

DALLAS SEEKS TO SAVE SINNERS WITH MUNICIPAL MINISTER

By NEA Service
DALLAS, Tex., July 5. — If all Dallasites do not have special seats in Heaven, it won't be the fault of Mayor J. Waddy Tate, newly elected who has made good his campaign pledge to appoint a municipal minister.

The Rev. Mrs. Charles Chasteen has been appointed by Mayor Tate as Dallas' first city soul-saver. With the words, "Rescue the perishing, comfort the dying," on his lips, Tate formally invested the Rev. Mrs. Chasteen with the office of municipal minister at a city commission meeting.

Mrs. Chasteen will perform marriages free of charge for those unable to pay, will preach to the city's prisoners, will conduct funerals for the poor, and will be the call of many Dallas citizens who feel the need of spiritual guidance.

The Rev. Mrs. Chasteen has been an ordained minister for more than 20 years. She was formerly pastor of a church at Little Rock, Ark. Recently she has been continuing her activities to assisting her husband, the Rev. Charles Chasteen, pastor of the Mount Auburn Christian church here. She is a great Bible student, wearing out a copy of the book every two months by constant reading.

Mrs. Chasteen is a second cousin of the late William Cullent Bryant, she is a grandmother.

"Dallas has long commanded the local and unselfish services of its citizens in matters for material improvement," Mayor Tate said. "City-minded citizens have served in the park board, the public welfare board and other civic groups. I am now asking Mrs. Chasteen to serve in a work of great significance, looking toward Dallas' spiritual improvement. Through the work of the municipal minister, Dallas will be able to show that it cares for the redemption and regeneration of its sinners as well as the detection and punishment of law offenders."

Mrs. Chasteen's position does not carry a salary.

Club Girls Give Play at Overton For Camp Fund

Las Vegas L. D. S. Elders Present Entertainment in Moapa Valley; Marketing Problem is Considered.

By J. DONAL EARLE
The 4-H Club girls of Overton presented the play "The Winning of Joy" to a fair-sized crowd in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening. The play was presented by the girls as a means of making money to go to the state club camp in Reno again. The presentation was enjoyed by all who attended. Miss Helen Wells directed it. Miss Orpha Miller and Mr. William Street of Las Vegas attended to see if it could be taken to Las Vegas.

Mr. Edwin Wells, Katherine Wells and J. I. Earl spent Tuesday in Las Vegas.

Mr. A. L. Kelly and Mr. Albert Wittwer left Tuesday for Salt Lake City to meet with Drs. Evans and Thomas on the problem of marketing for the Moapa Growers, Inc. Mr. Kelly will be sales manager and marketing agent for the Valley the ensuing year.

The Elders Quorum of the L. D. S. church in Las Vegas presented a delightful entertainment to the citizens of Overton Sunday afternoon. The program consisted of short addresses, musical numbers and a short three-act play. The program was enjoyed by a large crowd.

The Elders Quorum of Overton presented a program somewhat similar in St. Thomas. Short talks, musicals, and the same little play. Not so large a crowd attended in St. Thomas, but what was lacking in quantity was made up in quality.

Mrs. Lois E. Jones, her son, Wendell, and daughters, LaVerne, Rena and Wilma, and Miss Everine Cog left Wednesday for St. George. They took Miss Cog home and will spend a few days with friends in Southern Utah.

Tomato and cantaloupe season has started in the Valley now. Tomatoes have been on for two weeks and cantaloupes approximately a week. It won't be long until shipping will be started by cartload lots. Many of the farmers have gone heavily into watermelons this year so this may mean another means of income for the people.

Swallowed Peanut Causes Baby's Death

QUINCY, Mass., July 5. (UP)—A peanut which he swallowed two weeks ago resulted in the death of Theodore Glenn, 19 months old son of Dr. Chester L. Glenn, Quincy baby specialist, at the Children's hospital in Boston today.

The peanut lodged in the baby's lung, had been removed by surgeons at a Philadelphia hospital, but yesterday, while believed recovering, the child became ill again.

The Age

Aimee Knocks Out the Devil

With a terrific appeal to the law, Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist, knocked the devil flat when she entered the ring before 12,000 night fans at the Risko-Griffith heavyweight bout in Detroit the other night. But it was only a cardboard devil, painted red, that Aimee had made for the occasion. The evangelist tried to preach a sermon from the ring, but the fight crowd was in no mood to listen.

AID FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN PUSHED

the state of New Jersey, we were able to accomplish wonderful results, furthermore after six years of continuous physical rehabilitation to publicly broadcast the statement that at the present time there should not be a cripple in the state (New Jersey) in need of examination or treatment not guaranteed because we would guarantee—

First—Examination and diagnosis by prominent orthopedic surgeons.
Second—Operation if necessary.
Third—Hospital care and after treatment.

