New High School Bond Election Set For July 20

Board Decides to Remove All Doubt as to Legality of Issue Before Going Ahead With Building.

The date for the new school bond election, made necessary by technicalities surrounding the first election, was set for July 20, by the school board at its meeting last night.

The mixup comes as the result of a ruling of the attorney general to the effect that the law, passed by the last legislature, fixing the maturity date of school bonds at 25 years, failed to repeal the old 20-year maturity bond law. Therefore, the election must be held again, with the maturity date of the bonds fixed at 20 years in the future instead of 25 years as was done in the election held last May.

The delay is annoying because of the delay it involves in the building of the much-needed high school but the board prefers to remove all doubt of the validity of the bonds now instead of running the chance of having the bonds declared invalid at a later date.

Road Oiling Sticker Sale Well Started

The sticker sale for the financing of the oiling of the road from Las Vegas toward Lorenzi's is well on its way, according to Otis J. Smith, chairman of the drive. At least a thousand of these will be sold at a dollar each, he stated yesterday.

The two and a half mile stretch of highway toward Reno was oiled late last week and its consummation was made possible by the push of the Elks' committee, who instituted the idea and put it over. "Now let's all get back of it and do our share," said Smith yesterday, others who are conducting the sale with courtesy and generosity.
