Mix Coming in New Play Tonight

Tom Mix, greatest of all western heroes, never rode to greater popularity in a picture than in "Outlawed," his newest vehicle, in which he will appear tonight at El Patio, open air theatre. This is a brand new picture, and Manager Street yesterday expressed great joy at having secured it for Las Vegas. Mickey McGuire will be shown in an RKO comedy, in addition to the feature picture.
The much-talked-of picture "State Street Sadie," a Warner Brothers special, will be presented Friday and Saturday.

Clemenceau's Health Suddenly Failing

PARIS, Sept. 4. (U.P.)—The health of Georges Clemenceau, war-time premier of France, became suddenly worse tonight.
His Paris physician, who had been attending Clemenceau, was summoned to the aged statesman's retreat at Benzece. The physician left hurriedly.
Clemenceau recently suffered a slight illness and his physician ordered him to take a complete rest. He is in his eighty-eighth year, but his health has been comparatively good until recently.
It is said that a machine with the cooling value of 350,000 pounds of ice will be used to keep the Senate cool. But we doubt whether it will work when the sugar schedule comes up for discussion.

President Gray Approves Site

Union Pacific Will Join With City In Conveying to Government Federal Building Site.

Walter R. Bracken has received from President Carl R. Gray of the Union Pacific, the announcement that the company will join with the city of Las Vegas in conveying to the government the proposed site in the City Park tract for a federal building.
President Gray's assurance carries with it the approval of the site as suitable for the purpose of a federal building. The entire matter in all its details was placed before Mr. Gray by Mr. Bracken, and the decision to approve Mr. Bracken's tentative tender of the site in connection with the city was promptly made.
Mr. Gray is well acquainted with Las Vegas and his approval of the City Park site practically assures its acceptance by the government and the early construction of a building to house the governmental activities in this city.

A verdict of death resulting from injuries sustained in an automobile accident caused by slippery road was rendered yesterday by a coroner's jury consisting of Glen Wait, Adam Kramer and Dan Jacomini.
Shrigley was 36 years old, and is survived by a father, who lives in Miami, two brothers and two sisters. One of the sisters, Mrs. M. L. Woolery, came to this city to arrange for shipment of the body from the Las Vegas Funeral Home.

Two huge oil paintings, one of the Boulder Dam site, are being produced at the Union Cafe by F. W. Wolverton, local artist.
The Boulder picture will be six by eight feet, on the left wall of the interior near the entrance. An actual photo of the canyon will be flashed on the wall with a projector, and the reproduction therefore made accurately, he states.
The other picture, 7 by 21 feet, will depict snow-capped mountains leading down to a deep ravine with log cabin and deer in the foreground.

Players Well-Liked In 'Lion and Mouse,' Shown at El Patio

Seddy Roach, as the grumpy, money-mad old capitalist and father, Miss Donna Vickroy as the daughter of his hated political enemy, and only living person ever to defeat the old autocrat, and Theron Orr, as the handsome son of the old man, all won their audience at El Patio Tuesday night, in the Colonial Players' presentation of "The Lion and the Mouse."

Mr. Roach, seasoned actor and master of stage technique, fairly lived for his audience the part of the old financier whose soul had been shriveled in his greed for money and mastery, getting many a laugh with his irritation and cigar-biting when the daughter of his enemy, loved by his son, told him bluntly what was wrong with him.
Miss Vickroy, as the daughter who intrigued her way into both the old man's employ and into his heart without his knowing who she was, wrapped him around her finger with her cleverness and wit, made him like her by scathingly denouncing him as no one else had ever dared to do, so that later he succumbed completely to her desire and even "compelled" her to marry his son, whose marriage to her he had so bitterly opposed before.
Miss Vickroy was a charming heroine.

Mr. Orr was convincing in his role of trunk-carrier for his lady love, to whom he would be married despite his father's opposition and her unselfish declination.
The players presented a rollicking comedy, "The Man From Golden Valley," yesterday evening.
