NEW CLUB OPEN TO YOUNGSTERS

Following the announcement made by Earl Brothers, manager of the Boulder theatre, which appeared in the Age yesterday morning, that an organization for every boy and girl in and around Boulder City will be formed next Saturday, many of the reservation city's youngsters have already called at the theatre to find out all about the new club.

It's all very simple, just listen to this. The organization will be called the Boulder City Junior club and every boy and girl is invited to join. You won't have to pay anything to join and there will be no dues to pay. The only cost will be the regular admission charge of a theatre ticket when you attend a club meeting, which will be held every Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Members of the club will be taught to sing, dance, play games and furnish themselves with stage entertainment every week.

A special meeting will be arranged by the theatre, the program for the first club meeting will include a cartoon, a comedy and a Universal news reel beside the feature picture, Tom Mix and his wonder horse Tony in their latest out-door western "Rider of Death Valley."

SPECIAL SHOWING OF DAM FILMS IS SCREENED AT B. C.

A private showing of motion pictures, depicting the first year's progress made by the Six Companies and the Bureau of Reclamation at Boulder City and the Hoover dam project, was witnessed by Norman S. Callison, head of the press and public relations department for Six Companies, Earl Brothers, manager of the Boulder theatre, and representatives of The Age.

As work on the project progresses, these pictures, some of which were reproduced with sound, will be invaluable because of the fact that the work now being done in the canyon will be hundreds of feet under water when the dam is completed, according to Six Companies officials.
