MEMORIAL DAY STARTED BY GEORGIA

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 26. (P)-Memorial Day, now set aside in every state in the union each year, and in many foreign countries, for noring the dead, had its inception here nearly 65 years ago. It was on April 26, 1866, that John Tyler of Columbus, called together a group of her friends for the purpose of forming Ladies' Memorial association. Four southern states still hold their memorial exercises April 26. They are Georgia, Florida, Mississippi and Alabama. Alabama was the first state to declare it a legal holiday. FIRST FORMAL CEREMONY

Mrs. Tyler and her friends pledged themselves to "perpetuate as a religious custom to wreath annually the graves of our mar-tyred dead." With the vow recorded, they went to Linwood cemetery in Columbus and held formal exercises. Many memorial associations were organized throughout the south, and the spirit of the movement soon seized the people of the north. One New York newspaper observed: "The women of Columbus have shown themselves impartial in their offerings to the memory of the They strewed flowers alika on the graves of the Confederate
