PLAN COMBINE OF M. E. CHURCH

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 29. (UP)—A plan for bringing together three divisions of the Methodist church—the Methodist Episcopal church South, the Methodist Episcopal church North, and the Methodist Protestant church—will be submitted to the board of bishops in session tomorrow afternoon. The plan has the support of the commission of inter-denominational relations, which has been considering the schism for several months. After consideration by the bishops, the new plan will be given to the 31st quadrennial conference in Atlantic City.

The tugboat, Three Friends, which prior to the Spanish American war, ran arms and ammunition through the Spanish fleet to Cuban patriots, is still doing duty as a tugboat at Jacksonville, Fla.

Meet Velma, Inc.

In these days of corporations big and little, winsome Velma Gresham of Memphis, Tenn., is just falling in with the times by incorporating herself for $20,000 under the name of Velma, Inc., to insure funds for launching her Hollywood screen career. Blue-eyes, titian-haired Velma sold shares in herself with a sales argument based on statistics showing an aspirant to movie fame must spend at least two years before realizing sizeable financial returns.

POLO PLAYER HERE

Joe Busch, member of the Palo Alto social set, was in Las Vegas yesterday. Busch is well known on the San Francisco peninsula as one of the outstanding polo players of California and is the owner of some of the fastest polo ponies in the west.

MANSLAUGHTER IS VERDICT OF MIXED JURY

NOT GUILTY OF FRAUD CHARGE
LEWISTON, Ida., April 29. (UP)—Henry Gusman, Boise, Ida., president of the Idaho Equipment company, was found guilty of fraud by a jury at 9:30 p. m. tonight. H. P. Fox, co-defendant, was found not guilty. The jury deliberated four hours and ten minutes.

tense feeling that has prevailed ever since Mrs. Massie was accosted at night last September and cursed, beaten and repeatedly assaulted by five island hoodlums. Assault cases have been frequent. One of her asserted attackers was badly beaten. Kahahawai was shot to death. The verdict was returned just as the sun was setting. The sun cast a red haze against nearby mountain tops. It was a calm, pretty Hawaiian twilight.

has carried through all the trial came when the matter of bail or custody came up. Kelley said it was agreeable to have the defendants turned over to a responsible naval officer if one was present. Montgomery Winn, one of defense counsel, insisted that the defendants still were in custody of the court until the original court order to that effect was suspended. Kelley said he did not know if this order still was in effect. At this point he was interrupted by Capt. Ward Worthman, commander of the Pearl Harbor submarine base. "You know damn well it is," Captain Worthman said. "I do not," Kelley retorted. Judge Charles Davis, trial jurist, stopped the by-play.
