by the brutality of the killings, in which Sheriff Marcel Hendrix, a deputy, and four Springfield officers were slain without an opportunity to defend themselves, the victims of a deadly and concentrated fire.

Funeral services were held in crowded Springfield chapels today for three of the slain officers, Ollie Crosswhite, city detective; Tony Oliver, chief of detectives; and Sid Meadows, city detective. Funerals of Sheriff Hendrix, Charles Houser, special policeman, and Wiley Mashburn, deputy, the others killed, were to be held later.

WOMAN IS SHERIFF

The wife of Sheriff Hendrix, meanwhile, was appointed to his post, pending a special election January 26 to name a successor.

Rewards totaling $1,600 were posted for capture of the outlaws, the state of Missouri offering $300, Greene county $1,000 and the city $300.

The fatal clash at the Young farm house was precipitated when Sheriff Hendrix and eight other officers, acting on information supplied by a sister of Young, went to arrest him for the murder two years ago of Mark Noe, marshal at Republic, Mo.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 4 (UP)—Belief that her two sons, hunted murderers of six Missouri peace officers, should be captured and punished was expressed here tonight by their aged mother, Mrs. Willie Young. She was held for questioning in the Greene county jail with Oscar, a son, and her two daughters, charged with automobile theft.

"Harry and Jennings should be punished," she said. "I believe they will be captured sooner or later."

HUMORLESS COP DISLIKES OLD ROMAN CUSTOM

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 4 (UP)—The good old Roman custom of "biting the thumb" to display scornful emotions backfired today for Mrs. Carrie Lodge. She was fined $5.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Jan. 4 (UP)—Martial law was declared throughout the republic today by President Jorge Ubico as government troops took the field to quell a revolutionary movement along the north coast.

Colonel Napoleon Cubas Turcios repelled a strong group of rebels who were threatening the town of San Pedro, about 25 miles from Puerto Cortez, largest port on the Atlantic coast. San Pedro is the capital of Cortez department and is the center of the banana industry.

Small bands of rebels were reported in various places along the north coast. The government announced that it was taking prompt measures to suppress the movement. Public opinion here supported the president in his campaign against the rebels.

STILLMAN AND FIFI TOGETHER

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (UP)—A 12-angled "peace" meeting today added another lively scene to the marital drama of James A. Stillman, millionaire banker and his former wife, Anne, which has commanded the intermittent attention of doaners and dishwashers alike for more than ten years.

In the Stillman apartment on Fifth avenue, the former banker sat down to lunch with his former wife and her husband, the youthful Fowler McCormick, heir to the harvest millions, to discuss plans for the four Stillman children. The children are Anne, Bud, Alexander and Guy.

Although it was the first time the three had been together since Stillman's divorce last June and "Fifi's" marriage to young McCormick, all appeared in the best of spirits.

DISEASE OGRE PERIL TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (UP)—An ogre in the form of some hitherto unknown disease may some day wipe out the human race in the opinion of Dr. Charles B. Davenport, Carnegie Institution department of genetics.

Dr. Davenport, in the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution, pictures the whole complex mechanism of humanity being toppled by a disease which the human protoplasm cannot resist. He grounds his argument with observations on dangerous changes which man's germ plasma are now undergoing. Small parasitic particles called "filtrable viruses," he says, seem to be changing with the result that they may evolve a parasite which will be sure death to human organism. Dr. Davenport cites the increasing influenza epidemics which have befallen the United States in recent years as examples.

"Some time in the future," he adds, "our boasted skyscrapers might become inhabited by bats and the safe deposit vaults of our cities become the caves of wild animals."

"Man is attempting a mastery of the world and, indeed, upon such mastery his fate may depend. His ability to master that world depends upon his superior gifts of intelligence to see relations and to idealize new ones. How much farther man can go in this direction depends upon the capacity for development of the intelligence."

SUICIDE HELD DEATH CAUSE

GILROY, Calif., Jan. 4 (UP)—The verdict that Lt. William J. French of the United States army committed suicide after suddenly losing his mind and hitting Mrs. Gertrude McEnroe on the head with a hammer, was returned by a coroner's jury here late today.

Mrs. McEnroe, a middle-aged widow who came to California from Butte, Mont., was the main witness at the inquest.

She told her story with composure so long as she was permitted to relate it without interruption. When questioned about any particular detail, she showed the strain of the 24 hours that had passed since the army officer's body was found, displaying signs of a breakdown and crying almost hysterically.

MAYBE JOE MAY DIE; HE TRIES OFTEN ENOUGH

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (UP)—Joseph Vendosi of Queens, 32, stabbed himself in the stomach with a piece of glass today. Police took him to Jamaica hospital where he was patched up and sent home.

Two hours later he jumped from the roof of a two story building. Disappointed that he was still alive, Vendosi started to bang his head against a fire hydrant. When this produced no fatal effects, he obtained another piece of glass and again stabbed himself in the stomach.

Police returned Vendosi to Jamaica hospital. His wounds were dressed and he was removed to Kings county hospital for observation. Physicians said they think he will die.

CERMAK TALKS BUT DOESN'T PAY UP

CHICAGO, Jan. 4 (UP)—Chicago's unpaid school taxes jammed the Madison street stadium almost 30,000 strong tonight to protest the financial impasse which threatens to close the schools and send half a million children to the streets for a protracted vacation.

Battalion after battalion of teachers in unimposeded to the auditorium to hear Mayor Anton C. Cermak and a half dozen other civic leaders tell why the country's second richest city hasn't enough money to pay its employees.

"The teachers haven't been paid for almost nine months because they've become accustomed to muddling government floundering around in a mire of rotten politics," Attorney Donald R. Richberg shouted into the microphones. The teachers cheered. So did the police guarding the exits and the firemen looking for possible blazes. The police and fire departments haven't received any pay checks, either, for more than a month.

SAYS PAPERS INSPIRE CRIME

DALLAS, Jan. 4 (UP)—Newspapers "furnish youths between 17 and 22 years of age with a great deal of the spirit that leads to banditry," Bishop John M. Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, told the Dallas Pastors' association today.

"Newspapers, which are institutions of civilization operated to the best interests of the community, do more by crime publicity to promote crime than suppress it," he said.

Bishop Moore said he didn't know "whether the press is looking to civilization or circulation."
