VEGAS WILL CELEBRATE PEACE DAY

Salute to Be Fired By Legionnaires at 11 A. M. Monday Will Climax Ceremony

As a fitting tribute to the boys who fought and died for America in the World War a salute fired at 11 a.m. Monday by members of the American Legion will climax Las Vegas' Armistice Day program. This will be followed by a brief but impressive ceremony at Second and Fremont, it has been announced. A parade of Legionnaires will precede the salute and ceremony, and it is urged by city officials and members of the ex-service men's organization alike that Las Vegas turn out en masse to celebrate the eleventh anniversary of the coming of peace and to reverence the memories of the heroes who gave their lives in the war. Consistent with proclamations of the governor and Mayor Hesse, and to help make the Armistice Day ceremonies the more impressive, it has been agreed by local merchants that business will be closed up between the hours of 10:30 and 3. Virtually all merchants have expressed the intention of remaining closed either all day or during these hours, according to W. J. Flowers, of the Las Vegas Credit Bureau.

Did Their Hearts Grow Cold? Or Was it Their Feet?

Last: One pair of marriage license seekers! Were they kidnaped? Or did they have a change of heart? It was rather late last evening that a couple from California called up Mrs. Keeler, deputy county clerk, requesting opportunity to secure a marriage license. Mr. and Mrs. Keeler hurried over to the court house and waited—and waited. And waited some more. And after half an hour, they looked around some more, discovering a car with a California license, at the curb in front of the court house. But no occupants. And they waited another quarter of an hour. Still no young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Keeler then went home. "Maybe they got cold feet," the Age office hair-wit rose to mark, when told of the incident.

Vegas Boys In Nev.-U.S.C. Go

Four From This City Leave For Los Angeles to See Neil Scott, Kendall Nungesser in Grid Game.

Two former Las Vegas athletes, Neil Scott and Kendall Nungesser, will participate in the Nevada-U. S. C. football game in Los Angeles today. Scott was one of the shining lights among the University of Nevada's athletes last year, and this year he has been playing guard with the Wolf pack. Kendall Nungesser, who graduated from Las Vegas high school last year, has been one of the subs for the Nevada team this year. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Nungesser, planned to leave yesterday for Los Angeles to see this game. Miss Eva Adams and Miss Martin, of the Las Vegas school faculty, also planned to go last evening to Los Angeles to witness the game. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8 (P)—Making the trip from Reno, a mere jaunt of a few hours, University of Nevada gridsters, thirty-two strong, arrived in nine airplanes shortly after noon today and went through final paces at Bovard field in anticipation of their clash tomorrow with the University of Southern California Trojans at Coliseum tomorrow. Coach Howard Jones also gave his squad a brief workout. Coach George Philbrook brings none too impressive a squad and the Trojan reserves are expected to do most of the work.

Illness Brings Mrs. Pantages Probation Term

Woman Convicted in Death of Rokumoto Pays Widow, And Children of Japanese $78,000 Settlement.

Mrs. Lois Pantages, broken in health since her manslaughter conviction for the death of Juro Rokumoto in an automobile collision, was granted the maximum probation of 10 years by Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy late today. Under the terms of the ruling, the multi-millionaire theatrical man's wife forfeited her driver's license indefinitely and never may drink intoxicating liquor. In granting probation, Judge Carlos Hardy commented: "If this woman were in good health I would not hesitate to send her to jail. But I feel that incarceration at this time would be nothing less than a death sentence." A settlement whereby Rokumoto's widow and children received $78,000 was announced by the Japanese woman's attorney. The court made the settlement official by ordering that it be paid. The Rokumotos have seven children. "If the defendant were a poor woman all this hue and cry about probation for her never would have occurred," Judge Hardy said. "I do not see why she should be penalized because she happens to have a little money." District Attorney Byron Pitts made no objection to granting of probation. My assistants obtained a conviction and did all in their power," he declared. "I am content to leave the matter of punishment entirely to the court."

