

AMERICAN CONTESTANTS PILE UP WINNING NUMBER OF POINTS IN OLYMPIC WINTER CARNIVAL

By HENRY McLEMORE

OLYMPIC ARENA, LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 13. (UP)—The third Olympic Winter Games—first international extravaganza entertained by the United States since the St. Louis carnival of 1906—came to a close tonight with America official winner of the unofficial championship.

When Count Baillet La Tour of Belgium, president of the international Olympic committee, stood in the snowswept stadium and pronounced the games at an end, 13 of the 14 scheduled events had been completed and America had scored 88 points, 25 of which were won with first places in the four speed skating events and the two man bobsled races.

The one uncompleted event—the four man bob races—will be held tomorrow and Monday, the international committee having granted permission to extend the games two days.

The unofficial 10-5-4-3-2-1 system of scoring gave Norway second place with 77 points, and Canada third with 49. The remainder of the nations finished in the following order:

Sweden, 28; Finland, 25; Austria, 15; France, 10; Germany, 8; Hungary, 7; Switzerland, 6; Roumania, 3; Poland, 3; Italy, 1; Belgium, 1; Czechoslovakia, 1. Great Britain, which entered only the women's figure skating, and Japan were the only nations to fail to score a point.

Norway, with three first places, was runner-up to the United States in the matter of individual championships. Austria, Sweden, Canada, France and Finland furnished one champion each.

The two events contested on the closing day saw Canada clinch the hockey championship by beating the United States to a 2-2 tie in an overtime game, and Finland picked up 15 points when Veli Saarinen and Veli Luukkainen finished first and second, respectively, in the gruelling 50 kilometer cross country ski running race.

Germany clinched third place in the hockey round robin by defeating the helpless Polish sextet 4 to 1 earlier in the day.

The final standings of the four teams in the hockey series follows:

W	L	T	Pts
Canada	5	0	11
United States	4	1	11
Germany	2	4	4
Poland	0	6	0

The closing exercises were strongly reminiscent of the opening formalities. There was the parade of the nations, much waving and tooting of trumpets. And those athletes who had not been awarded their medals immediately after their triumphs, were taken care of.

Less than a thousand persons watched the ceremony, held after a nightfall and in the face of a blizzard that would be ranked first class anywhere but in this place where blizzards must be very big blizzards indeed to receive any notice.

SPORTS SCRIBE GIVES FLASHES ON JACK

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, Feb. 13. (UP)—A few personal glimpses of Jack Dempsey taken at random on his barnstorming tour:

In a hotel parlor at Milwaukee with a pack of cards in his hands and a big smile on his face.

"Jack, did you win any rounds in your two fights with Gene Tunney?"

"Not a one," he answered. "Come on, let's play cards."

"What about the seventh round at Chicago?"

"I don't know about it. I do the fighting. You fellows do the writing."

Then he sprang up from the card table, and assumed a fighting pose, flung a few left hooks at an imaginary opponent and said:

"Where's that Gree? I think I'll take a punch at him."

On a rubbing table in a dingy corner room in a Chicago gymnasium, with Jerry the Greek massaging his naked body with liniment concocted by him from a variety of 37 different ingredients.

"How'd you get that scar on your right shoulder there, Jack?"

"A dog bit me there when I was a kid. He bit me here, too," pointing to another scar on his arm.

"I was playing baseball in my home town of Manassa out in Colorado, and was running after a fly. I got the ball first, and the dog got sore and bit me."

"What did you play in baseball?"

"I was a catcher until a foul tip hit me in the eye, and then I played shortstop and first base. That foul tip gave me a worse black eye than I ever got in the ring."

Returning from Milwaukee to Chicago on a "Jack Dempsey special" train in the former city, Dempsey walking from the back coach to the baggage car ahead and shaking hands with some 300 or 400 persons. When he reached the baggage car, where beer on tap was being served, he said:

"Well, I'm right at home here," and pointed his finger at the floor.

"I've been under those rods below on many a one of these cars."

"No beer tonight, boys. I'm in training now. I like a good glass of beer though."

Back to the pullman where he grabbed the wife of one of his friends and placed her on his lap.

King Levinsky, who fights him in Chicago next Thursday night, sitting nearby with mouth agape at the man he idolizes.

Levinsky calling him "champ" and making himself somewhat of a pest to Dempsey.

Herman Brix of the Los Angeles A. C., former record holder, was third with a putt of 50 feet 10 inches from scratch.
