

Paris Finds Lure of Untailored Suits Too Strong to Resist, Even in Winter

By BARBARA BEAUFORT (Associated Press Fashion Editor) PARIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—"Suited to the occasion" is the catchword of Paris costumes these days, for suits are seen everywhere for daytime wear.

Time was when Paris wore suits only in the spring and fall, but times have changed. The smartest women are lunching and teaing at the Ritz and shopping on the Rue de la Paix these days in suits.

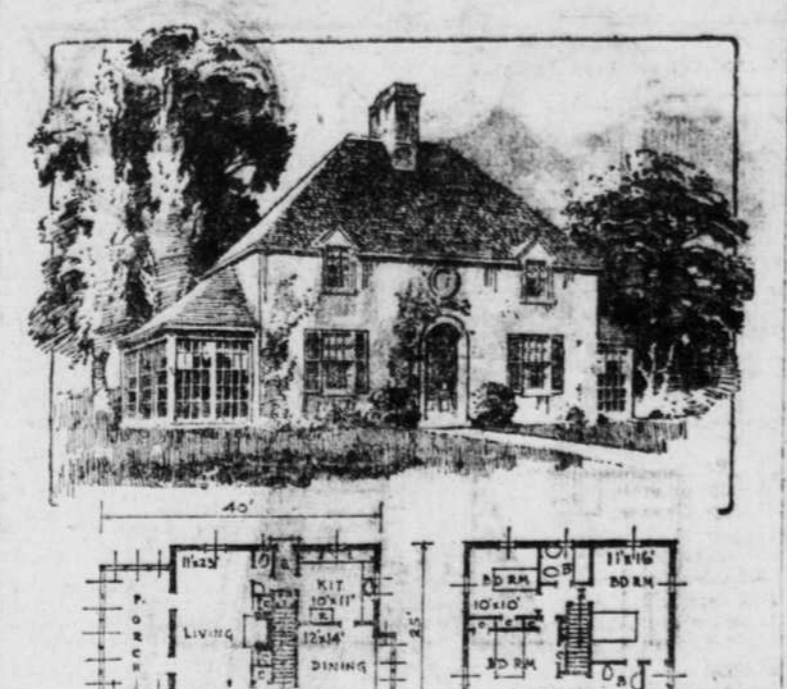

They are not the strictly tailored variety, but revers instead of the dressmaker type with intricate tuckings, seamings and incrustations on both jacket and skirt, giving a dressier effect than was ever achieved by the tailor.

Materials are dark spongy woolsens or velvets; collars and cuffs are lavishly trimmed with fur. Most of the skirts are gently flared, while jackets vary in length from the hip-length variety with a flared peplum to coats reaching almost to the skirt hem. Blouses offer a wide choice. For shopping there are gay or sombre knitted affairs with V-necks, round necks and tricky fitted collars. For luncheon and tea, crisp satin blouses in light shades (ivory, turquoise and beige) are favorites. Sometimes they are tucked into the skirt at the waist, but when the suit coat is very long they are worn as tunics only a few inches shorter than the skirt hem.

Lingerie blouses in pastel shades trimmed with hand tuckings and eyelet embroideries already are giving a summery tone to suit ensembles. So important is the jacket ensemble idea that two-piece dresses with belted blouses or jumpers have leaped into popularity for mid-season wear. And that, say Parisian stylists, points the way to great popularity for suits and suit-dresses this spring.

FRENCH-INSPIRED HOUSE IS SUITED TO SUBURBAN NEEDS

This model house, French in its inspiration, is easily built and quite compact in plan. Particularly adapted to residential lots near the larger cities, it fits the needs and pocketbook of the suburbanite and provides a house of style and convenience.

A large living room and sun porch combination gives the family more than the usual living space, while a compact kitchen and an ample dining room with a large bay give unusual room and light for meal time. There is a lavatory convenient to living room and kitchen. A wood closet and a magazine closet, each with a seat attached so as to fall in front when closed, are features, making the area around the fire place more livable. Walls are of coral-colored stucco. Although a light buff may be preferred, window trim is painted white and the blinds a dark blue green. Shingles may be used for the roof, although slate is more suited to the design and flat tile has interesting possibilities.

SOCIETY

One of the enjoyable social events of the season was given Thursday evening by Mrs. John P. Norton, when she entertained members of the L. A. to the B. of L. P. and E. in honor of Mrs. Gordon Carmichael. Bridge and cootle were played during the evening, after which a delicious supper was served.

Mrs. Harry Paulus, Mrs. Van Santonog and Mrs. Richard McEvoy won the prizes at bridge, while Mrs. Walter N. Homan and Mrs. Ida Taylor received the prizes for high score in cootle.

Mrs. Carmichael was presented with a lovely gift from the members as a token of their appreciation. These present were Mesdames Gordon Carmichael, Van Santonog, R. Knox, B. V. Smith, Harry Paulus, Lela Healey, Della Howarter, Walter N. Homan, Ida Taylor, Wallie Rhoads, Florence McClintock, H. O. Johnson, Richard McEvoy and the hostess, Mrs. Norton.

Youth Travels For Knowledge

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—In a day of standardized living, the wanderlust that has sent youth to new cities, new countries, new oceans, has taken a new outlet; figures gathered by United States office of education reveal.

Young men and women, seeking an education, migrate yearly from one state to another, the figures show. During 1928, for example, 23,712 students left their home states to attend state universities elsewhere.

