Mrs. R. E. Blake, Jr., entertained at her home on New Year's Day with a delicious turkey dinner, in honor of Mr. Luke's birthday. A most happy and enjoyable time was had by those present. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Young, George Young, Vernon Young, Art Loper, Phil Davis, Henry Deadrich, Jr., Mrs. C. Richardson, and Dick Richardson.

The meeting of the Mesquite Club which was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Chas. P. Squires was a most delightful occasion. A program of unusual merit was given. Mrs. Marion Earl gave two vocal numbers accompanied by Mrs. Witt Olive. Mrs. W. J. Flowers read "The Gift of the Magi" by O. Henry, followed by two piano numbers by Mrs. Olive. A pleasant social hour followed around the tea table.

Miss Mary Strauss was a charming hostess at a delightful bridge party Thursday evening. After several rounds of bridge a delicious supper was served. Miss Helen Smith received the prize for high score, while Miss Gladys Powell was awarded the consolation prize. The guests, who included popular members of the younger set, were Mesdames Roscoe Hampton, Darrell Dayton, Floyd Huntington, Herbert Harsberger, Tom Pickett, Alice Johnson, and the Misses Alice Hanson, Phyllis Roeder, Norma Baker, Helen Smith, Gertrude George and Gladys Powell.

The Auction Bridge Club was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Will Beckley. In addition to the club members Mrs. Beckley had a number of guests. Luncheon was served at the afternoon tables, after which the afternoon was devoted to bridge. Mrs. Perle S. Brown won the guest prize for high score while Mrs. W. N. Schuyler received the club prize. Those present were Mesdames Perle S. Brown, Ryland G. Taylor, Hal L. Hewetson, William S. Park, F. M. Ferguson, Jack Beckley, Frank Gusewelle, Imogene White, E. W. Cragin, W. N. Schuyler, W. R. Lavigne, and Miss Margaret Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hampton

were recently feted by the Neighborhood club, the occasion being in the nature of a house-warming. The Hampton's have recently moved into their new home. Among those enjoying the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hempbill, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eglington, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Maret, and Mr. and Mrs. George Zettler, Jr. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Maret and Mr. and Mrs. Eglington.

GOVERNOR LOSES SHIRT-TAIL
COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 9 (U.P.)—It's an old Southern hunting custom, and it came right home to Governor Ibra C. Blackwood, of South Carolina. For his failure to bring down a deer, which flashed past his stand, he had to submit to the loss of his shirt-tail, at the hands of former Governor John G. Richards and State Senator M. G. Anderson.

MOHAIR MILL SOUGHT
UVALDE, Tex., Jan. 9 (U.P.)—A mohair textile mill, to provide an outlet for the product of extensive sheeplands in Southwest Texas, is sought by the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' Association. A special committee has been appointed to invite eastern manufacturers to locate a mill here.

SEEKS COMPENSATION
MERRILL, Wis., Jan. 9 (U.P.)—Permanent disability compensation for the loss of an eye while playing baseball on his employer's team is sought by Emil Thompson here. Thompson was struck in the eye while playing on the team of Road Lake resort, owned by Archie Daigle.
