STAR AQUATIC PERFORMER ARRIVES HERE

Myrtle Huddleston, champion world swimmer and only woman swimmer to conquer the Catalina channel, is in Las Vegas for a short time, and while here will sponsor a water carnival at the Lorenzi Lake swimming pool.

The fact that Mrs. Huddleston learned to swim less than five years ago is nothing short of amazing, considering the string of championship titles she has annexed.

In 1926, while engaged in beauty work, Mrs. Huddleston said she was confined indoors much of the time and consequently became very pale.

Eight months later she swam the Catalina channel, being the only woman to complete the race.

In 1928 she won the ocean championship at Delray, Florida, and she also won the world's championship at Bronx, N. Y., and the pool championship at Coney Island.

Paris was the scene of her next race, when she won the endurance pool championship there in 1929.

Last year at Rockaway Beach she defeated all other challengers, retaining the championship by remaining in the water eighty-six hours and sixteen minutes.

Since January 1st of this year she has defeated challengers at San Francisco and in Los Angeles. At San Francisco, in an indoor pool, her time was seventy-eight hours and thirty-two minutes.

While in April in Los Angeles, in an outdoor contest, she made a record of eighty-seven hours and forty-eight minutes.

In the last two contests mentioned she won over both men and women swimmers.

Her hardest contest, Mrs. Huddleston stated, was in Paris, when the fact that disinfectants had been used in the water added greatly to her discomfort.

On Sunday a small admittance charge of 10 cents will be made, which may be applied on the swimming charge.

Following is the water program:

- 1. Trial heats, 34 yards; girls up to 12 years.
- 2. Trial heats, 34 yards; boys up to 12 years.
- 3. Watermelon races; double show.
- 4. Thirty-four-yard invitation race; no age limit.
- 5. Balloon race for boys; no age limit.
- 6. Balloon race for girls; no age limit.
- 7. Boat filling contest.

A royal good time for both swimmers and spectators is promised for Sunday.

Mrs. Huddleston, who is a widow, is accompanied by her son.

Takes Back Sponge; Maroon Mound Master Gave Up Once, Now Starring

CHICAGO (AP)—Roy Henshaw, who a few months ago decided he wasn't much of a pitcher, has developed into the greatest sensation of the Big Ten conference has ever known.

Almost single-handed he has brought the University of Chicago up neck and neck in the scramble for the conference championship, pitching the Maroons to their first eight victories and 16 runs but out.

While the Maroons were touring Japan last spring the 19-year-old Chicago sophomore almost gave up his pitching ambition.

But when Pat Page, former coach at the University of Indiana, took charge of Chicago's baseball team this spring, he took Henshaw in hand and the results were startling.

Henshaw lost the first game by a 4 to 3 decision to Illinois, but Page knew he had a ball topper.

Since that time no team has been able to solve Henshaw's underhand delivery. He won his next eight games in a row, winning a pair of doubleheaders against Minnesota and Indiana on successive days—the first time in Big Ten baseball that any pitcher won two games in one day going the full route.

STATION SOON TO BROADCAST MOVING PICTURES BY RADIO

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD Associated Press Radio Editor NEW YORK (AP)—Television experimentation is being boomed a little more in New York City.

After so long a time, occasioned by testing delays in the laboratory, the Columbia Broadcasting system is about ready to start regular testing with moving pictures by radio.

It is now pretty certain that the chain will be on the air by June 15 with a regular program of images.

Previously to opening this schedule, to consist of six hours of transmission a day, including Sunday, preliminary tests were made for about two weeks.

Although the program layout has not been completed, it is planned to televise a number of Columbia artists, in addition to Natalie Towers, signed by the chain as its "television girl."

The call letters assigned to the picture station are W2XAB, to operate on the band extending from 2750 to 2850 kilocycles. Power will be 500 watts.

The television equipment, which includes transmitter, control board, photorec cells and scanning equipment, has been installed on the twenty-third floor of the chain's New York headquarters.

The television equipment, which "doubles" and has been placed on the roof, it has a central supporting pole, with the aerial itself in interconnected sections.

Plans for the tests provide exhaustive reception experiments in various parts of the metropolitan area, together with a study of studio production problems.

The experiments are to be in charge of E. K. Cohan, technical director.

ON THE SIDELINES

by Brian Bell

There is at least one former champion boxer who never will need a benefit show. When 61-year-old Tommy Ryan, former welter and middleweight champion, was assaulted and robbed of $3,000 the other day, the once well known fighter appeared, briefly in the news again.

He owns two restaurants, several filling stations and much downtown property in Culver City, Cal. He says he probably is not a millionaire, but he's "comfortably fixed."

"I guess I am still the champion prize fighter in the matter of uninterrupted matrimonial happiness," Ryan said. The Ryan celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary a few days ago.

"But," Ryan smiled through blackened eyes and numerous stitches, "I'm no much of a fighter any more, especially against guns and blackjacks."

BACK TO NATURE The old fighter, whose name was Joseph Young until he ran away from his home, near Syracuse, N. Y., 45 years ago, ordinarily lives a placid life. His Spanish bungalow is surrounded by shrubbery, trees and flowers which he planted himself.

He keeps an aviary consisting of over a hundred love birds of half a dozen varieties. Semi-tropical trees and these birds occupy the time not devoted to his extensive business interests.

He has some ideas about the ring. He thinks that battles to a finish, with a winner take all policy would put the fight game back on its feet. But the public would not, he thinks, stand for the long sessions.

"Short bouts with big purses, win, lose or draw," he said, "are largely responsible for the unsatisfactory status of boxing. I mean ten rounds. The fighters either don't get in condition sufficient to stage a good fight or simply stall through to collect their money."

Ryan thinks the present day fans wouldn't sit through a fight such as the one at Minneapolis in 1891 in

HURLER SMEARS GRIN FROM FOE

"They laughed when I wound up to pitch the baseball," says Cecil Patrick Caraway.

But the lanky hurler of the Chicago White Sox has been throwing baseballs past American league batters all spring in a manner far from comic, though productive of broad smiles of appreciation from Donie Bush.

Bush first took notice of the six-foot two inch Texan in Antonio in 1930. "Cecil the Seed" was demonstrating his octopus-like wind-up, weaving arms and legs all over the mound, but invariably delivering the ball where the catcher wanted it.

Another thing that made Pat an object of comedy in his apprentice days was his lack of a good fast ball.

But Pat, minus a fast ball and with his flailing wind-up, has turned out to be the ace of the Sox staff this year.

Batters say it's Pat's odd delivery that makes him effective. They never know from what corner of his angular frame, or when, that ball will come shooting plateward.

ARDMORE, Okla., June 11 (AP)—Wm. Guess, and Cecil Crosby, deputy sheriffs charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of two Mexican students here early this week, today were freed under bonds of $25,000 and are awaiting trial.

IMPROVE WATER

CARSON CITY (AP)—Steps to improve the domestic water supply at Fallon probably will be taken by the Nevada public service commission after a hearing here June 19. The water at Fallon is said by complaining citizens to be so unpleasant in taste, odor and appearance that they have had to haul their drinking water from privately owned wells in the vicinity.
