mile relay, and due to this and the good work of Shull, DeSonne, Hicks, Whitehead and other Las Vegas athletes, too big a lead had been amassed over the Utahans Vegas had won the mile relay, also.

Las Vegas Wins Firsts

Other events won by Las Vegas were: Mile run, discus, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, half-mile, 220-yard dash, shot put, 440-yard dash. The scores for the teams at the finish were:

Las Vegas	74 1/2
St. George	65
Overton	10 1/2
Bunkerville	3
Ely, Tonopah, Needles and Milford	were not present to participate in the meet.

Elmer Shull brought home the bacon as high point man for the meet, winning 20 points, or more than one-fourth of Las Vegas' marks. He took first in the 50-yard dash, the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and the shot put, besides participating in two of the relays, one of which took first place.

Capt. Ivan DeSonne took first in the discus and the half-mile, besides taking part in all three relays, two of which were won by Las Vegas.

GOLF JOAT LETTERS

Events which cast their shadows before them may be popular and all that but golfers who cast their shadows before and all around them are not popular on any golf course.

This aggravating golfer has just holed his putt and is standing around on the green, watching the rest of the golfers putt and his shadow is covering the cup!

You know the type that stands around carelessly looking over the course or up at the fleecy clouds. You look for the cup and finally discover it tucked away in the shadow some place between the left arm and the body and then just as you get ready to take a whack at the half-hidden cup he moves around and completely covers it.

Late in the afternoon it is especially hard to keep your shadow where it belongs at all times, but if you will be careful about this point it will stamp you as a considerate golfer wicker than most any other bit of etiquette.

It should be a habit just as much as picking your ball out of the cup before the rest of them putt. Don't walk across the line of putt. Watch your shadow and keep it still on the green.

LEGION BOUTS FRIDAY MAKE STRONG CARD

Wallace-Charles Battle Not Only Thriller Scheduled for May 3; Brockway Announces Other Fights.

Great stuff was promised by the three top spots on the Legion boxing card for Friday, May 3. And now the two preliminary bouts make it a whole of a card, in fact one that could easily grace any of the larger California arenas, according to Charlie Brockway, matchmaker.

On the curtain raiser Dave Milford meets Jimmy Harris, a boy who made good around Boston and has moved to Las Vegas to stay. Both Milford and Harris are classy, and it'll be some curtain raiser.

On the second spot a local boy who has made good in fistic circles around Los Angeles makes a reappearance. This is Johnny Smith, who has just returned from the coast and nine bouts, out of which he won seven. Smith meets Johnny Martinez, a San Bernardino Mexican lad with a knockout wallop.

Fights Like Baby Sal Martinez does most of his training with Baby Sal and is a fighter with a good deal of the same style. From curtain raiser to top spot, action and wallop will travel hand in hand to make the card the classiest held in Vegas in many moons, said Brockway last night.

Mickey Wallace, who meets Tim Charles in the main event, is spending all of his time at a ranch at the end of Fifth street. Mickey is determined to stop Charles and is rapidly nearing the best condition he has ever been in during his ring career.

Betting is likely to be high, it is thought, though the Kentucky boy is at present a five to four favorite over Mickey. However a hard working, heavier, harder punching Mickey is likely to hang crepe on Charles' jaw, it is said.

Mickey, victorious, will have whipped one of the best light heavies in Southern California, and will have a big start to fistic success. If he can beat Charles he can beat most of the present crop of light heavies on the coast.

Eagle Thomas, bantamweight champ of Australia, and Joey Velarde, should furnish a slam-bang semi-windup, with both out for a knockout. Velarde is the classiest Mexican bantamweight in California today, in the opinion of were interclass entries. The contestants were required to dance in some trick manner for a certain length of time in order to win, and the competition. The senior class was victorious, the freshmen were second, the juniors third, and the sophomores did not score at all.

The big cup was presented by Mr. Roth of the Las Vegas Mercantile Corporation; the other cups for relays and points were given by the Rotary and the 20-30 club. St. George won two cups; the half-mile medley run and next-to-the-highest-point-man.

The dance, given by the Girls' Letter Club, was a novel arrangement, the program being planned to represent a schedule for a track meet, and for each event there
