Crowds Hear Governor Read Mooney's Doom In Decision

Klieg lights, sound cameras, clicking telegraph wires and a crowd numbering into the thousands were in evidence at Sacramento when Gov. James Rolph, Jr., announced his momentous decision denying a pardon to Tom Mooney, convicted San Francisco bomber. Here is the governor reading the decision, with Judge Matt I. Sullivan, left, listening to his own report as legal adviser in the case, and Gov. Fred B. Balzar of Nevada, right. ### MARKETS AT A GLANCE

By OTTO E. STRUM (United Press Financial Writer)
NEW YORK, April 25. (U.P.)—Wall street stood on the sidelines and took stock of the general situation today, letting the market fluctuate at will. The result was the slowest session since last September, the turnover totaling only 600,000 shares.

A few stocks stepped out of the rat rut as the tape dragged slowly through the tickers, but the general list at the close showed about an even mixture of narrow gains and losses.

Steel came in for some more selling with the approach of the directors' meeting of U. S. Steel tomorrow at which the dividend on the common stock will get the axe. After touching a new low since 1908 at 23 1/2, the premier industrial stock rallied to 29 1/2, but fell off again to close at 28 1/2, off 1/2.

Standard Oil of New Jersey, the most active issue on the board, was a feature on the market's upside after equaling its record low of 19 1/2 in the early trading. Traders changed their minds about Jersey Standard's dividend prospects and there was some talk of a tariff on oil, with the result that the stock climbed to 21 1/2 and closed 3/4 higher at 21 1/4.

Although several files in the business ointment were revealed in the day's news, the air of confidence in evidence at the end of last week was still around, augmented by a pickup in automobile output.

Railroads and oil companies were rationed out a few cheerful news items. A higher carloadings report for the carriers was looked for as a result of a spurt in coal shipments, while oils had several bright spots, chief among them the senate finance committee vote to retain the oil tariff in the revenue bill and a drop in California output.

The American Newspaper Publishers' association, in convention here, found general business improving, as did a review by the Standard Statistics Co. The market ignored the results of the Sunday elections in Germany, which, anyway, turned out about as expected.

Telephone was in the limelight a good deal today, crossing par at one time and closing unchanged at 99 1/4. General Motors, whose first quarter earnings report, issued after the close, showed a net of 17 cents a share, against 61 cents in the March 1931, quarter, moved in a narrow

MANY NEVADANS ARE GIVEN JOBS

Better Times are Coming!

Don't be Discouraged!

Don't lose the will to win . . . don't join the pessimists who see naught but disaster ahead—During a previous depression, the government had to issue paper "Clearing House Certificates" as a substitute for money. Conditions were just as bad, only we have forgotten. Prosperity has always followed bad times—this is one of the laws of business cycles. Now is the time to substitute the word "Reconstruction" for "depression." Don't be discouraged. Lend a hand to reestablish confidence. America will see this thorough and emerge victorious. Better times are coming."
