COUNTY JAIL IS ROTARY TOPIC

In place of the program which Cy Wengert had planned, the session of Las Vegas Rotary yesterday was devoted mostly to the discussion of the question of whether or not the county board should proceed with construction of additional jail facilities, and if so, upon what plan they should proceed.

President Leo McNamee opened the discussion by calling upon Al Cahlan for an expression of views. Cahlan asserted that there is no question as to the necessity of additional jail facilities. On the other side he called attention to the fact that it is very doubtful whether or not the state and county would be able to obtain any taxes whatever from privately owned property of Six Companies within the government reservation, although Dr. Mead, commissioner of reclamation, is trying to devise a form of legislation which will permit the approval of Six Companies. He declared it necessary to build a jail alone, which might be done, he estimated, for $20,000.

Mayor Cragin spoke briefly, calling attention to the fact that by the budget proposal just published the city levy is below the needs of the city requirements for next year.

C. P. Squires took the position that those things reasonably necessary should be done. That if we expect to build a city here we must proceed with such improvements as are necessary. He called attention to the relatively larger load taken on by the community on former occasions and expressed the belief that the tentative plans for the expenditure of approximately $70,000 of the recent bond issue in building ample jail facilities and additional court house accommodations, which all admit will be needed within two or three years, would be the best policy to follow.

Ed Clark spoke strongly in favor of cutting public expenditures wherever possible and advocated employment of an efficiency expert to devise ways and means of doing. He expressed doubt as to ability to sell county bonds at present and advocated postponing all action in the matter of the addition for a few years. "We must put the brakes on," he said.

O. W. Yates spoke suggesting that we need street improvements and lights in some portions of the city and that such improvements should come first.

President Leo named a committee consisting of Al Cahlan, Archie Grant, James Cashman, Cy Wengert and Bill Pike to report on the matter at the next meeting.

Three new members were introduced, Archie Grant, automobile garage; Coach Dashiell, athletic director; and Fred L. O'Donnell, retail milk.

WILL CHECK ON SPECIAL POLICE BADGES IN L. V.

With a number of citizens of Las Vegas carrying special officer's police badges issued under previous police administrations, Chief of Police Clay H. Williams yesterday began a complete check of the number of these badges in existence, to be completed by March 1.

Every person carrying such a police badge issued either under the present administration or under previous administrations, and every person who was once issued such a badge and who has lost it, is required to report in person to the police department before the first of March.

When the check is completed, and every person entitled to a special officer's badge is registered on the police records, any person carrying a badge that is not registered will be liable to arrest for impersonating an officer. The crime is a felony, and punishable by a heavy fine or a jail sentence or both, according to Chief Williams.

This action, according to police, is made necessary by the fact that in the recent past several incidents have arisen where malefactors have showed themselves to be possessors of special officer's badges not on record with the department. The check ending March 1 will be the final recording of all special officer's badges, and every badge holder must appear in person before that date, or become liable to arrest.

KING DIES

Observations

which the Monroe Doctrine throws about the weak nations of the western hemisphere. Just like the eleven-year-old boy who wants to go out in the woods all alone to fight Indians.

One thing of interest he said, "Haiti is beginning to emerge internationally. Thanks to the good will policy recently adopted in Central America and the Caribbean, by the Hoover government and the federal senate."

So we can't be so bad as to deserve all that two hour denunciation after all.

MEASURE OF HOARDING
The treasury of the United States says there is $575,000,000 of the old fashioned, large sized currency still in the hands of the people, although for many months banks have been returning all such to the treasury. This represents part of the hoarding which has been in effect and amounts to about 9 per cent of all the currency there is.

There is a hopeful note, however, in the fact that within the past few days the large size currency is coming into banks in greatly increased amounts, indicating that there is some recession of the hoarding craze.

CHILDREN JOIN PAGEANT CAST

Injecting some of the patriotic spirit of this Lincoln and Washington birthday season into the forthcoming community pageant, "A Night in Dreamland," to be presented at the Elks' club on Monday and Tuesday nights, Feb. 29 and March 1, the director has arranged a patriotic finale for the night club scene, part two of the production, with several lively march numbers, a double quartet, and a group of sixty Red Cross nurses.

The men to appear in the double quartet include Messrs. G. F. Francis, Paul Melback, Raymond Larson, Jack Chenoweth, James J. Brooks, Evan Wasden, Burton Butler and Howard Hord. The double quartet will be costumed in overseas uniforms with trench hats, and the sixty Red Cross nurses will appear in regulation uniforms.

The stormy weather does not interfere with the two daily rehearsals, over 150 attending the evening rehearsal on Wednesday, and an average of 100 children attend the daily afternoon rehearsal. Children who have joined the cast since the last list of names was published
