Your Iceman Says:

"Lady, I've been delivering ice for six years now and I've never had anyone complain about short weight. What's more, every ounce of the thousands of tons I've delivered was pure, frozen distilled water."

Just ask me for an ice card. It's your badge of summer coolness"

John Prescott Back To Military Academy

Midshipman John Prescott passed through Vegas last Friday night on his return to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis after a short vacation spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Prescott of Los Angeles.

The young man, who is now entering his third year at the academy, stands seventh in a class of 480. The class originally numbered 601, but the rigid weeding out process at Annapolis has reduced it to the present number.

B. M. Prescott, father of the young midshipman, is traveling service agent for the Union Pacific and is well known in Vegas. He naturally is proud of the fine record his son is making.

NEBRASKA CITY TENANT OF TWO-HEADED SNAKE

McCOOK, Neb., Sept. 23.—One can go to almost any county fair and see a two-headed calf or a two-headed snake.

The reptile is about eight inches long, perfectly normal in its actions and to the casual onlooker, just twice as dangerous as an ordinary snake. The heads are about an inch long. When the snake decides to move across a room, it rests one head on the other and wriggles along in snappy style.

PRISONER FINDS DISHONESTY AMONG HIS JAIL MATE

ST. CLAIREVILLE, O., Sept. 23. (U.P.)—Mike Russell, 30, Wheeling, W. Va., in jail here charged with interfering with an officer, learned that the hoosegow is no place to carry money—at least not $900 in bills.

When jailed Russell neglected to turn over his valuables to Jailer McConaughy. After spending a half hour at the mercy of "bull pen" prisoners, he announced that his roll, consisting of one $500 bill and four $100 bills, had disappeared.

Search of the 70 prisoners, and the bed clothing in the "bull pen" brought no trace of the money.

The Most Important

Part of a Tire is—the part you can't see!

IT IS HARD to understand why one tire is better than another, judging by looks or the first thousands of miles of service.

But after you've thumped and hammered your tires for months, the hidden part of a tire—the most important factor in determining life and mileage—then reveals its worth. It is the body, concealed under the tread, and composed of piles of cord fabric. This body absorbs the blows a tire gets. It bends millions of times, under the car's weight, to cushion your riding.

The cords, to do this, must be elastic. How many times they will flex and recover, or how far they will stretch without breaking, determines their usefulness.

In repairing all makes of tires we find that the patented cords used only in Goodyear casings outlast any other kind. By a patented process these cords—called SUPER-TWIST—are twisted so that they will stretch up to 60 per cent farther before breaking. They also stretch and recover repeatedly, after the best competitive cords are lifeless.

This greater elasticity of SUPER-TWIST explains (1) the longer life of Goodyear tires—their greater resistance to injury, and (2) the fact that the average well-worn Goodyear is worth retreading when another tire similarly used is broken down in the body.
