Episcopalians Give Christmas Pageant Adapted by Nevanan

"The Nativity of Jesus Christ," a beautiful and meaningful pageant, was presented Thursday evening by members of the Episcopal church, under direction of the Rev. Arthur S. Kean.

Adapted by Rosamond Kimball, of Nevada, the pageant was featured by the shining of a special light out of the manger onto the faces of Joseph and Mary.

The acting of the youthful participants drew praise from pastor and congregation.

The cast was as follows: Miss Carmen Harvey, Miss Shirley Ferron, Miss Barbara Ferron, Miss Beulah Cline, Miss Elaine Cline, Master Billy Dennett, Miss Joyce Hammond, Miss Louise Thompson, Miss Mary Dennett, Miss Mariot Cahlan, Miss Catherine Lois Knudson, Master Leland Harvey, Master Francis Horsey and Master George W. Phillips.

Pre-Inventory Sale Is Planned by Roth

A big pre-inventory sale is being planned by Leo Roth of the Las Vegas Mercantile Co. The sale starts January 1, for disposition of part of the stock moved from the Egan furniture store, and some of his own stock.

"We'll have a display the like of which Las Vegas has never seen before, in regard to quality and price. We will make the greatest offers in the history of our business."

Mrs. J. M. Heaton as organist and Mrs. A. W. Ham as dramatist assisted.

Mrs. Thompson was chairman of the committee, and was assisted by Mrs. Herman Rich, Mrs. N. A. Harvey, Mrs. Arthur Kean, Mrs. McCann, Mrs. George Day and Mrs. H. O. Johnson. Herman Rich contributed carpenter work, Mrs. Bihlmaier poinsettias, and Mr. Simon hardware. Leo Roth furnished gifts at cost. J. T. McWilliams furnished tree and greens.