The survey covered 52 institutions partly financed by the federal government. Endowed institutions were not included. It was found that 2,063 young men and women left Illinois for schools in other states, while 2,847 students from other states migrated to schools in Wisconsin; New York lost 1,444; Pennsylvania, 1,317; California, 1,153; while Illinois gained 2,060; New York, 2,013; Minnesota, 1,902; and Massachusetts, 1,363. Other states gained and lost in smaller numbers.

The study also showed a heavy migration by foreign students into the United States. In 1928, 43 schools receiving federal aid had a total of 1,429 foreigners. Canada and China, each with 316 students, led the list of 68 nations represented. Mexico had 83; Japan, 75; India, 70; Russia, 51; Union of South Africa, 47; England, 38; Germany, 33.

Pseudo-Negro Crimes Blamed

ATLANTA, Jan. 23. (AP)—Under the caption, "Burnt Cork and Crime," a commission on inter-racial co-operation, Atlanta, has issued a pamphlet analyzing numerous crimes wherein the criminal was disguised as a negro.

"For years such incidents have come to light," the pamphlet said. "The 'burnt cork' of negroes, like the use of burnt cork, is going to be rather common, too," it said, describing several instances, notably the Carver murder case at Sebring, Fla. last year, in which a white man was convicted of killing his wife and child and a negro houseboy after first blaming it all on the negro.

"One need not prolong this recital, nor tag a moral to it," the pamphlet said in conclusion. "Certainly it does not mean that negroes do not commit crimes. Unfortunately they do—sometimes heinous crimes. No racial group has a monopoly in this field. Nor does it suggest that negro criminals should be allowed to escape the punishment of their misdeeds. On the contrary, punishment should be made a great deal more prompt and inevitable than it is, irrespective of race.

"The meaning is obvious, however, as it relates to hasty judgment, hysteria, mob violence, and the assumption that every negro is guilty whom anybody seeks to accuse. It suggests also that the statistics of negro crime, now happily changing for the better, might be further lightened if all the facts were known and the mask of color torn away."

Turquoise Gadgets New Paris Fad

PARIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—Turquoise has become such a Parisian rage that it is almost a sartorial necessity. Turquoise beads, rough and smooth rings cut from a solid piece of turquoise; turquoise clocks and smelling salts bottles; even turquoise buttons on gloves are some of the latest gadgets to which the blue-green stone has been converted. The color itself is such a rage that it is used in dull crepe to trim black and dark brown frocks.

YOUR BRAIN and YOUR HEALTH

By DR. LELAND B. ALFORD THYROID DEFICIENCY

The secretion of the thyroid gland is the substance which fans the little fire switch which is the life of our tissues. Too much secretion causes the tissues to live too fast as occurs in goitre and too little secretion results in sluggish tissues. A deficiency of thyroid secretion occurs both in children and adults. The condition is probably rare although in a mild form it may be a good deal more common than is known. Great skill is necessary to reach a diagnosis in the mild cases.

The symptoms are physical and mental sluggishness. The sufferer is smaller than he should be, is inclined to stoutness and has a puffy face. The hair is dry and scanty and the skin is pale, thick and dry. The nails are brittle. Mentally it is noted that memory and attention are poor and thought is slow, although perhaps of good quality. There is little initiative or emotional display. Speech is slow and not very clear. In short there is a sluggish mind in a sluggish body.

In children the effects are more marked and also as growth is interfered with, more serious. The extreme cases are pitiful mental defects. In such cases an extract of the thyroid gland is given as treatment. It sometimes works wonders, but is often disappointing. The reason for its failure may be that it is not begun sufficiently early in the disorder. It requires a very well trained and incidentally well balanced specialist to recognize and treat this condition. This is another phase of medicine that will appear differently in the years to come.

Housewives' Recipes Model for Bakeries Evening Lingerie Is Silvery Blue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Recipes of housewives are widely used by bakery companies in making their products. So says L. J. Schumaker, chairman of the American Institute of Baking. The most popular loaves of bread, cakes and pies on the market owe their excellence to some wife or mother who wanted to share her knowledge with others, Schumaker says.

Spring Frocks Have Old Frills Air Law Violators Fined $3,090 in 1930

PARIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—Advance frocks for spring display silks patterned in small figures and designed with the frills that were seen in the gay nineties. One of the new models is made of silk patterned in tiny red, blue and white parallel bars laid close together. Simulated pleated frills, two on the skirt and one on the blouse, give the frock an old-fashioned "grandmother" effect. Violations of air commerce regulations totaled 844 during the year and $3,090 in fines were collected. In 1929 there were 523 violations and $4,755 collected. Low-flying and acrobatic aviators were the chief offenders.

Black Lace Jacket Smart in Capital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Black lace jackets, worn with black or colored gowns, are the smart thing here for informal Sunday night suppers or afternoon teas. Mrs. Edward Tracy Clark combines a black lace jacket with red taffeta gown. The short sleeves of the jacket are edged with black fur. The skirt of the dress is in puffed panther effect. A corsage bouquet, red slippers and pendant earrings of onyx and pearl complete this striking outfit. Dodges R-101 Disaster To Be Killed in Auto

WORSTEAD, Norfolk, Jan. 23. (AP)—Granville Watts, who declined an offer to be a member of the crew of the ill-fated R-101 which crashed in France, was killed here in an auto crash.

Watts was a member of the crew of the R-32 when it fell on Mount Ararat, was on the R-33 when it broke from its moorings and drifted for 20 hours and crossed the Atlantic in the R-100. He refused to make the R-101 flight because he was not satisfied with the ship's condition. Robert McElharg, 33, of Ridgeway, Ohio, has been in the grocery business 36 years.
