SOCIAL CLUB PLANS MADE

The young women and young men of Boulder City are banding together for the purpose of organizing a social club.

The object of the new club is to lay plans for a variety of social entertainments and to promote acquaintances among the younger set at Boulder.

Miss Fizza Bell Keeler has been appointed president of the new club and is holding a meeting next Saturday at her home at 652 Avenue F, when a regular staff of officers will be elected.

After the first meeting the club will be named, and it will meet thereafter every Saturday at the home of some member.

CHURCH FOLK PLAN AFFAIR

The ladies of Boulder City Sociality are working on a program in which they hope to benefit their church.

The meeting of this group will be held at the home of Mrs. Chovney at McKiverville some time near the end of this week.

Announcement will be made later in which these ladies taking active part will make known their plans.

It is to be a public affair for all those who wish to attend.

RECLAMATION BUREAU MEN ATTEND OFFICERS MEET

Capt. W. W. Wood, and Lieutenants H. L. Looze, C. P. Dexheimer and T. V. Ragsdale, of the Reclamation bureau at Boulder City drove into Las Vegas Monday night to attend the meeting of reserve officers.

RESERVE MEN HEAR HOWARD

A large number of the reserve officers of this district, including a group from Boulder City, met at the American Legion Hall last night to hear Major Howard, 413th Infantry, in a discussion of infantry tactics and organization.

Major Howard briefly touched upon the problems of supplying combat troops under observation from aircraft, and the changes brought about by the development of flying.

"Many people are led to believe that the next war will be fought in the air," Major Howard stated, "but a bombing expedition by plane such as is pictured over large cities can only accomplish destruction of certain materiel and buildings, affecting largely the morale of the enemy. Planes cannot capture areas by themselves. The other branches still have to actually capture and occupy the area to make the occupation effective."

Other local officers will speak before the next meeting, to be held January 18.

SMALL BOYS RESCUE CHUM

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. (U.P.)—Three small boys, themselves burned by electricity from a third rail, dragged an unconscious playmate off the Long Island railroad track in Brooklyn tonight just before an express train roared past.

The four boys had climbed a low fence, enclosing the tracks, and were throwing an iron bar against the third rail to watch the play of sparks and blue flame.

They noticed the approach of an express train and ran to get out of its way. Louis De Socio, 12, dragged the iron bar behind him. It touched the third rail, and the shock knocked Louis unconscious. He fell across the tracks in the path of the approaching train, a sheet of blue flame playing over his body. The other boys, Leonard Barbero, 8; John Ofsant, 11, and Otto Scalgo, 10, tried to pull him away, but were shocked and burned when they touched him.

Seeing that the train was bearing down upon them, they decided to rescue their playmate at any cost. Again they took hold of him, and pulling together, despite the burning electricity, they dragged him away from the third rail and off the track, just as the train sped by.

Suffering from their own injuries, they carried the unconscious boy to a drugstore, from where he was taken to a hospital. Physicians said he was critically burned and shocked.

QUARANTINE HINT BLASTED; MEDICS DENY ALL RUMORS

Mr. and Mrs. Hunsucker of Boulder City became somewhat alarmed over the conditions of their son and daughter, who have been confined to their beds, suffering with throat trouble.

The children were rushed to Dr. Ferguson in Las Vegas for treatment, who diagnosed their cases as severe sore throats and not diphtheria, as their sickness was at first feared.

The sick children are not quarantined as rumors hinted, nor has there been any such quarantine authorized by reservation or outside physicians.

No contagious illness of any kind exists on the reservation, medical authorities said.

BOXING SEPARATE AT B. C., HE SAYS

Frank Moran, holder of the boxing and wrestling concession at Boulder City, announced yesterday to officials that he had abandoned the idea of combining his concession with other amusement interests and that boxing would remain separate. Construction on the building is to start at once, he advised, and will probably be completed about February 15.

It was originally planned for the boxing and wrestling concessions, held by Moran and Landreau, to be in the same building with the dancing concessions and, possibly, an auditorium.

WATCH IS KEPT ON FLOOD AREA

SUMNER, Miss., Jan. 4. (U.P.)—One thousand men kept a close watch on the soggy levees of the Tallahatchie river tonight while the American Red Cross at Washington completed its plans to aid hundreds of families to evacuate their homes should the flood waters rise further.

Ernest P. Kick, of the Red Cross national disaster relief staff, has been instructed to come here and check the possibilities of moving 6,000 or more persons from the districts which lie in the path of the flood. He also will wage a preventive battle against any possible outbreak of disease.

Hundreds of men, woman and children have been forced from their lowland homes since the Tallahatchie river first went on a rampage several weeks ago. Many are being cared for on nearby plantations and towns and others are living in tents and improvised huts outside the flooded zone.

MAY ABANDON ZUNI DANCES

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 4. (U.P.)—One of the most beautiful of Indian ceremonies—the pilgrimage of Zunis to the first mesa of Hopiland for the black rain dance—may never be seen again.

In the councils of the Zunis the old men are convinced that the black rain dance should not have been held this year. They believe it brought the heavy snows to the Zuni country—snows that brought great personal suffering and loss of stock.

