

FILM FOLK AIR TROUBLES IN DIVORCE COURT

ule." Sherman said after a frown in the direction of Miss Costello, "included five or six glasses of wine, several liquors and any number of highballs."

Sherman outlined that his wife finally left him when he ordered his servants to stop serving her liquor.

GIBSON SPLIT-UP

Miss Costello smiled at that and she laughed openly again as Costello told the court that she once struck him across the face with a dog whip.

Testimony in the suit was not expected to be concluded until late tomorrow.

Supporting the Sherman-Costello act were a half-dozen other film figures who encountered legal troubles of one sort or another.

Hoot Gibson, the western player, who was deserted Saturday by his young starring wife, Sally Eilers, found he was due this week to appear in court in his alimony dispute with his former wife, Mrs. Helen Gibson.

Edwin Carewe, producer and director, went to federal court this morning and pleaded not guilty to two counts of violation of the payment of income tax. Another federal court visitor was Dr. Jesse Citron, accused of violating the narcotic statutes by prescribing drugs to the late Alma Rubens, who was toppled from a high place in pictures by her addiction to narcotics.

DAISY BACK IN SPOT

Daisy De Voe, sentenced to 18 months in the county jail for assertedly stealing from her former employer, Clara Bow, asked the court of appeals to rehear her petition for a new trial. The court previously denied the motion by a vote of 2 to 1.

David Dumbar, character actor, was divorced by Margaret Dumbar. She complained that he refused to support her and that she was forced to work as a waitress.

Lillian Roth, the actress, and William C. Scott, scion of a wealthy Pittsburgh family, were reported headed for the divorce courts.

CONNIE BENNETT IS PALACE STAR

Florenz Ziegfeld, or any other personality for that matter, can get only half an argument with Connie Bennett when he attacks Paris fashions. Drawn into the style war that has raged verbally on the Hollywood front since Ziegfeld's now famous blast against Paris creations because she returned from the French capital with several trunks of gowns, the RKO Palace star offers interesting facts on styles.

Miss Bennett, who wears these new creations on the Palace theatre screen this week in her new starring vehicle, "Lady with a Past," states that fashion supremacy is no longer a matter of geography.

"Every American girl can be smartly dressed because of the numerous chic models obtainable at moderate prices," the star continued. "Such is not the case in France. There, gowns are either very smart and quite expensive or unimaginative and lacking in the smartness that characterizes the American creations."

"For hats, give me those made in Paris," she said, "but I would wear none but American made shoes."

JAIL BREAKERS ARE CAPTURED

to talk and would give no information as to the whereabouts of their companions. Neither would they say how the escape was effected.

Under-Sheriff Mott and other deputies continued their search throughout last night, tracing down numerous clues that proved false. They will be relieved at daybreak this morning by other officers.

Some significance is attached to the desperate fight for liberty of Paxton, recently suspected of being an accomplice in the murder of Joseph Santini. It is thought that he either fears becoming deeply involved in that crime, or else has a recent police record in the west that he is afraid may come into the hands of the authorities.

APACHE CONTEST CLOSES THURSDAY

Thursday is the last day of the contest being held by the Apache Coffee shop, to select a name for the Indian Village located in the basement of the Apache hotel.

Depicting a true Indian village, the new shop is tastefully and appropriately decorated. Rules of the contest follow:

1. Names must be submitted in writing to the Contest Editor, Box 6, Las Vegas, Nevada.
2. They must be accompanied by a short statement setting forth the reason for the name.
3. They must be in the mail not later than Thursday, May 12, at 5 o'clock p. m.

Three judges will be chosen to carefully consider the names and to select the winner.

The formal opening of the Indian Village will be announced at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gridley, who attended the Shell Oil conferences for Nevada over the week-end, returned to their home in Reno yesterday morning.

ONE ACT PLAYS TO BE PRESENTED

"The Valiant" and "Her First Assignment," two one act plays, will be presented by the Las Vegas grammar school teachers tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the high school auditorium.

Marion Earl and Mrs. Louise Morgan will supervise the plays, which are being held to raise funds to publish the high school annual, the "Boulder Echo."

Mrs. Tigg Thompkins, formerly of this city, is spending a few days visiting with her son, Ernie Thompkins, who resides on South Fourth street.

PRICE SALE IS IN FULL SWING

First sale to be held by Jack Price's exclusive store for men since that institution's advent in Las Vegas is meeting with exceptional response, according to the management. Price, who opened his shop in the A. W. Ham building about six months ago, is still in the midst of his present sale. Finding himself overstocked on suits, he is now cleaning out his stock and has announced sweeping reductions.

MOSCOW, May 9 (U.P.)—The Soviet press described Paul Gorgoulouff, assassin of President Doumer today, as one of the bitterest enemies of the Soviets, discounting in advance any attempts to connect him with the Bolsheviks.

MYSTERY FILM AT AIRDOME TONIGHT

Observing the utmost secrecy Roland West filmed his new comedy drama mystery, "The Bat Whispers," exclusively at night.

When the studio gates closed at 6 p. m., West began making scenes and continued until 3 o'clock in the morning.

Not only did this preserve the secret of the thrilling screen play but working in the mystic hours of night helped the mood of the players, according to West.

Chester Morris of "Alibi" fame is featured in West's production, which is now showing at the Airdome theater. The supporting players include Una Merkel, Gustav Van Seyffertitz, Ben Bard, Grayce Hampton, Charles Dow Clark, William Bakewell, Spencer Charters, Maude Eburne and S. E. Jennings.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why are other cigarettes silent on this vital question?

Do you inhale? Seven out of ten people know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So be careful. Safeguard your delicate membranes!
