

TRUNK WRESTLER, ONCE FIGHTER, REVERTS TO GRAPPLING FOR LEGION

Card Has Earmarks of Fan-Pleasing Show For Friday

Dick Schwartz is going to step into the ring trying to beat a good man at his own game Friday night, and the ensuing battle is already the talk of local fans of the mauling games, boxing and wrestling.

Jack O'Brien is the party of the second part in the mele, and the two contestants have one hour in which to grunt and grapple their grudge out. O'Brien is said to have wise-cracked about Schwartz apenty, the battling baggage smasher replying in kind. Scenting a natural, Art Harris stopped the imminent fight and persuaded the boys to do it for the cash customers Friday night. They have agreed to let one fall decide the match, and Harris is giving them the hour to do it in.

Top spot in the fistc part of the card is held by a ten-round go between Indian Johnny Smith and Johnny Roth, rugged little welter, who has shown boxing bugs plenty of action in past bouts in which he has received a couple of sour decisions. His last start was with Warren Farrell, one of the best locally, when he got a draw decision after plastering "Warney" with everything except a color coat. He has met Smith once before, when the Indian was given the nod in what was almost universally called at least a draw. Johnny is a sharpshooter, but he is liable to have his hands full Friday night keeping the little Roth from connecting with a sleep producer. They are stepping into the ring with "winner take all" ringing in their ears.

The semi-final is another sure-fire match promising plenty of action, when Al Brown, chocolate colored streak of lightning, trades swats with Al Younger, of Boulder City. Younger likes to walk in and trade 'em, and Brown is liable to find a mess of fighting in his hands before the six rounds are over.

A special event has been carded between two 160 pounders, Sam Boggs, just out of the army, and Fred Fay of Las Vegas. Both are known locally, and are sure to have their share of friends in the ringside seats, rooting for a K. O. The four round curtain raiser between Henry St. Almond, another colored fighter of local rep, and Pat Welch, is expected to pep the customers up a plenty before the big show starts.

He was recognized and tearfully told his story.

BAER TO MEET WINNER OF GO

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—Max Baer, California heavyweight, will fight the winner of Friday night's Ernie Schaefer-Paulino Uzcudun bout in mid-March as scheduled, Jimmy Johnston announced tonight, denying reports of a break between Baer and Madison Square Garden.

Johnston, manager of boxing at the Garden, explained that Baer has gone to Los Angeles for a bout February 22. He will return to New York after this match and prepare to meet Friday night's winner. Schaefer of Boston is an 8 to 5 favorite to defeat Uzcudun of Spain. If Schaefer meets Baer, the winner will act as alternate for Jack Sharkey in his title match with Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion, at Yankee stadium in June.

SUBMARINE WILL TEST EARTHQUAKE THEORY BASED ON SHIFTING EARTH CRUST WEIGHTS

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—A scientific explanation of earthquakes, called the theory of isostasy will be tested anew in the West Indies from a submerged submarine.

The International Scientific Expedition, based at Guantanamo and using American naval vessels, will do the testing, under direction of Prof. Richard M. Field of Princeton university.

The earth's crust, 60 miles thick, "floats" on heavier material below, most geologists believe. The underlying material is plastic and yielding under long-continued pressures. Any two equal-sized blocks of the earth's crust ordinarily are of equal weight, according to the theory of isostasy, and balance each other as they "float" on the heavy material below.

The balance is upset when material is shifted from one block to the other, as when rivers wash sediment off continents into the sea. The shift makes the under-ocean block heavier. It sinks, and the plastic material beneath is forced against the bottom of the other block, pushing it upward.

The sinking and rising take place very slowly. Tension accumulates gradually, then suddenly is released. The resulting shock is earthquake. Scientists suspect this sort of activity under the West Indies.

The expedition, working ashore in the Bahamas and at sea in the U. S. submarine S-48, will check up on whether blocks of the earth's crust are shifting by measuring the pull of gravity at many different points. Gravity is strongest over heavy rock masses.

Many scientists believe the theory of isostasy working along a line under the West Indies, through Mexico and on to the west coast of the United States. If such a line of activity exists it will betray itself because concentration of light material will record weak gravity values on the surface above, says Dr. F. A. Venning Menez of Holland, a member of the expedition. He has already found similar lines in the East Indies and the Pacific ocean.

Gravity is measured by pendulums that swing fastest at points where gravity is strongest. At sea a submerged submarine avoids the interference of wave motion with the pendulum.

EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 2. (U.P.)—Tom Warne, former Northwestern pole vaulter and candidate for a place on the Olympic team, will leave for the east Thursday night to compete in five indoor meets which have been included on his winter program in preparation for the Olympic try-outs this summer.

A submarine equipped with pendulum devices to measure gravity's pull will be used in West Indies waters to test the theory of isostasy, which explains earthquakes as being the result of the release of tension produced when "blocks of the earth's crust shift and cause strains in other parts of the crust (drawing).

