California River Commission Met

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—The Colorado River Commission failed to make any definite steps over the division of water from the Boulder Dam project in a meeting here today.

The discussion was informal, according to W. J. Mathews, attorney for the Los Angeles Water and Power Bureau. Mathews said another meeting will be held in about three weeks and will be either in Los Angeles or in Phoenix.

Senate to Start Lobbyist Quiz

By PAUL R. MALLON United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—A senatorial inquiry into the activities of lobbyists in Washington including the so-called "social lobby" will be undertaken next week by the Senate judiciary committee.

It promises to lay bare the inside of affairs in Washington to a degree not witnessed since the famous Teapot Dome revelations.

Under direction of the Caraway resolution adopted unanimously in the Senate late yesterday, Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee announced he would call a meeting of his committee as soon as possible to lay plans for opening the investigation.

Because of the widespread charges concerning the maintenance of tariff lobbies, the committee probably will go into that matter first, judiciary committee members construe the resolution as calling for a full inquiry, not only into the objectionable lobbies, but also the legislative agencies maintained here by peace societies, farm organizations, radio interests, railroads, chambers of commerce and those representing both sides of the prohibition issue.

How the committee will get into the social lobby is problematical. It is only a vague unorganized group of men and women in society who are supposed to influence votes in congress and promotions in the government service by social favors or snubs.

Norris will ask his committee to decide whether a sub-committee should conduct the inquiry. Any sub-committee probably will include Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, most widely known of the Senate investigators who disclosed the Teapot Dome oil scandal.

Get New Evidence In Rodeo Robbery

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—That the $2000 bank robbery at Rodeo was not the work of Jake Fleagle or any of the known men of his gang was indicated today when fingerprints found on the automobile abandoned by the bandits failed to correspond with those of Fleagle or his associates.

The comparison of the prints was made by Charles S. Morrill, Chief of the state bureau of criminal investigation.

NEWS BRIEFS

SUNNYVALE, Calif., Oct. 2 (U.P.)—An autopsy performed today on the body of Mrs. Yngvica Banduciel, 38, revealed that the woman, mother of four children, died from a gunshot wound, and not, as was first supposed, from heart failure.

This discovery, made by Dr. Tolbert Watson, will probably lead to an investigation to determine whether the woman was murdered, according to Chief of Police Otero Carlson.

Mrs. Branduciel was found dead at her home yesterday by two of her children when they came home from work. A hasty examination gave rise to the supposition that she had succumbed to a heart attack, but a bullet wound in the head was disclosed by a more thorough examination today.

With the woman at the time of too young to throw any light on the affair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—Alfred Hertz, world renowned orchestra leader and for 14 years conductor of the San Francisco symphony orchestra, will resign his post at the close of the current season, it was announced today.

Hertz' resignation, to be effective April 30, 1930, was received by J. B. Levinson, president of the music association of San Francisco.

Reasons for resigning were not definitely stated in the letter, but it is believed that the conductor has observed a waning interest in the concert's here, for the letter expressed the hope that a change of leadership might revive public interest.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—A new trans-Pacific speed record has been established today by the Matson Navigation Company's liner Malolo, which brought a goodwill mission from Pacific Coast cities of the United States.

The liner made the trip from San Francisco to Yokohama in 10 days, 7 hours, breaking the record formerly held by the Korea Maru, of 11 days.

The record established by the Malolo is for the San Francisco-Yokohama route, which is 4,700 miles.

SEWARD, Alaska, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—Four or five bandits held up the First National Bank at 9:15 a. m. today here and escaped with $2,400 in cash and bonds of an unknown value.

Four employees of the bank were commanded to lie down on the floor as three of the men ransacked the bank for valuables soon after the institution opened for business.

CANTON, O., Oct. 2 (U.P.)—One-eyed Connolly, the world champion gate crasher, is hiding today on his way to Chicago—probably in some millionaire's sedan—to attend the opening game of the world series. With him goes opinion that Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics will win—and how.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Oct. 2, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and party landed here at 11:35 a. m., took on fuel and hopped off again at 11:50 a. m. on their way from Cristobal, Canal Zone, to Mahagua, Nicaragua.
