FARMERS' APPETITE CUTS HEN PROFITS
RALEIGH, N. C., May 26. (AP)—North Carolina farmers are fond of fried chicken — in fact too fond of it, in some cases.
C. F. Parrish, extension poultry specialist at State college, has found that in many cases the frying pan is often detrimental to the best interests of the flock.
Vigorous young chickens, Parrish said, are very desirable for frying, while the smaller ones are not. He has found that the farmer's appetite causes him to pick the better birds for the table.

HUSBAND'S FAITH TRIUMPHS AS STAGE HAILS NEW PLAYER

Eugenie Leontovich, former Farina revue star, was scorned by Broadway until her husband's faith gave her a chance in a starring role. She helped to make "Grand Hotel" one of the year's hits.

NEW YORK, May 26. (AP)—The glamor of fame, delayed for five years, cannot now obscure the romance of Eugenie Leontovich and Gregory Ratoff. They went through too many hardships together.
Mlle. Leontovich was a noted dramatic actress in Moscow and a revue star in Paris, but that meant nothing to bias Broadway when she arrived here a little more than five years ago. She was married to Ratoff, an actor, and he began teaching her English.
The next five years were cruel ones for this woman who had been famous in her own country. The only jobs she could get were as a chorus girl in touring troupes, and there is hardly a one-night stand in this country when she did not play.

Ratoff was a little more fortunate in getting work because he could speak English. He had infinite faith in his wife as an actress, and as soon as he saved enough money he began the touring rights to a play for her.
She could now speak English and she left her "old" company musical show to become a star again in her husband's play in Chicago. The critics' reviews arrived in New York the next day and a half dozen managers went scurrying westward with contracts in their hands.

Mlle. Leontovich came to the Broadway which had spurned her for five years to give the outstanding performer of the year in "Grand Hotel."
At last, money and fame and luxuries were hers. There was only one disappointment about her triumph. Her husband was sent to Chicago to appear in a play.
They have remedied that somewhat. Every Saturday night after the final curtain, she boards a train westward. And in Chicago her husband boards a train eastward. They meet in Pittsburgh and spend the week-end there together.

TOM SHOWS WILL AGAIN TAKE ROAD
FRANKLIN, Ind., May 26. (AP)—After seventy-five years on the road, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was believed to have run itself out in 1930.
But Clarence Jackson, who has played the part of Simon Legree for forty-seven years, says he understands there will be three "Tom Shows" on the road in the United States this year, and maybe more.
Jackson has played his role of the brutal planter before audiences in nearly every section of the country. "I have beaten poor old Uncle Tom before every kind of audience, and they seem to hate it still, although they don't act as excited as they once did," he said.

SCREEN LIFE IN HOLLYWOOD

By HUBBARD KEAVY
HOLLYWOOD, May 26.—Clark Gable is somewhat like the traditional extra girl who said she could swim, dance, fly an airplane and jump off a train—and then learned how after she got the job.

Gable, too, was asked if he could ride a horse. He was told, was to be a western and it would be necessary for him to ride, and ride will.
Gable had heard that the best way to get along in Hollywood is to say "Yes." He set the job and then he got a horse.
It is probable that if the movies' newest and fastest-rising leading man had been truthful and said, "No, I hate horses and I'm afraid of them," he wouldn't now be playing a role of co-starring proportions opposite Greta Garbo.

Kitchens And Garrets Furnish Fabrics For Fashions Influenced By Economy

By BARBARA BEAUFORT
Associated Press Fashion Editor.
PARIS, May 26. (AP)—Kitchens and garrets are furnishing both fabrics and trimming for many new fashions.
This season, when economy is a necessity, a number of Parisian dressmakers have combined ingenuity with a search for materials off the beaten style track, with the result that many of the smartest effects are produced at small cost.
Belts made of the same olecloth which covers kitchen tables are one of the latest fads. They are made of bright red, blue or black olecloth and vary from crushable designs three inches in width to broad, straight models six inches wide. Most of them fasten on the left side with flat shining nickel buttons, and are used to give a bright note to inexpensive shantung or linen frocks and pajamas.

DENTAL HYGIENE FIELD DRAWS WOMEN STUDENTS
WASHINGTON, May 26. (AP)—Women are admitted to all but four of the thirty-eight dental schools of the country, a survey made by the office of education reveals.
These are Georgetown, Harvard, Kansas City Western and St. Louis universities. The ratio in the remaining schools is about one woman to thirty men.
Dental hygienists, licensed and registered in twenty-five states, are chiefly women. There are 1,800 women engaged in the preventive phase of dentistry throughout the United States.

He was placed under the care of Dr. G. F. Pope. His condition is said to be serious at the hospital.
Johnson was brought here by a brother, who also works at the Squaw valley ranch.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

LEARNING TO BE PLEASANT
By MRS. AGNES LYNE
Among the things which everyone must learn sooner or later is to be agreeable under trying circumstances. Our undisciplined responses of anger, irritation, vindictiveness and peevishness must give way to the self-control which eliminates the necessity of coping in daily life with dramatic scenes and raw emotions.

This type of self-control is built up gradually over a long period of years through a thousand small happenings which bit-by-bit teach the child the expediency of controlling the expression of his feelings.
There can be no rule for teaching this lesson, since the occasions when it is necessary to use self-control are as many as there are different temperaments and situations.
But it is perhaps safe to say that the crudest emotional display can be gradually eliminated if one sees to it that the child never by means of it gains his objective. The privilege, the attention, the toy which has tried to get through a display of anger should never be forthcoming.

Temporary exile is almost always an effective way of bringing home to him the realization that such behavior on his part will not be countenanced.
Sometimes it is possible to help a child to look at a happening in a new light so that he regards it with indifference or amusement instead of rage. Children on a whole are very suggestible, and it is often possible to suggest a pleasant attitude in place of an unpleasant one.

Prospector Washes Out American Coin

A lone prospector in the Camp-tonville section reports unusual luck a few days ago while panning out gravel in some of the old diggings of the section, according to the Reno Journal.
He washed out an American dollar bearing the date of 1795. The coin, although minted only a few years after the Revolutionary War, was in good condition.