Fernandez Defeats Whitlow in Battle

PHOENIX, Nov. 8. (UP) Ignacio Fernandez, Los Angeles featherweight, cut Allen Whitlow, of Superior, Arizona, with ribbons tonight in a ten-round decision. Fernandez out-pointed Whitlow in eight rounds and had him out on his feet in the later rounds. LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 8. (UP) Rumors that General Motors and Chrysler motors are considering construction of branch plants in Southern California gained strength here today when Councilmen Frank Church and George Ward, of the harbor committee, announced that both companies were giving serious consideration to land sites north-east of here. The Trojan reserves are expected to do most of the work.

Armistice Day

Armistice Day is one holiday which appeals to the people of all the world. Fourth of July, Washington's Birthday, Thanksgiving—most of our holidays commemorate events for the most part National in character. But Armistice Day appeals to the entire world. Eleven years ago the World War was perpetrating its unbelievable horrors. On November 11, 1918 at eleven o'clock a.m., the guns ceased firing and hope for peace returned to the human heart. In the eleven years which have elapsed since then the world has been partly reconstructed; graves have been hidden beneath the green; wounds have healed and the burdens of life have appreciably lightened. But there remains yet a gigantic task for the Veterans of the American Legion to finish. Thousands of their fellows are still suffering from the effects of their terrible experiences, broken in fortune and in health. As the American Legion boys offered their all for us, let us who are beneficiaries of their sacrifices give them encouragement and assistance in their task of aiding their sick and wounded comrades. And let us commemorate Armistice Day with all thankfulness and reverence.

California Team To Help Install V.F.W. Officers

Official Launching of Fred S. Pennington Post Here Tonight Will Be Notable Function, Promise.

Installation tonight of the officers of the Fred S. Pennington post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be made impressive by the presence of Department Commander Charles Hildebrand of the California-Nevada district, who will bring a degree team with him from Pasadena. More than 42 who are members and who plan to become members of the local post are expected to participate in the ceremony, which will be held at Eagles' Hall at 8:30 tonight. The ceremony will honor "our late comrade Fred S. Pennington," according to the invitation extended members. "The battle of the S O S will be fought all over again. Be present," it concludes. A trip to the dam site and other entertainment will be extended the California visitors Sunday. Several dozens of men are expected to make the trip from various California posts for the installation.

GOV. J. C. PHILLIPS TELLS WILBUR ALLOCATION NOT CONSISTENT WITH BILL

Reasons For Arizona's Withdrawal From Tri-State Negotiations Told On Eve of Conference For Discussion of Boulder Dam Water Power Division In Message to Secretary

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 8. (P) Gov. John C. Phillips telegraphed Secretary of the Interior Wilbur today telling him Arizona's reason for withdrawing from further conferences with California and Nevada on allocation of Colorado river water and Boulder Dam power. The governor charged that the proposed development of the Colorado river takes into consideration only the interests of the federal government and the State of California. The secretary was in answer to a communication which advised the Arizona executive of the power allocations decided upon recently in Washington. Governor Phillips said in his telegram that Arizona always had denied the validity of the Boulder Project Act, but hoped by compact with California and Nevada "to effect a division of waters of the Colorado and other benefits and establish an interpretation of the act so as to enable Arizona to accept it." Declaring the act recognized Arizona's right to compensation from the project, the telegram to Secretary Wilbur said: "Your proposed charge of 25 cents per acre foot for water and the basis on which you propose to sell power seem to nullify the expressed intent of congress that the project be operated, if possible, so as to provide substantial revenues for Arizona and Nevada. Nevada's delegation of U. S. senators and representatives and Colorado River commissioners will keep Las Vegas informed momentarily of the progress of the power meeting in close touch, he stated. After Monday's meeting in Carson, State Engineer Malone left for Washington, and is expected to arrive there Monday. No statements as to Nevada's attitude were given out to the press after the meeting in Carson City, Mr. Clark stated yesterday.

