Republicans And Democrats To Pick Standard Bearers Here

Chicago, host this year to the convention there in 1920. The great which in its day resounded to many partisans battles. The Republican national convention will open June 14, followed by the Democratic gathering on June 27.

COLUMBUS, O., June 4. (U.P.)—In a telegram to the governors of four neighboring states, Gov. George White tonight offered transportation to their homes or to the state line to bona fide ex-service men in bonus marches, but called many of the groups now forming "totally irresponsible and a threat against law and order."

CLEVELAND, O., June 4. (U.P.)—The army of bonus marchers from Toledo, Detroit and Cleveland, en route to the nation's capital to demand bonus legislation, broke camp tonight and resumed their trek from here on foot.

Joe Curran of Flint, Mich., veteran soccer player, has returned to England.

The Cornsweet brothers, Harry and Al, of Brown university football fame, are wrestlers now.

PEGGY GOES A'SHOPPING

Any number of smart handkerchiefs, linen or georgette, are being shown, surely in just the shade to match that scarf or new spring suit. Or you can add one of these smart sets of costume jewelry, comprised of earrings, necklace and wristband.

With the summer comes the ever greater need for hostery, and the shearer the more acceptable. At Beckley's or Price's we find the latest and most up to date shades and weights—just the right tint of tan or flesh color to match the street or evening frock.

Taking into consideration that it is also dress up time for the little tots, we find in the Colonial shop a white lawn dress, fashioned of six wide pleats in front and back, practically forming the entire skirt in fact, and ending in a wide scallop at the bottom. The sleeves are formed by a sheer pink organdie ruffle, also the collar. Across the front of the skirt are embroidered pink and blue flower clusters.

At Lesky's shoe store, and also at several other of the dress shops, we find the different summer sandal styles, for sports, smart sandals for the street, or new dressy straps and pumps to match the suit, the afternoon silk, or the evening frock.

And it won't be long until we can include in our going away outfits, the latest and smartest wear for the new June brides!

Both Fex and Strop will appear before U. S. Commissioner Flowers Monday morning.

ACTRESS HELD IN DEATH CASE

LONDON, June 4. (U.P.)—Mrs. Elvira Dolores Barney, 25, beautiful society divorcee and former actress, collapsed in Westminster police court today when she was arraigned for the alleged "cocktail murder" of Michael Scott Stephen, banker's son.

Fashionable women were in the throng that struggled to get into the court room. Police had difficulty restraining them and there were several rushes at the doorway.
