New Building Constructed In Fast Time

Having been built and virtually completed in thirty-three days, the two-story Boulder Club building at 118 Fremont will be ready for occupancy by the club by the middle of the month, it is the plan and hope of the proprietors. It was started June 1.

The building was constructed by R. E. Dodson, contractor, formerly of Ely, and builder of the White Pine court house at Ely; Dodson plans to remain in business in Las Vegas, it has been stated.

The club room, with amusements and fountain, will be installed as soon as the work of finishing the building's interior is completed. The equipment includes a 32-inch Ventura ventilator fan.

The club is a corporation, headed by P. J. Gouman. Other members of the firm are J. V. Murphy, vice-president; G. H. Gouman, secretary-treasurer; W. E. Watson and Clyde Hatch, all formerly of Ely.

Peru Now Has Holiday July 4th

LIMA, Peru, July 3.—(UP)—July 4 has been declared a national holiday throughout Peru by presidential decree partly as a friendly gesture toward the United States and partly because it will mark the tenth anniversary of the office-taking of President Augusto B. LeLgua of Peru.

Warfare Against Rum-Runners to Be Shown in 'Blockade' at El Patio

No more graphic and vivid revelation of the undercover methods of the rumrunners along the coast of Florida has been given the public than is in "Blockade." FEO's mighty sea thriller which will be shown Friday and Saturday nights at El Patio theater.

Anna Q. Nilsson is seen in the stellar role and had the story of "Blockade" been written especially to fit her engaging winsomeness and artistry in its quieter and more intimate scenes and her amazing energy in its dynamic incidents of strife and battle, it could scarce have proved a happier choice.

Portraying a dashing young woman of mystery and riches, owner and commander of a speedy yacht, who injects herself and her ship's crew into the rumrunning and "hijacking" game off the Florida coast, Miss Nilsson gives a sparkling performance that is excellently matched by the supporting cast. Wallace MacDonald capably handles a sympathetic role in the male lead and the other outstanding players are Walter McGrail and James Bradbury, Sr.

"Blockade," which presents many breath-taking scenes made at sea, with battling crews on ships side by side and machine-guns and one-pounders firing upon them from government vessels, brings new laurels to Director George B. Seitz, who has already won fame in the "Blood Ship." Its direction is careful, artistic and powerful in its development of the story's most gripping incidents.

Lovers of realism and absorbing action upon the screen should by no means miss seeing this splendid picture, which was made from an original story by Louis Sarecky and John Twist, the continuity be

Local Couples Get Marriage Licenses

Two Las Vegas couples were among those to secure marriage licenses in the last two days.

Tony Martelletti and Fern Henry, both of this city, applied Tuesday for license, as did also Daniel J. Washington and Emmie Myles, both of Las Vegas.

Others who secured licenses Tuesday were John Willard and Minerva B. Lynch, of New York.

Yesterday five licenses were issued, to the following:

Theodore Phillip Gossens of San Francisco, and Ivola May Wheeler of San Diego; Amos A. Schneider and Norma Mattie Riley, both of Monrovia, California; Joseph Z. Reuner of San Bernardino and Edith Richards Hancock of Riverside; Edison P. Garris and Mina M. Peterson, both of Pomona, and Charles St. Claire and Ellen Blocker, both of Los Angeles.
