BUILDERS TELL PURPOSE OF EXCHANGE

In answer to many queries received as to why a Builders exchange is needed in Las Vegas, officials of the organization have issued the following statement:

"There are many benefits as well as protection to the owner and investor in building projects. They are protected against grasping schemers, fly-by-night building tradesmen who are only in the industry to build a quick fortune at the expense of the sound, straight-thinking business man. It is the purpose of the Las Vegas Builders exchange to eliminate these men from the building industry in Las Vegas, and if possible, drive them out of the state of Nevada.

"There are some contractors and builders in this city who are making a practice of using cheap and inferior materials in their work, using one nail where four are required, and employing only the cheapest labor. If he completes his job, the owner is stung and the investor as well. Aside from this result, organized labor and the general business interests of the city have been dealt a crushing blow. When the wage scale of any community goes down, business is bound to suffer. When you find a community with a high

OL' LONDON ON SCREEN IN NEW HARDING FILM

One of the great resires of Robert Milton's heart is gratified by bringing to the screen a picture depicting the quiet loveliness, his-tore beauty and enchanting tran- quility of London's Temple district.

The picture is RKO Pathe's "De- votion" and Milton, who in it di- rects beautiful and talented Ann Harding, plunged into the atmo- sphere of the film with real energy. A notable cast has been assem- bled for the picture, which will be Miss Harding's next release. Among these playing important parts are Robert Williams, Dudley Digges, Al- bion Skipworth, Louise Clouser Hale, O. P. Heggie, Doris Lloyd, Tempe Pigott, Olive Tell, Ruth Weston and Jean Carr.

"Devotion" will play at the New Palace theatre the last times today, and tomorrow.

There are many contractors who carry no liability insurance or work- men's compensation policies. In the event the workman or contractor sustains injuries while on the job, the owner and the investor are the ones who must pay and suffer the loss.

Members of the builders' ex- change must first qualify as to abil- ity, file a bond with a reputable surety company equal to the re-requirements of the job they are about to undertake, carry workmen's com- pensation insurance and be of good repute in this community. All craftsmen must be licensed by the city and prove to the executive of- ficers of the exchange that they are not only licensed, but capable of fulfilling any contracts entered into. They must also insist on the owner of the tentative project open for bids, furnishing them with a com- plete set of plans and specifications so that the estimate can be fairly and intelligently figured, for both the owner and the contractor.

Those interested in joining the exchange can send their applica- tions to the president, Lee Mahony, or contact any of the executive officers of the organization.

A CARRIER'S MESSAGE

(With apologies to K. C. B.)
In the early morning
While you are sound asleep
I roll out of bed
And shoulder up
A big load of papers
And trudge through the streets
Up and down the hills
Until I finish my round.
Sometimes in the rain
Sometimes in the cold
And sometimes your door
Closes on the way path
And I run into trouble.
But I never complain
For it's part of my job
And you must have
Your Morning Aes on time,
But it's pretty tough
If you don't pay me
When I come to collect
For the boss rates claim
And I lose some money
And maybe get fired
Which would be tough on me
So I need that job,
So please remember this
When I come again
And pay me promptly
And we'll both be happy.
And make Saint Peter
Will give you a white mark
By his Bk Book up Yonder
For your kindness.
I thank you.

Chesterfield tobaccos are aged right

THEY TASTE BETTER

Wherever you buy Chesterfields, you get them just as fresh as if you came by our factory door

NOWADAYS, when so many people are talking about purity . . . pure food, pure milk, pure water . . . it's worth a minute to tell you something about the purity of Chesterfield cigarettes.

All the materials that go into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes are tested again and again by expert research chemists. Just like the things you eat and drink.

The tobacco is pure—the right kinds, Domestic and Turkish both, mild, sweet, ripe. The paper is pure—clean, white, the best cigarette paper that money can buy. There is purity in every ingredient and cleanliness in every operation.

You can know, when you light a Chesterfield, that it is as pure as science can make a cigarette. And your taste will tell you it's milder, it tastes better.
