Exquisite refreshments were served by the charming hostess, and the afternoon was considered as one of the Card club's most outstanding successes.

Answer to "A farmer's love letter," that was published at the previous meeting, follows:

The new upstream steel suspension bridge, located over the river above the upper portal, is also completed and ready to be put into service.

Progress made on the Arizona side is also considered favorable by the contractors. Additional roadways on that side of the river will be started soon.

INDIAN JOHNNY AND WARREN FARRELL WIN L. V. FIGHTS

Local fighters reaped the laurels of victory last night at the American Legion stadium when Indian Johnny Smith and Warren Farrell both established a clear superiority over their opponents.

Indian Johnny Smith of Las Vegas was pitted against Jack Shaw, a shifty, lively fighter who came with a record of Canadian fights which indicated that he would be a hard boy to whip.

Shaw has the qualities of a fighter all right but he was no match for the clever, hard-hitting Indian lad of Las Vegas.

Smith weighed in at 142 and Shaw at 138. Ernie Grassin acted as referee. Prior to the fight Bob Sheridan assumed a share of the preliminary arrangements. Red Gorman of Boulder City was introduced as was "Fighting" Parsons of Seattle, who took occasion to issue a challenge to the winner of the bout.

The honors of the first round were about even. The second round Johnny won by his gentle, nose-poking tactics, and in the third Johnny sent the Canadian down for the count.

Howard Bradley of Ely, widely touted champion of the north, made a poor showing against Warren Farrell.

Frank Moran, Boulder City athletic director, refereed the fight, what there was of it, and awarded the palm of victory to Farrell without the formality of a count, after Bradley showed a decided disinclination to stand up and fight.

Joey Ray of Mobile and Chuck Dowd of Las Vegas tangled for four rounds, during which Chuck demonstrated that he was master of the situation and was awarded the decision. Joey was given the first round and Chuck the other three by The Age reporter.

The evening's first event was between Al Brown and Holquin, both local lads. Dick Schwartz was referee.

Brown, the tall, colored lad, remained cool and collected throughout the bout and Holquin worried himself sick trying to make a showing during four rounds of unsatisfactory and indecisive action. The referee called it a draw.
