FOR THE COUNTRY

REPUBLICANS and Democrats have worked in cooperation in providing new legislation to remedy the business and economic ills of the country as never before.

Statesmanship of a high order has been displayed by the rank and file of senators and congressmen of both parties.

Only by a few, long known as notorious players to the galleries, and by a very few serving their own selfish hatreds, has serious dissensions been aroused.

The newspapers have sometimes given undue prominence to the hateful utterances of the soreheads. But most of the congress have worked sincerely and in harmony to bring about the best for the nation.

PROVIDING MORE CREDIT

PRESIDENT Hoover yesterday signed the "Glass-Steagall" bill which the President terms "a national defense measure."

New circulating medium to the amount of three billion five hundred millions will be provided as tools for the use of business and industry. That amount, going into circulation as money, will release approximately ten billion dollars additional credits.

This great measure, modifying and making more fluid the resources of our banking system, is a direct step toward the restoration of commerce and industry. It puts into the hands of all the people the means of renewing enterprise and establishing payrolls.

Considering the fact that there have been a couple of million young people to reach the age of maturity since the depression started and that a considerable proportion of the population have been denying themselves something they would like to have, we can reasonably look for a steady increase in the payrolls of the country and a corresponding stimulus to business.

WHAT IS NORMAL?

THERE has been much discussion about the "return to normalcy." It is argued by some that the present is normal. Perhaps we might say that whatever condition exists is normal, otherwise it would not exist.

Most of us, speaking of normalcy as applied to business, mean a condition in which people can work and live decently and enjoy a reasonable share of comfort and luxury.
It does not necessarily mean that radios should cost as much in money as they did a couple of years ago. It does mean that what a man gets for his effort should bring him approximately what it did in the pre-depression days. The effort required by the farmer to raise and market a bushel of wheat should secure for him products of other kinds requiring approximately the same effort to produce.

So if money is simply the "measure of value" it makes not much difference what that value is named so long as everything is measured by the same yardstick.

VAGARIES

Once again, with a sob in our throat, and a throb in our left ventricle, we tenderly dedicate this here now colyum (?), this time, with appropriate bosom gestures, to the good old natives of Las Vegas. For the first time since last August, this week they have been able to remark on the "REG-ULAR weather."

CONCENTRATION
Witnesses in police court recently report extreme difficulty in keeping their minds on their work.
Piled directly opposite the stand is a perfectly swell collection of beer, whisky, and near-gin, all neatly wrapped up in bottles and kegs.

MOVIE MADNESS
Of all the things that pain my soul
The gripe that gripes the worst Are "silence" orders from the screen "Shut up you mug or you'll be cursed."

CONTRIBUTION
(From Simon Legree) NOMINATIONS: for six sniffs of lethal gas, and a good healthy kick back of the lap!

- 1—Barbers who flop a towel in your face . . . and while you're steaming, light a cig for a few furtive puffs.
- 2—Ditto—when a towel is on your face expectorates ostentatiously (in the lavatory?) just before honoring his razor.
- 3—Ace publicity flyers, attired in wired uniforms, wax mustached, who lift noses, slick heels, and fly superbly before cute movie stars.

LAW & ORDER
Did you hear of the smart youngster, who when bawled out by a service station agent for driving through the station yard at 45 m. p. h., flashed his school police badge, and threatened to arrest the gasoline vendor for resisting an officer.

WORK OF ART
Here is another dainty thing . . . done in pastels of one of our fair readers simply devouring the contents of this column. The "S" penman stands for the "Slightly Demented" ward of the Nevada State Hospital for Mental Diseases.

MORE FASHION
Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy . . .
Spring is surely here. Saturday morning at 9:35 o'clock the first pair of linen knickers, occupied by a gent, were seen in this fair city in 1932.

HEAVY TRAFFIC
They moan and groan and rant and rave
For parking space on Fremont street.
But simpler things appeal to me—I'd rather park in the dark mes-quite.

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTION
(From Our Reader)
Dear Cavern:
It would seem that the editor of your esteemed newspaper went for an airplane ride . . . Judging from a back issue.

WANT ADS
WANTED: To meet a nice young lady. Object matrimony. Must not object to divorce proceedings or all-money in possible separation suit. Apply Suite, 16, Virginia Hotel.

EVERYDAY MOVIES

"Come, come, Theisa! You're overdoing that arm-rest pose."

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

CUTS FACE
Mrs. J. A. Fredrickson of Good-springs arrived here yesterday with her small daughter, Caroline, who fell and cut her face. The girl was taken to Las Vegas hospital where Dr. Balcom took three stitches in the wound.

RANCHER HERE
John Wedge, Alamo rancher, is in Las Vegas on business.

AGENT ARRIVES
Leland Burge of the state extension department, is here from Reno on a business trip.