KING LEVINSKY FAILS TO SIGN

CHICAGO, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—An offer of $5,000 failed to entice King Levinsky, Chicago heavyweight, to sign today to meet Jack Dempsey in a 4-round exhibition bout at the Chicago stadium February 18.

Mrs. Lena Levy, Levinsky's sister and manager, said Levinsky was tired from recent bouts with Paulino Uzcudun and Max Baer and needed a vacation. She, however, reserved her final decision until tomorrow.

The guarantee offered Levinsky is at the rate of: $1,250 per round; $416.67 per minute; $67.24 per second.

POSSIBILITIES FOR COACH JOBS NARROWED DOWN

CHICAGO, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—Three prominent coaching positions open in the middle-west today appeared to be narrowed down to a few candidates.

Guy Sundt, former badger football star and assistant coach for six years, seems to have the inside track for the University of Wisconsin job left vacant by the resignation of Glenn Thristlethwaite.

The Notre Dame backfield coaching position probably will go to Harry Stuhldreher, Villanova coach and quarterback on the Four Horseman, if he elects to make a change. If Stuhldreher decides to remain at Villanova, Marchmont Schwartz may be named as Jack Chevigny's successor. Schwartz, who will return to Notre Dame next year to complete his law course, will be connected with the Notre Dame coaching staff in some capacity.

Iowa is selecting with care its successor to Burton A. Ingwersen, who has accepted a position as assistant to Ben Jones at Louisiana State. Among the coaches who have been interviewed at Iowa are Jim Crowley, Michigan State; Ike Armstrong, University of Utah; George Little, recently resigned Wisconsin Athletic director, and Jack Chevigny, Matty Bell, Texas A. & M. coach, whose team gave Iowa one of its worst defeats last season, is another coach under consideration.

SCHAEFFER IS OUT IN BILLIARD TILT

CHICAGO, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—Jake Schaeffer, San Francisco, balking billiard king, was definitely eliminated from the running for the "3-cushion" title today when he was defeated by Augie Kieckhefer, Chicago, 50-36, in 48 innings in the only afternoon game in the world's championship tournament. Schaeffer dropped to ninth place as a result of the defeat with 4 victories and 5 losses. Kieckhefer gained half a game on

SCHMELING TO FIGHT JACK SHARKEY, JUNE 16

Articles Signed By Representatives Of Both Battlers

By STUART CAMERON United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—The long-awaited signing of articles for the Max Schmeling-Jack Sharkey heavyweight championship bout this summer was consummated today.

While most other such milestones in pugilistic history are passed to the accompaniment of varied kinds of hoop intended to produce favorable publicity, this one had all the glamour of a marriage before a justice of the peace.

Representatives of Max Schmeling, which is to say Joe Jacobs and friends, and representatives of Jack Sharkey, I. C. Johnny Buckley and lawyers, met in the offices of the New York state athletic commission. They agreed to fight 15 rounds for the title held by Schmeling at the Yankee stadium on the night of June 16.

As evidence of good faith, each side posted forfeits of $25,000. The bout will be a promotion of the Madison Square Garden corporation and James Joy Johnston will put it on. Johnston, it will be remembered, completely out-guessed the Garden in fights of the past summer, and the Garden, in self-defense, has to hire the loquacious Jimmy as their boxing official.

It is pertinent and important to note that if Johnston were not the Garden boxing manager the bout would not be on the books. This is because Schmeling was under suspension for having failed to abide by the commission's mandate to give Sharkey a return bout after having won the title on a foul, in June, 1930.

It was necessary then, that Johnston effect Schmeling's reinstatement before the articles could be signed. With Johnston's long record of being able to get almost anything he wants from the commission, the reinstatement came almost as a matter of course.

William Francis Carey, president of the Garden, told the United Press that no definite plans other than date and place have been made. He admitted, however, that there is every prospect of a lower scale of admission charges in keeping with the times.

NATS ACCEPT '32 SCHEDULE

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—The schedule for the 1932 baseball season was adopted today by the National league at its annual meeting here. For the first time Brooklyn will play the Giants at the Polo grounds on a Sunday.

Another change was made when the schedule committee decided that teams no longer would be compelled to spend eight days in the metropolitan area while meeting New York clubs.

During the meeting, President Heydler reappointed Walter F. "Dutch" Carter as the fifth and controlling director of the Brooklyn baseball club.

The league reaffirmed its stand against "synthetic" double-headers. This follows a similar movement yesterday by the American league.

The number of season passes to be issued by any one club was limited to 500.

the leader, Otto Relselt, Philadelphia, holding second place with 6 victories and 2 defeats. Kieckhefer and Schaeffer the both played during billiards. The game was featured by wonderful shot making and effective safety.
