The LION WAR of a LUMBWA TRIBE

A drama of desperate realities, picturing indisputably wild beasts of Jungle and Veldt, and the wild savages of Africa in the lives they live and the deaths they die.....
Naked men against tooth and claw

The story itself is NOT A STAGED OR MOVIE PRODUCTION, it is AFRICA as NATURE MADE IT. The Johnson's cameras take you there, a-foot, alongside and into the thick of it. The high excitement of a river crossing amid hundreds of hungry crocodiles, encounters with giant rhinoceros, and fighting the ever-attacking hippopotamus and the greatest natural scene it was ever privileged a human eye and camera to record:-

The most thrilling moment in "Simba," the big game hunting motion picture made in Africa by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, which is coming to El Patio tonight, is that which shows the naked blacks of the Lumbwa tribe, armed only with spears and shields, attacking and killing full grown lions. It seems incredible that the king of beasts could be slain by such simple weapons, but it is done, and the scene keeps spectators on the edges of their seats.

As Martin Johnson who photographed the battle, tells it, he with his wife, Osa, and their safari, had trekked down into Tanganyika on the trails of lions. This says Johnson, is the most wonderful big game tract in the world.

"Not long after we entered Tanganyika," he says, "we met forty naked Lumbwa warriors in war paint out after lions. The native hunters were armed with long spears and shields of buffalo hide. Each man had decorated himself and his shield with his own idea of war paint. The blacks had spent days in working themselves into a fever of courage which would nerve them to face 'simba' in his own haunts. Considering their inadequate weapons, I think they needed a lot of courage.

Do Not Kill for Food
"These blacks were not after lions for sport or for meat. They do not eat lion meat, they have no use for the hides, and they take the claws only for amulets. They were out for revenge because the lions had been killing their cattle. We saw them kill six lions, one after another, and every performance was thrilling and nerve-racking 'simba' in his own haunts.