BACK FROM LOS ANGELES
S. Samuels of the Silver State Tailors returned yesterday from Los Angeles where he has spent the past week buying wools for the spring and summer trade. Samuels says he now has a complete stock of lightweight wools in about 400 different shades and patterns.

FROM POCHE
A. L. Scott of Poché is in Las Vegas on business.

BACK IN VEGAS
Ivan De Sonne returned to Las Vegas after spending the past three days in Los Angeles. De Sonne has taken a position with the Union Pacific railroad.

GOES TO L. A.
John Letchworth, who is employed at the Toggery, left this morning for Los Angeles where he will spend a week visiting with relatives.

BATES WELL AGAIN
Larry Bates, who has been ill for some time, has improved and will resume his duties at the O. K. barber shop Monday morning.

FRIENDS LEAVE
Mr. and Mrs. C. Spiece of Bucyrus, O., left Las Vegas Saturday after spending three days with their old time friends, Mr. and Mrs. S. W.
Cramer.

Mr. and Mrs. Spiece have been wintering in Florida. Leaving that state they toured the southwest into Mexico, thence into Arizona and across the Kingman ferry to Las Vegas.

While in Las Vegas they visited Hoover dam and other points of interest in this vicinity. They were delighted with the desert and may locate here at some time in the future.

Leaving Las Vegas they motored to San Diego, and later will drive up the coast to the northwest territory. They plan a trip through the national parks, and will not reach home until sometime in July. Mr. and Mrs. Cramer may meet them in Salt Lake City and accompany them through the parks.

MINING MAN SENTENCED Convicted of robbing an Ely gambling club some time ago, Roy Riggsby was sentenced to serve from five to fifteen years in the state prison late Friday. Riggsby is well known in local mining circles.

General weather indicates that March will probably come in like a lamb. In anticipation of this exciting event, it is reported that hundreds of people are waiting, eager and ready, and the lamb will be shorn immediately upon arrival, and then served in the form of lamb stew.

For the benefit of the general public, we are herewith informing the world at large that the pageant "A Night in Dreamland" has no reference to the local Dreamland dormitory (adv't), under the Venetian ballroom.

Roscoe Turner, Gilmore gasoline flying ace, used to be nicknamed "The One Man Army" in Reno a few years ago, when he was flying for the Nevada airlines, due to his habit of wearing a uniform, of sky blue tunic, which happened to strike his fancy.
He was the only man wearing that type of uniform. The other night in a local resort, he again received a moniker . . . this time his bristling mustachios brought the name of "The Kaiser."
But boy, oh boy, oh boy, can he fly!

How to be famous . . .
Smear your pan with yellow grease paint and stroll up Fremont street. People will think you are a movie actress.

Due to a misplaced decimal point in one of the gigantic diversion tunnels at Boulder Dam when engineers were plotting the project, the huge hole was cut in the wrong direction. It was learned late today.

Discovery of the error was made when the tunnel crew suddenly broke forth into China and found themselves in the middle of a Chinese laundry undergoing a terrific bombardment.

They beat a hasty retreat, bringing the laundry with them to wash the mud from the Colorado.

State officials here tonight intimated that the situation in Clark county, Nevada, was indeed intense. Troops were being landed to protect American interests along the Bunton Pacific railroad, said to control the situation.

Conditions flared into open warfare following a Boston tea party last week when a rum runner with California liquor was upset and dumped into the Colorado river and Dry Lake by a band of Las Vegas Rotarians, disguised as Lions.

Exclusive Vagrant spirit photo of the profile of Sonia Bardo, famous screen star.
This is one of the new X-ray penetrating photos.

Found strangled to death on a split infinitive, Sonia Bardo, famous screen actress, was believed by local police to have been murdered in her luxurious pent house apartment, on top of the new Virginia Hotel.

Sonia, when found by a bell hop, had been dead for three or four days. At least she so informed police when they demanded an explanation.

An exhaustive search of the apartment by the homicide squad revealed footprints on the ceiling, hydrocyanic gas on the stomach, and fallen arches in every room.

The beautiful actress is said to have been a Follies girl at one time, one of her greatest follies being her fondness for altitude.

It is believed that China will probably take over Korea to protect her nationals from the attacks of large bands of Japanese bandits, which are said to roam the country, disguised as Japanese soldiers.

One of the provisions of the peace treaty will probably include a sphere of influence, 12 miles around Tokyo, it is believed. The Chinese Manchurian railway may even possibly be returned to the Chinese!

Professor Gutz
According to the above message, radiated in terse form to the Vagrant, the long accepted theory of the green cheese construction of the moon is false. Professor Gutz's description indicates that the moon is actually made of bologna.

Further communications are indicated and will be released to the waiting world through the Vagrant, exclusively.

Las Vegas mounted police are credited with having avoided riots in this city during the recent pay day frazes. Officers Jones, Ott, and Mackay, assisted by Inspecter Roy of Scotland Yard, are credited with the deed.
