TO DRAW; GET (U.P.)—Frank "Man Mountain" Leavitt and Ernie "Eat 'Em Alive' Scharpegge, wrestlers whose combined weight is 510 pounds, fought another draw today without benefit of a single paid ad-

They entertained spectators in downtown Milwaukee with a oneound fist fight, which they said grew out of professional jealousy. Their previous draw was in the ring last February when several hundred Milwaukeeans paid eash to see a battle not nearly so lively as today's.

Frank Waitt of London will have an income of $18 a week for one year, due to the fact that a bookmaker at Pontefract race track spoke out of turn. The men were discussing the entries for a race and when Gold Meter's name was mentioned, the bookie shouted: "I'll lay five pounds a week for life to half a crown against that dog win-Waite took the bet, and ning." much to his surprise, the horse won. When the bettor claimed his winnings, the bookmaker reneged but referred the matter to Tattersall's,