Light Festival Plans Pushed To Be Opened November 22

Plans for the light festival to be staged on the eve of turning on of the new ornamental lights are being pushed by merchants who, with the Age, will stage an evening of jollification, probably on Friday next, at which time it is expected the new system will be ready for use. As announced originally in Thursday's issue of the Age, there will be a treasure hunt, stores being kept open and prizes being offered for the best "hunters" all up and down Fremont. As soon as it is known definitely whether the lights will be ready Friday complete plans for the "party" will be announced in the Age. Charlie Williams plans to drive to Baker, California, today to complete arrangements for a distribution of Quaker Oats in one of the service stations in that community.

Wildcats Lose Game In Last Minute Intercepted Pass Gives Ely Grid Victory

A touchdown by an intercepted pass in the last minute of play and neither side had scored during the game. Score 6 to 0. And then came the one bad break that lost Vegas the game! One of the Wildcats made a pass and an Ely player intercepted it. That was not so bad, but when he ran seventy-five yards to score a touchdown for the White Pine team, making the score 6 to 0. Well, the boys will have their opportunity to vindicate themselves when Ely journeys here to play the Wildcats. The local boys are expected back in Vegas today, and they will begin "rolling up their sleeves" immediately for their game Tuesday with Panaca. A peculiar completion is cast upon the Southern Nevada "conference" by the defeat of Las Vegas by Ely. For there is now an overlapping triangle between these two teams and Panaca's. Panaca defeated Ely recently and Las Vegas has defeated Panaca. This, according to the dopsters, would have indicated that Ely would fall before Las Vegas. Thus, however, do the "breaks" of the game sometimes upset the dope. It was commented by local fans.

Still Bingham Greets Norris!

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (UP) When Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, who was struck by an automobile at a street crossing yesterday, entered the senate chamber today, the first person to greet and inquire about his condition was Senator Hiram Bingham, Republican, Connecticut. Norris led the fight which resulted in the senate's censure of Bingham a few days ago for employment of a private tariff agent in committee sessions. Norris apparently had recovered from his minor injuries he received in the accident.

Young Woman Goes 'Snipe Hunting' Visitor Sits Out On Desert 'Holding Sack' Then She Tries Hunting 'Sand Lice'

Dear Editor and Friends: Folks, you've all heard the Desert Song, and understand its strong appeal and sentiments. Especially it is dear to us persons who have the good fortune to live in it. Well, a young lady from down Long Beach way that happens to be visiting at a nearby ranch felt the call of the desert a couple of nights ago at a party given in her honor. So a hunting she must go and hunting she did go—for snipes After she had communed with nature or herself or the snipes or whatever it is you do when you sit desert up sack out in the desert, the guests decided to go out and see how she fared. Some new arrivals had put in appearance while said young lady played peck-a-boo with the snipes and as the new guests had never met her they decided to go out into the desert and see this weird person that must a sniping go, in action. It seems that the refreshments at the party were all that refreshments could be and some conversation had ensued regarding the possible dire results should anyone of an official capacity happen in. So, to get on with the story—arriving at the scene of or nucleus of the snip hunt they found this litan haired beauty crouched in the mesquite solemnly watching the bag. Upon being hailed from the car by one of the new guests in some such manner, "Hello, young lady what do you think you are doing?" She immediately decided it must be one of those officers she had heard disussed and cried out: "Oh please sir, I'm a good girl and nothing like this ever happened to me before. (Whether she meant sniping or not is not known.) The guest, thinking maybe the desert by a proper up sack out in the desert, the guests decided to go out and see how she fared. Upon being hailed from the car by one of the new guests in some such manner, "Hello, young lady what do you think you are doing?" She immediately decided it must be one of those officers she had heard disussed and cried out: "Oh please sir, I'm a good girl and nothing like this ever happened to me before. (Whether she meant sniping or not is not known.) The guest, thinking maybe the desert by a proper up sack out in the desert, the guests decided to go out and see how she fared. Some new arrivals had put in appearance while said young lady played peck-a-boo with the snipes and as the new guests had never met her they decided to go out into the desert and see this weird person that must a sniping go, in action. It seems that the refreshments at the party were all that refreshments could be and some conversation had ensued regarding the possible dire results should anyone of an official capacity happen in. So, to get on with the story—arriving at the scene of or nucleus of the snip hunt they found this litan haired beauty crouched in the mesquite solemnly watching the bag.
