

Rev. Goben Will Continue in His Attempt to Lessen Power of Aimee

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9. (AP) The Rev. John Goben may have been discharged as assistant pastor at Angelus Temple by Aimee Semple McPherson, but he intends to carry on his plans to take away her "one woman" control of the institution, he said today.

Keith, Robertson File for Divorces

Two divorce suits were filed early this week. Samuel Keith Davis filed for divorce from Ethel R. Davis, to whom he was married in Clearfield, Pa., in 1922. Cruelty is the ground for the suit, and Richard Busted is attorney for Davis.

Mrs. McPherson may have tried to call off the meeting after discharging me, but she was too late, because they were on their way," he said. "If we can't meet in the church, we will meet outside, but the meeting shall be held. I shall do nothing about my discharge until then."

William Mullen Boyce, 4; and Camille Davis, 2. Davis alleges his spouse kicked and struck him, and threatened to leave him and the children. She also tried to poison the minds of the children against him, telling them their "father was a bad man," he alleges.

Julian Company In Court Again

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9. (AP) The Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse which brought heavy losses to local investors who purchased 5,000,000 shares of issued stock, was back in the courts again today with the filing of a $12,000,000 civil suit by certain stockholders.

The more than 30 defendants, including Jacob Berman, A. G. Wagay and the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, are accused of either knowingly or unknowingly conspiring to permit sale of the unauthorized surplus stock and ask that an accounting of all deals be given.

Arthur M. Loeb and co-plaintiffs ask that the defendants be required to return any financial profits from the sale of the illegal shares, pointing out that some individuals and firms, not included among the defendants, have made restitution.

The plaintiffs are stockholders in the Sunset Pacific Oil Company, reorganized Julian corporation. The Julian company had paying wells and without oversight could have operated successfully.

2D INSTALMENT DEATH MYSTERY

(Continued From Page One) He had seen, lying on the floor in a pool of blood, the body of two deer, and a man with a butcher knife was dressing one of them. "Another good story shot to thunder," remarked one of the Age staff as the posse re-embarked to leave.

GRADUATE STUDENT AT 19 COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 9. (AP) At 19 an age when most students are hardly half way through their undergraduate course, Gertrude Stein, Springfield, has been admitted to the graduate school at Ohio State University. Miss Stein is also an organist and a vocal soloist.

Emphasizing The Feminine Touch

The evening gown, suggestive of an older day, is of taffeta in a tulip pattern with scalloped peplum and hemline. Black felt hat became velvet form the smart hat (upper right) which lets its front brim become a part of the simple trimming scheme. At lower right is a type of half veil now considered chic.

Fall Trial Halted Because of Illness

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP) The trial of former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall on bribery charges came to a temporary halt here today when the aged plainman was reported too ill by his personal physician to appear in court. Justice William Hitz immediately named Dr. Stirling Ruffin, prominent physician, to examine Fall in his hotel and report his condition. The former cabinet official was taken from the courtroom yesterday after a coughing spasm. He is suffering from lung trouble.

HOLLYWOOD'S FILM SHOP

By GEORGE H. BEALE United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9. (AP) Dorothy Mackall, the only English-born girl now starring in American-made motion pictures, has a charming way of referring to herself in the third person.

In the course of direct conversation she must, of course, slip in an "I" here and there, but in narrative she always uses the impersonal "Mackall."

She attributes her rise to stardom in films to the fact that she can be photographed from any angle and she describes the incident like this:

"The real truth is that Mackall can be shot from any position. It's not that Mackall is beautiful — far from that — but Mackall looks just as good from one angle as from another."

A lot of these real beautiful girls have some profile that just won't register well. They may look fine in the natural, but a camera won't pick them up from every point.

"That means directors, cameramen and all the rest have to spend a lot of time shooting from the correct angles. With Mackall they just stick her out there and start cranking."

"All of which means that Mackall gets along well with the directors and which leads to a lot of good pictures for Mackall."

Miss Mackall really has "IT" which probably explains her camera perfection.

She is not as good looking as half