Last summer the pilgrimage was resumed for the first time in 30 years, but only after much poverty and deliberation by Zunis and Hopis.

The four-day trek across a rugged stretch of country to Hopiland was made, and the black rain dance was observed. The dance constitutes a prayer for rain.

Instead of the desired rain, however, the Indian territory was visited by a devastating blizzard, and instead of the black rain came the white snow.

Mike Kirk, trader at Manuelito, brought word here of the reaction of the Navajo and Zuni Indians to the storm that marooned hundreds on the mesas west of here.

MRS. MIX GIVEN FINAL DECREE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4. (U.P.)—Tom Mix and his wife, Victoria, reached the final parting of their marital relations today when Mrs. Mix obtained her final decree of divorce.

In obtaining her interlocutory decree a year ago, Mrs. Mix charged that the western actor was cruel drunk to excess and frequently embarrassed her by swaggering about their Beverly Hills home, brandishing his "six gun."

She was given the custody of their daughter, Thomasina, and a property settlement, made at the time of the interlocutory decree, gave Mrs. Mix approximately $500,000.

The actor was divorced from his first wife, Olive Stokes Mix, in 1917.

BUNKERVILLE STORE ROBBED

Entering through a rear window, thieves ransacked the Kenneth Earl store at Bunkerville some time Sunday night, it was reported to the sheriff's office yesterday.

It was believed about $100 in cash had been stolen, and although merchandise was strewn about, it was said that nothing more than cash was missing. The sheriff's office was working on the case last night.

VIGILANT IS OCEAN WINNER

SEATTLE, Jan. 4. (U.P.)—The Vigilant, five-masted schooner, won its race from Hawaii with the four-master Commodore today by overcoming a lead that at one time was 1,500 miles.

The Commodore reached Tatoosh more than a week ago and was proclaimed a certain winner, but she was 100 miles at sea today. Storms parted hawsers put aboard her by tugs and blew her to sea again.

The tug Roosevelt, which failed to bring in the Commodore, towed in the Vigilant today.

The Vigilant started 500 miles behind the Commodore, due to larger sail spread, and met early adverse winds which led observers to believe until a few days ago that she was out of the race.

FIRE THREATENS MARKET IN CITY

Smouldering boxes stacked near the rear of the Tower market threatened that building for a few minutes Monday afternoon. The boxes were kicked away from the structure and the fire quenched before any harm could be done.

Nippons Dare To Face Pacific Again

Three new aerial adventurers, all in velving non-stop or refueling flights across the Pacific ocean between Japan and America, are being planned by a group of prominent Japanese aviators under sponsorship of the Hocht Shimbun. They are: Mr. Yohihara, Enoshita, Honma, Asai, Na goya and Baba.

TOKIO, Jan. 4. (U.P.)—Undaunted by misfortunes that balked their first attempts to cross the Pacific ocean from Japan to the United States, Japanese aviators are planning three new ventures in quest of aerial honors for their native land.

S. Yoshihara, young flier who made three unsuccessful attempts in 1931 to pilot the Hocht Shimbun's seaplane across the ocean, is now in Berlin and will proceed soon to London to select a plane for a flight from America to Japan, the opposite direction from his original venture. He is seeking the smallest seaplane which will negotiate the long journey.

K. Honma, aviator and navigator; E. Baba, pilot, and T. Inoshita, radio operator, are in Nagoya, Japan, testing a Junkers land plane in which they will attempt a flight from Sabishiro beach to Alaska and thence to San Francisco. Baba, only 27, is rated Japan's most skillful

PRINCE REVERSES CHARGE; CLAIMS POLA IS DEBTOR

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4. (U.P.)—Asserting that his former wife, Pola Negri, was merely attempting to obtain publicity in her suit against him, Prince Serge M'Divani today filed a counter suit to one in which the actress charged he owed her $2,000,000 francs.

The prince alleged that instead of borrowing money from Miss Negri, he had loaned her $106,000 which she had failed to pay him. He claimed in the cross-complaint that he should have interest at seven per cent.

Y. Nagoya, pilot and navigator, and K. Asao, pilot, are in New York to choose a plane for a projected non-stop flight from America to Japan. Both are army aviators and have spent more than 1,200 hours in the air without an accident.

The Hocht Shimbun, large Japanese newspaper, is sponsoring all three ventures as a gesture of good will between Japan and sister nations.

Mr. Business Man:

The crystal gazer, the palmist, and the astrologist MIGHT be able to tell you how successful you will be, yea... even to the amount of business you will do this year... but would you be satisfied with such questionable information?

The successful business man, the graduate of the famous school of experience, can and will, tell you that your success and the amount of business that you do this year will depend on just the amount of planning and effort you put forth.

The cost of a carefully planned advertising campaign should be considered as much a part of your overhead as your rent, light, heat, taxes, or payroll. You would not hesitate to employ another salesman if he could tell you truthfully that he could sell you more merchandise than any other man on your sales force... especially if he agreed to work for less money than you are now paying.

If you are interested in facts and figures... if you are interested in results... put this salesman to work for you.

He is a carefully planned newspaper campaign in The Las Vegas Age.
