HUNT 'AUCTION BLOCK' WOMAN IN MILLS CASE

Complaints Expected Against Other Wealthy 'Clients'

LOS ANGELES, March 9 (U.R)— Widespread search was under way today for Olive Clark Day, asserted head of a "white slave ring", who dissapeared shortly after her release on bond from the county jail early Saturday, where she was held on two statutory charges. Allen S .Lund, her attorney, announced today he had requested the aid of police and the bonding company which signed her $5,000 release bond, in searching for his client. Lund expressed the belief she had met with foul play.

Shortly before Mrs. Day was released from jail, she conversed with Lund by telephone and told him she would join him in 10 minutes. She also gave him a telephone number where she could be located, but this was also false.

Mrs. Day was arrested with William Jobelmann theatrical publiciity man and John P. Mills, wealthy real estate dealer. Each of the trio faced two counts of statutory ofense preferred by the district attorney's office after a 16-year-old been taken to Mills' hotel room in the belief sine was to become an artists medel.

Complaints against a number of ohter wealthy men were expected to be issued today following a con ference between District Attorney Buron Fitts and Deputy Florence Woohead, who has been investi-gating a long list of asserted "cliof Mrs. Day and Jobelmann, found in their Hollywood home. The complaints will charge conto the delinquency of tributing minors, Fitts said. Mrs. Day assertedly confessed her conection with the ring to Fitts, while Jobelmann, who has declined bail refuses to talk other than to say he has made a complete statement to Fitts. Mills de-nied any connection with the af-