Fourth—Convalescent care in a convalescent center if needed.

In our work for crippled children we did not undertake the construction of hospitals. We endeavored to open orthopedic departments in the already existing hospitals, thereby making the facilities to the cripples rather than the cripples to the facilities. Many of our individual fees donated from two thousand to ten thousand dollars for the Union aid east the deciding vote equipping of orthopedic departments in the hospitals in their respective jurisdictions.

The establishing of these orthopedic departments in the hospitals a close proximity to the child's home has in many instances made much easier to secure the consent of the parents for the treatment of the child, furthermore in giving of after care and treatment in cases here convalescent care is not necessary.

In view of the fact that in some of the outlying districts and in some communities it is necessary to bring orthopedic surgeons from the larger cities or transport the crippled children sometimes from long distances, we have under consideration at the present time the advisability of offering scholarships for the purpose of permitting surgeons or general practitioners to be trained in orthopedic surgery. If this thought is carried to a successful conclusion it no doubt would permit us to open additional orthopedic departments in these smaller communities.

At the outset it became apparent that a convalescent center would be of great value particularly in relieving the hospitals of long time cases. One of the members of our state committee, the Hon. Harry Bacharach, and members of his family donated the convalescent center at Atlantic City which was named in honor of their mother—The Betty Bacharach Home for Crippled Children. This home is maintained by the Atlantic City Lodge of Elks and some of the other New Jersey lodges. The value of this method of operation has indeed become very successful, particularly in view of the fact that the after care and treatment is most essential. Many of the children we come in contact with do not have the proper home surroundings for this after care. It is surprising what God's sunshine, fresh air, and proper treatment has done in restoring these children to normalcy.

You will note from the program outlined that the Elks had practically solved the problem of the physical rehabilitation of the cripples, but however we fully realized the need of finding all the problems of crippled children, and of determining a method by which the public and private groups could work together for an ultimate solution of the problem. We also recognized the need of rounding out such defects in existing legislation as would enable each community to more effectively carry out its program, furthermore the need for education, vocational guidance and training of the cripples to the point of employability. With this thought in mind we recommended that a law be enacted creating a crippled children's commission with all interested organizations as members thereof, such as the Elks, Rotary, Shrine, Kiwanis, State Board of Health and one member each from the State Senate and Assembly.

In an endeavor to make a comprehensive survey so as to definitely ascertain the number and condition of crippled children, we secured the cooperation of the public, parochial, and private schools, fraternal, civic clubs or organizations, churches, theaters, industrial insurance companies and many other agencies.

This survey disclosed over 10,000 cripples between the ages of 7 1/2 and 18 years, or approximately 1/24 to each one thousand of the population in this age group. All those disclosed over the age of 18 were referred to the adult rehabilitation commission.

With the thought in mind of determining a definite program for the ultimate care, education, vocational guidance and training of the over 10,000 cripples located—a general meeting of all the crippled children committees was held with the following result—each one of the 55 committees agreed to engage a registered nurse or experienced welfare worker (I might incidentally say that over one-half of them already had one in their employ). A preliminary activity sheet was prepared and it was agreed that each case be visited personally so as to ascertain the following facts:

In need of examination or re-examination.
Of school age and not attending.
In need of vocational guidance and training.
Mentally deficient but crippled so badly that they require institutional care.
Classed in the hopelessly helpless class; not mentally deficient but requiring institutional care.

Over 7,000 cases have already been visited and the preliminary activity sheets in connection therewith have been tabulated with the astonishing results that very few were located that had not at one time or another received or been offered treatment. I rather think this proves conclusively the wonderful results we have already accomplished in connection with the physical rehabilitation, furthermore it justified the statement that there should not be a crippled child in the State of New Jersey in need of care and attention not receiving it.

In connection with the above a definite program is under way.

Of course to successfully carry out a program of this character it was necessary to have legislation enacted, we therefore sponsored the several measures which were successfully passed.

The completion of our comprehensive plan for crippled children cannot be accomplished in a day, month or year. It is a gigantic problem which we eventually hope to solve. While the program is in progress for the ultimate care, education, vocational guidance and training of cripples in need thereof, we have inaugurated a campaign of education whereby the merchants and manufacturers are being shown their responsibility in connection with the employment of a certain number of cripples after they have been physically rehabilitated to the point of employability.

In carrying this program to a successful conclusion we do not hesitate to say that we are of the opinion that we have one of the most comprehensive programs for the ultimate care and relief of cripples ever inaugurated by any state.

In our work for crippled children let us ever keep it warm and human, let us remember that only kindly circumstance had made us healthy and whole, and as we look upon these deformed and afflicted ones let us say to ourselves—there but for the Grace of God go I.
